His Excellency, Governor Brian P. Kemp, addressed the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives as follows:

"Lt. Governor Duncan, Speaker Ralston, President Pro Tempore Miller, Speaker Pro Tempore Jones, members of the General Assembly, members of the judiciary, and my fellow Georgians.

Three years ago, when I stood before this body and the people of our state for the first time as your governor, I said, “I know there will be adversity… those who want to tear us down. There will be difficult days and dark nights. But together, we will overcome. Like Coach Henderson said, ‘It can be done’.”

Standing before all of you today in the final year of my first term in office, I didn’t know then how true these words would become. But, just like I saw firsthand all those years ago under the Friday night lights at Clarke Central High School, legendary football Coach Billy Henderson was right again.

Despite the divisive politics, the pandemic and unforeseen challenges, the tough obstacles that stood in our way, we pulled together and lent a hand to our fellow Georgians, and we proved it could be done.

As Psalm 16:8 says, “I have set the Lord always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be shaken.”

Over the last three years, we built Georgia’s house on a firm foundation. The concrete, the frame, and the roof withstood the storms. We emerged resilient. We boldly seized the opportunity to plant seeds for the future in good soil, so a bountiful harvest would bring our state to brighter, more prosperous days ahead.

Thanks to that approach and our work together, our state has celebrated unprecedented success. By keeping our state open for business, bringing record levels of jobs and investment, and fighting to put hardworking Georgians first, we now have the opportunity to build a safer, stronger Georgia for all who call the Peach State home.

In September of 2018, I unveiled my plan to raise teacher pay in our state by 5,000 dollars. At the time, Georgia ranked 23rd in the nation in annual salary for our educators, and a statewide survey showed that 44 percent of the hardworking Georgians leading our classrooms would leave the profession within the first five years.

Today, three years after we came together and passed a 3,000 dollar down payment on that promise, educators and students face a challenging future. Parents, teachers, and administrators across our state are doing their best to help students overcome learning loss due to the pandemic. Students from all walks of life are confronted with mental health struggles. Teachers are asked to do more and more every year. And the need for a world-class K-12 education to prepare our children for an ever-changing workforce has never been greater.

Throughout my first term, I've had the honor of attending teacher listening sessions and regular meetings with a group of superintendents and school board members from across the state. In those discussions, I've gotten to know and understand the struggles, the successes, and the needs of different school districts in every corner of Georgia.

Hardworking Georgians in our schools - the school staff, administrators, bus drivers, cafeteria workers, and teachers - all do a terrific job keeping our kids safe and investing in their futures. To support their heroic efforts day in and day out, I believe we as state leaders must continue to do everything we can to ensure they have the resources necessary to fulfill their mission and prepare the next generation of leaders for successful lives and careers.

That's why my Fiscal Year 2023 budget proposal will include a final installment of 2,000 dollars to finish out the largest teacher pay raise in state history - a total of 5,000 dollars since 2019! This 2,000-dollar raise will impact K-12 teachers, assistant teachers, and pre-k teachers – who I think we can all agree have gone above and beyond for their students throughout the pandemic.

In addition, my Amended Fiscal Year 2022 budget will recommend a one-time pay supplement of 2,000 dollars for full-time, state-funded instructional staff, school support staff, and school administration and a 1,000-dollar, one-time supplement for school bus drivers, nurses, nutrition workers, and part-time employees.

Let's take a moment to thank them for all they have done for our students… and our state!

Additionally, a priority for conservative leaders under the Gold Dome, including myself, for many years, has been to appropriately fund the state school funding formula. These dollars are sent directly to schools in every corner of Georgia to hire more teachers, reduce class sizes, and ensure every child receives a quality education.

My Fiscal Year 2023 budget proposal will recommend adding 425 million dollars to fully fund our schools and completely restore all austerity cuts to education funding in our state that were made during the pandemic.

This key priority will collectively provide an additional 1.4 billion dollars in direct funding for our K-12 schools and invest more per K-12 student than ever before.

When it comes to education in our state, it's about a lot more than just money and resources. As the parents of three daughters, one who is a public-school teacher, Marty and I are also concerned about what we are seeing across the country. From the classroom to the ball field, there are those who want to divide our kids along political lines, push partisan agendas, and indoctrinate students from all walks of life.

This is wrong, it's dangerous, and as long as I'm governor, it will not take root in Georgia.

That's why I look forward to working with members of the General Assembly this legislative session to protect our students from divisive ideologies - like critical race theory – that pit kids against each other. I also look forward to working with the House and Senate to pass, and sign, a parental bill of rights in our education system and other pieces of legislation that I strongly support to ensure fairness in school sports and address obscene materials online and in our school libraries.

I believe, by working together, this legislative session will be a historic one for education in our state.

Because building a safer, stronger Georgia starts with putting students and parents first.

During my campaign for governor, I told Georgians I would focus on bringing innovative solutions to our many healthcare challenges - not just expand a one-size-fits-all, broken government program.

That's why I worked alongside members of this body to craft Georgia-centric solutions through the Patients First Act that would increase access to coverage for our most vulnerable, while also lowering costs for millions of Georgia families.

Today, we are seeing the benefits of our plan across the state.

When I signed the bipartisan Patients First Act in 2019, Georgia had only four health insurance carriers offering plans in the individual market. Today, we have nearly tripled that number with eleven carriers offering plans for 2022.

In 2019, only 26 percent of Georgia's counties had more than one carrier offering insurance on the individual market. Now, in 2022, 98 percent of all counties have more than one carrier – which means expanded choice and lowered costs for hardworking Georgians.

Overall, the state's 139 million dollar investment in Georgia Access included in my budget proposal this year has helped reduce premiums by an average of 12 percent statewide. That's 850 dollars in annual savings for Georgians on the marketplace today. And in rural counties where premium prices were highest, choices in coverage were few, and options for care were limited, the reinsurance program has contributed to premium reductions from 25 percent to over 30 percent in some counties.

For a 50-year old Georgian buying a silver plan on the marketplace, that translates into an annual savings from 2,500 dollars to over 4,300 dollars a year.

I'd like to thank Insurance Commissioner General John King for his work alongside my office to implement these reforms and deliver results for Georgia patients.

While the Biden administration plays politics, in Georgia, we're making healthcare more affordable for millions of our citizens.

As we lower insurance premiums, it's equally vital that we have doctors for Georgians to see for care. Physicians and nurses are in short supply across the country, but especially in rural Georgia.

That's why my budget proposals include an initial 1 million dollars for the University System of Georgia to expand nursing programs up to 500 students annually over 5 years and funding for our Technical College System to grow their partnership with Allied Health to serve up to 700 additional students annually.

My proposal will also invest 2.5 million dollars for 136 residency slots and allocate 1 million dollars to Mercer University to address rural physician shortages.

With these key investments, we hope to add 1,300 additional healthcare practitioners in our state!

Before I go on, let's pause and take a moment to thank all our healthcare heroes in Georgia for their tireless dedication over the last two years!

In Fiscal Year 2021, my office worked alongside members of the House on an important priority of theirs to expand Medicaid coverage for new mothers to six months. Building on that success, my budget proposal includes a priority of members of the Senate to extend that coverage to a full year to ensure these new moms are able to receive medical care at a critical time for their health and long-term wellbeing.

And to continue Georgia's protection and celebration of life at all stages, I believe it is vitally important that we continue our work together to strengthen our state's foster care and adoption systems.

My budget proposal will include nearly 28 million dollars to allocate a 10 percent provider rate increase for all foster parents, relative caregivers, child caring institutions, and child placing agencies.

This has been one of the most rewarding issues my office has tackled with members of both chambers, and I wanted to take a moment and thank the members here today - and those who are no longer serving - for their bipartisan efforts to put Georgia's children first.

To build a safer, stronger Georgia, we must ensure every Georgian feels safe and secure in their communities.

As I announced last week, I believe that starts with fully recognizing the constitutional rights granted to law-abiding Georgians in our founding documents, and I look forward to supporting constitutional carry legislation this session.

Together, we made wise investments in public safety over the last three years. By creating the anti-gang task force within the GBI, passing bipartisan human trafficking legislation to hold criminals accountable and support victims, and funding the crime suppression unit, we have shown our state's commitment to reducing crime and ridding our streets of gangs.

The anti-gang task force in particular has been hard at work. I'm very proud of the brave men and women of the GBI and all they have accomplished under the leadership of Director Vic Reynolds.

But in too many jurisdictions across our state, soft-on-crime local governments and prosecutors have been unwilling to join our fight to rid their communities of these criminal networks.

With many urban - and some rural - counties facing alarming levels of violent crime, we have the responsibility to act. To provide additional assistance for GBI's efforts to dismantle criminal street gangs, my budget proposal will include funding for a new anti-gang unit in the Attorney General's office which will allow Attorney General Carr to direct more resources in prosecuting gangs statewide.

And my office will also be supporting enabling legislation that gives the Attorney General the authority to partner with the GBI and local law enforcement officials in investigating and prosecuting these dangerous criminals.

To streamline case backlogs due to the COVID-19 pandemic and ensure prosecutors can obtain evidence as quickly as possible, my proposals will recommend over 7 million dollars to upgrade GBI crime lab equipment, begin improvements to GBI headquarters, and provide an additional 32 staff in the crime lab and medical examiner's office to address their increased volume.

This investment follows 110 million dollars in federal funds that my office allocated to the judicial system back in October of this year to swiftly address delayed cases.

Justice delayed is justice denied, and we will provide every resource necessary to ensure courts and prosecutors have the information they need. Because safer communities lead to stronger communities, and, together, I know we can build on our significant progress over the last three years.

On the frontlines of our mission to build a safer, stronger Georgia is the Department of Public Safety and our brave men and women in blue and gray.

One of the greatest honors of holding this office is seeing these heroes work each and every day to protect our communities and patrol our roadways. From ensuring peaceful protesters were kept safe and restoring order to our capital city in the summer of 2020 to hunkering down through a global pandemic and serving as the tip of the spear in our crime suppression efforts here in metro-Atlanta, the Department went above and beyond the call of duty every time.

To bolster their critically important efforts, my budget proposal will include 3 million dollars to support an additional trooper school class of 75 cadets this coming year.

I'd like to thank Colonel Wright and his team for all that they continue to do for our state.

I think most of you in this chamber would agree, it has never been harder to wear the uniform. Unfortunately, in the face of some local government and activist opposition to law enforcement across the country, I believe some hardworking Georgians may be hesitant to enter the workforce wearing blue.

To ensure we recruit Georgia's finest to protect our communities, my office has asked Commissioner Greg Dozier of the Technical College System of Georgia to add law enforcement and criminal justice degrees to our high-demand career initiatives.

This aims to provide free tuition to over 1,000 Georgians looking to obtain those degrees at our technical colleges.

As you all know, at the end of last year, I was proud to join many of you in allocating a 1,000-dollar bonus to our law enforcement and first responders across the state. As my office released last week, I'm also proud to say that my budget proposal will include a 5,000 dollar raise for state law enforcement and other state employees.

These brave men and women have been on the front lines of a truly unprecedented time in our state's history – from civil unrest to a global pandemic – and we couldn't be more appreciative of all they do to keep our families and communities safe.

As long as I'm Governor, Georgia will always back the blue! At this time, I'd like to recognize their efforts and say thank you!

No issue to improve the safety and wellbeing of Georgians has had more bipartisan support than the top priority of our First Lady. Would you all join me in thanking Marty, the girls, and the GRACE Commission for their great work to end human trafficking in our state.

Under Marty's leadership alongside co-chairs Speaker Pro-Tem Jan Jones and GBI Director Reynolds, the GRACE Commission has changed the conversation around human trafficking by reminding Georgians that the men and women trapped in this evil industry need our help and our compassion – not another blind eye turned.

With the strong support of members of the General Assembly, and state law enforcement – including Attorney General Chris Carr – they've championed reforms that now give survivors a fighting chance, a place to shelter, and a path back to the life they wish to lead.

The GRACE Commission has also pushed for tougher penalties for those who break our laws and enslave others into a life in the shadows.

I'd like to thank every member - Republican and Democrat - for their votes in support of these new laws.

Our work here is not yet finished. Unfortunately, many criminals who make their living destroying the lives of others are able to quickly get back out onto the streets and begin preying upon young women - and men - within hours of their initial arrest.

That's why our First Lady and the GRACE Commission will be bringing forward legislation to add human trafficking to the list of serious violent and sexual offenses that require a superior court judge to grant bail.

Making these common-sense, bipartisan reforms to our criminal justice system to protect our most vulnerable is yet another way we can work together to build a safer, stronger state for generations to come.

Nearly two years after the first case of COVID-19 was detected in Georgia, millions are vaccinated, and Georgia's economy is roaring back faster and stronger than other states across the country.

In fact, the Peach State is leading the nation in economic recovery. Because Georgia protected both lives and livelihoods, our best and most prosperous days are ahead. Our unemployment rate is at record lows - outpacing most of the country – including our fellow states in the southeast.

Job and investment numbers are through the roof. Companies from around the world have Georgia on their minds. Small businesses are bouncing back, and we just celebrated the largest single economic development project in state history.

These achievements did not happen by accident. Georgia is on the move because we chose freedom over government shutdowns. We trusted our citizens to be a part of the solution - instead of part of the problem. We continue to fight unconstitutional federal mandates that force hardworking Georgians to choose between their livelihoods or a COVID vaccine.

We stood up for our job creators - and their employees - and ignored the partisan attacks from the left, the national media, and those who seek to divide us for financial or political gain. We made the tough decisions because they were the right ones. We put hardworking Georgians and their families first, because that's what we were all elected to do.

Nearly five years ago when I announced my campaign for governor, I made Georgians this promise: that I would run on an agenda that would put them first ahead of the status quo.

I would tell voters what I wanted to do as their governor, and if they chose me and my family to serve them for four years, we would go to work for them every day and do exactly that. Marty, the girls, and I are deeply honored by the trust a record number of Georgians placed in us back in November of 2018.

With the Lord before us, we set out to do the job you all hired us for. And whether you voted for me or not, I have fought hard to live up to the commitments I made on the campaign trail and ultimately do the right thing, even when no one was watching.

The bold, conservative agenda I've outlined over the last few days prioritizes education, healthcare, and public safety.

It invests historic levels of resources in our students and educators. It keeps politics out of the classroom and ensures parents have the final say in their kids' education.

It reduces the cost of health insurance for Georgia families, recruits 1,300 new nurses and doctors into communities where they're needed the most, and gives new mothers expanded access to medical care.

It incentivizes more Georgians to enter a career in law enforcement, redoubles our efforts to dismantle violent street gangs and combat human trafficking, and strengthens Georgians' constitutional rights to protect themselves and their families.

It turns promises made into promises kept.

This plan for a safer, stronger Georgia puts hardworking Georgians first and ensures our state will continue to be the best place to live, work, and raise a family for generations to come.

Over the last three years, we've shown what this team can accomplish even when enormous obstacles stood in our way. By working together throughout this legislative session, I know it can be done – again.

Thank you, may God bless you, and may God continue to bless the great state of Georgia!"

(a) An online marketplace shall require any high-volume third-party seller on its platform to provide, not later than ten days after qualifying as such, the following information to the online marketplace:

(B) There have been no changes to such information; or

(C) The high volume third-party seller has previously provided any changes to such information to the online marketplace.

(c) In the event that a high-volume third-party seller does not provide the information or certification required under this Code section, the online marketplace shall, after providing such seller with written or electronic notice and an opportunity to provide such information or certification not later than ten days after the issuance of such notice, suspend any future sales activity of such seller until such seller provides such information or certification.

(d)(1) An online marketplace shall verify:

(A) The information and documents collected under subsection (a) of this Code section not later than ten days after such collection; and

(B) Any change in such information or to such documents not later than ten days after being notified of such change by a high-volume third-party seller under subsection (b) of this Code section.

(C) Other means of direct electronic messaging, which may be provided to such high-volume third-party seller by the online marketplace; and

Such identity information shall be provided on the product listing page, directly or via hyperlink or, after the purchase is finalized, in the order confirmation message or other document or communication made to a consumer and in the consumer's account transaction history.

(1) Does not have a business address and only has a residential street address, or has a combined business and residential address, then the online marketplace:

(A) Shall disclose only the country and, if applicable, the city and state in which such seller resides; and

(c) If an online marketplace becomes aware that a high-volume third-party seller has made a false representation to the online marketplace in order to justify the provision of a partial disclosure of the identity information under subsection (b) of this Code section, or that a high-volume third-party seller that has requested and received such a provision for a partial disclosure has not provided responsive answers within a reasonable time frame to consumer inquiries submitted to the seller by telephone, email, or other means of electronic messaging provided to such seller by the online marketplace, then, after providing the high-volume third-party seller with written or electronic notice and an opportunity to respond not later than ten days after the issuance of such notice, the online marketplace shall suspend any future sales activity of the high-volume third-party seller unless such seller consents to the disclosure of the identity information required under subsection (a) of this Code section.

(d) If a high-volume third-party seller does not comply with the requirements to provide and disclose information under this Code section, then, after providing such seller with written or electronic notice and an opportunity to provide or disclose such information not later than ten days after the issuance of such notice, the online marketplace shall suspend any future sales activities of such seller until the seller complies with such requirements.

An online marketplace shall disclose to consumers in a clear and conspicuous manner on the product listing of any high-volume third-party seller a reporting mechanism that allows for electronic and telephonic reporting of suspicious marketplace activity to the online marketplace.

10-1-934.

(a) Information or documents collected solely to comply with the requirements of this article shall not be used for any other purpose unless required by law.

(b) An online marketplace shall implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices, including administrative, physical, and technical safeguards, appropriate to the nature of the data and the purposes for which the data will be used, to protect the information or documents collected to comply with the requirements of this article from unauthorized use, disclosure, access, destruction, or modification.

Senators Merritt of the 9th, Rahman of the 5th, Jackson of the 41st, Halpern of the 39th, Harrell of the 40th and others offered the following amendment #2:

Amend SB 369 (LC 47 1420) by replacing lines 1 through 4 with the following:
To amend Chapter 2 of Title 21 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to elections and primaries generally, so as to provide that all local boards of education shall be elected in nonpartisan elections; to provide procedures for such nonpartisan general elections; and for other purposes.

By replacing lines 7 through 18 with the following:

Chapter 2 of Title 21 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to elections and primaries generally, is amended by revising Code Section 21-2-139, relating to nonpartisan elections authorized and conduct, as follows:

"21-2-139.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary, the General Assembly may provide by local Act for the election in nonpartisan elections of candidates to fill county judicial offices, ~~offices of local boards of education,~~ and offices of consolidated governments which are filled by the vote of the electors of said county or political subdivision. Except as otherwise provided in this Code section, the procedures to be employed in such nonpartisan elections shall conform as nearly as practicable to the procedures governing nonpartisan elections as provided in this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this Code section, the election procedures established by any existing local law which provides for the nonpartisan election of candidates to fill county offices shall conform to the general procedures governing nonpartisan elections as provided in this chapter, and such nonpartisan elections shall be conducted in accordance with the applicable provisions of this chapter, notwithstanding the provisions of any existing local law. For those offices for which the General Assembly, pursuant to this Code section, provided by local Act for election in nonpartisan primaries and elections, such offices shall no longer require nonpartisan primaries. Such officers shall be elected in nonpartisan elections held and conducted in conjunction with the general primary in even-numbered years in accordance with this chapter without a prior nonpartisan primary. This Code section shall apply to all nonpartisan elections for members of consolidated governments. All nonpartisan elections for members of consolidated governments shall be governed by the provisions of this Code section and shall be considered county elections and not municipal elections for the purposes of this Code section. Nonpartisan elections for municipal offices shall be conducted on the dates provided in the municipal charter.

(a.1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter or local law to the contrary, all elections of candidates to offices of local boards of education, shall be nonpartisan elections. Except as otherwise provided in this Code section, the procedures to be employed in such nonpartisan elections shall conform as nearly as practicable to the procedures governing nonpartisan elections as provided in this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this Code section, the election procedures established by any existing local law which provides for the nonpartisan election of candidates to fill county offices shall conform to the general procedures governing nonpartisan elections as provided in this chapter, and such nonpartisan elections shall be conducted in accordance with the applicable provisions of this chapter, notwithstanding the provisions of any existing local law. Such officers shall be elected in nonpartisan elections held and conducted in conjunction with the general primary in even-numbered years in accordance with this chapter without a prior nonpartisan primary.

(b) Either a political party, as defined in this chapter, or a nonpartisan municipal executive committee duly registered with the city clerk may conduct a municipal primary for the purpose of electing its own officials or nominating candidates for municipal elections. Every primary held for such purpose shall be presided over and conducted in the manner prescribed by the rules and regulations of such party or nonpartisan municipal executive committee, not inconsistent with the law and the rules and regulations of the State Election Board; provided, however, that all such primaries must be conducted in such manner as to guarantee the secrecy of the ballot.

(c) Municipalities may provide by their charter or by ordinance that no political party shall conduct primaries for the purpose of nominating candidates for municipal elections; provided, however, that the existing provisions of any charter or ordinance prohibiting primaries by political parties shall not be repealed by this subsection."

A Minority Report was filed with SB 369.

Senator Dugan of the 30th raised a point of order whether amendment #2 was germane.

The President announced the motion prevailed at 10:51 a.m. and the Senate stood in recess.

The hour for convening the Joint Session of the Senate and House having arrived, the President, accompanied by the Secretary and Senators, proceeded to the Hall of the House of Representatives, and the Joint Session, called for the purpose of hearing a message by Honorable David E. Nahmias, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was called to order by the President of the Senate. HR 705 authorizing the Joint Session of the Senate and House was read by the Clerk of the House.

Honorable David E. Nahmias, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, addressed the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives as follows:

"Lieutenant Governor Duncan; Speaker Ralston; President Pro Tem Miller; Speaker Pro Tem Jones; members of the General Assembly; Constitutional Officers; my fellow colleagues here with me today: Presiding Justice Boggs, Chief Judge Rickman, and Vice-Chief Judge Mercier; our fellow Justices and judges who are watching; and my fellow Georgians:

Thank you for this opportunity to present to this gathering of the people's representatives my report as Chief Justice on the state of Georgia's judiciary. In past years, these reports have often discussed a variety of accomplishments of the judiciary in the preceding year, along with an assortment of priorities for the coming year. But I will focus on only one topic – the challenges to our judicial system created by the COVID pandemic – because while we do have other accomplishments and priorities, dealing with the pandemic's consequences is consuming the attention of Georgia's judges at all levels, and it will for the foreseeable future.

I will lead off, as good lawyers always should, with the most important point: the resolve of Georgia's judges to uphold the rule of law and provide equal justice for all is as strong as ever, in spite of the difficulties created by the COVID pandemic for almost two years now.

We must never lose sight of the importance of our courts. Citizens and businesses rely on courts to resolve their disputes fairly and peaceably, through decisions by impartial judges and juries, rather than by whoever has better weapons, more money, or the most political power. Our judicial system is critical to the rule of law that forms the very foundation of this State and this Nation. My parents came to this country from colonial Egypt and Nazi Germany, and I've heard and studied what it's like to live under the rule of tyrants rather than of laws. We are truly blessed to live in a state with a fair and effective justice system.

But as with all areas of our society, the COVID pandemic has created enormous challenges for our judicial system. And like most Georgians, we're frustrated that every time we take a couple of steps forward, a new wave of COVID cases comes and knocks us a step back. What we still call COVID-19 has now been with us in 2020, 2021, and into 2022. Yet through it all, Georgia's judges, lawyers, and other participants in our justice system have demonstrated remarkable perseverance, creativity, and resolve to keep our courts operating, even in areas with very limited resources and facilities.

Even at the start of the pandemic, when much of our society shut down and people were told to stay home, our courts always remained open for matters essential to the protection of life, liberty, and property, like criminal warrants and bond hearings, domestic abuse protective orders, and child removal matters. Last July 1, the statewide judicial emergency order ended, along with the Governor's statewide Public Health Emergency. As Chief Justice, and in consultation with the Judicial Council of Georgia, which I chair, I continue to provide advice and guidance to judges around the State on how to respond to changing COVID conditions. And our Judicial COVID Task Force, led by my colleague, Justice Shawn Ellen LaGrua, and Chief Judge Russell McClelland of the Forsyth County State Court, also continues to provide advice and guidance to courts and lawyers on COVID response.

But it is advice and guidance, not orders. As we've learned more about dealing with the ever-changing COVID challenges, we've realized that the best approach at this point is not broad, statewide directives, but rather more tailored responses at the local level. In this regard, I want to recognize and thank the leaders of our local judicial systems, the Chief Superior Court Judges of our 50 judicial circuits, who have taken on the primary responsibility for addressing COVID as it affects the courts in their areas.

We've learned that if there's a COVID outbreak in a particular type of court or a particular area of a courthouse, it's not necessary to declare a lengthy local judicial emergency for all the courts in the county. A good example of this occurred during the week between Christmas and New Year's, as the omicron wave passed over Waycross and infected or exposed several judges and staff members in the Ware County Magistrate Court, who then needed to isolate or quarantine. Chief Superior Court Judge Dwayne Gillis, working in consultation with the Chief Magistrate Judge, did not issue a local judicial emergency order affecting the entire Waycross Circuit or even the entire Ware County Courthouse for a full 30 days, as the judicial emergency statute would allow. Instead, Judge Gillis issued an order tolling deadlines in just the Magistrate Court, for just 15 days, with provisions to ensure that the court was never closed – court documents could still be filed using a drop box in front of the courthouse, and essential hearings could still be conducted by scheduled appointment. This sort of targeted and limited response to COVID outbreaks and risks is critical to keeping our judicial system as operational as possible.

Another important response to COVID has been technological – particularly the use of remote, videoconference proceedings to keep cases moving. Judges tend to be set in their ways; we're not usually early adopters of new technology. But the pandemic forced us to adapt, and in two years we've probably made as much technological progress as we would have made in two decades otherwise. I want to recognize the extraordinary work done by the IT personnel in the judicial branch, like Bob McAteer and his team at the Supreme Court, to support this technological transformation.

Almost all courts in Georgia have used videoconference technology – Zoom, Webex, Teams, and other platforms – to conduct proceedings virtually and therefore safely even when COVID conditions have been at their worst. When Cobb County Superior Court Judge Tain Kell's son had COVID early in the pandemic, Judge Kell was able to continue to conduct hearings virtually from a makeshift courtroom he set up in his bedroom, complete with an American flag that he swiped from his front porch. While his whole family quarantined, Judge Kell livestreamed to his open courtroom in the Cobb County courthouse so the public would continue to have access to the proceedings.

As COVID conditions ebb and flow, so too can the use of remote proceedings. My Court, for example, would prefer to hold our oral argument sessions in person in the beautiful new Supreme Court courtroom at the Nathan Deal Judicial Center. But remote arguments work fairly well, and we quickly started using that technology after the pandemic hit, as did the Court of Appeals. Since last summer, we've gone back and forth between in-person and remote argument sessions. As the omicron wave peaked last month, we decided to shift back to remote arguments. That enabled me to participate in and preside over the oral argument sessions even though I actually had COVID at the time and was isolating at home. There's no way I could have done that in January of 2020.

Virtual proceedings are one of the lessons learned during the pandemic that will be used long after it dissipates. We've found that for many proceedings with few participants and limited evidentiary disputes, Zoom hearings can be as effective, and far more efficient, than traditional proceedings with everyone in a courtroom.

For example, many lawyers prefer calendar calls and status conferences conducted on-line, which they can participate in from their offices rather than having to drive from courthouse to courthouse, find parking, schlep through security, and wait in the courtroom until their case is called. It saves money for clients too.

Most courts have also moved to using videoconferences for initial appearances and bond hearings in criminal cases, reducing the time, cost, and security risks involved in transporting defendants between detention facilities and courthouses for these usually short and straightforward pretrial hearings.

As another example, Chief Judge Bobby Reeves of the Middle Judicial Circuit in southeast Georgia reports that it's not unusual now for his court to deal with multiple habeas corpus petitions in a single day, sometimes as many as five or six cases. These hearings involve prisoners challenging their convictions after appeal. In the past, the judge in that five-county circuit had to travel to the courthouse in the county where the prison is located; the inmate needed to be securely transported to and held at the courthouse; the lawyer representing the State had to travel from Atlanta or Augusta; witnesses also had to travel; and the schedules of all of these participants had to be coordinated.

Now, the hearings are usually conducted by videoconference with the consent of the parties. Judge Reeves presides from his home courthouse in Emanuel County; the prisoner participates from his prison, usually in Washington County; the State's attorney from his or her office; and the witnesses from their homes or offices. And with all the travel eliminated, there are many fewer schedule conflicts, and lower costs for all involved.

We recognize that some participants in court cases do not have good access to the internet, including many self-represented litigants in magistrate and other courts. Judges have been creative in providing electronic devices and secure spaces in courthouses, or even devices with hotspots that can be used in vehicles outside the courthouse, to ensure access to these proceedings

Many of these virtual proceedings can and should be part of our judicial system's "new normal" when COVID becomes just a memory. Looking forward, I also have hope that the technological lessons we've been learning can help with longstanding concerns about poor and lower-income Georgians who need legal advice when dealing with issues affecting their families, health, homes, and jobs.

One of the biggest challenges for access to justice in this State is that most of Georgia's lawyers are in metro Atlanta and other larger cities, while much of the need for free, pro bono, or low-cost legal services is in areas of the State with few lawyers. Now that we've learned that judges, lawyers, and litigants don't always have to be in the same physical location to participate in court proceedings, perhaps we can find ways to bridge this gap. My newest colleague on the Supreme Court, Justice Verda Colvin, is chairing the Judicial Council's Access to Justice Committee. She's an energetic proponent for ensuring that all Georgians have the ability to get the legal advice they need.

But many judicial proceedings cannot be done effectively, or even lawfully, by videoconference. These proceedings require the participants to be live and in-person in a courtroom, and they often require a significant number of participants. It's important to keep in mind that most of the people who come to courtrooms are not there by choice. Georgians can decide what level of COVID risk they're comfortable with before choosing to go to a grocery store or a Braves game. But litigants and lawyers may need to come to courtrooms to get their cases resolved; witnesses often are compelled to be there by subpoena; and jurors are there because they were summoned and would be subject to contempt if they failed to appear. Because we require these people to come to court, we have an obligation to ensure that the conditions there are safe for them.

So judges across the State have triaged cases to determine which ones need in-person proceedings, and in what priority. To limit the number of people in courthouse hallways and courtrooms at any one time, judges have split up case calendars and spread them throughout the day, with some courts using procedures for participants to wait in their cars until being notified that it's their time to enter the building. Many court clerks have set up secure drop boxes outside the courthouse door to reduce contact between people filing papers and staff.

All of these innovations are helpful, but the number of courtroom participants is largest for jury trials, which are also the ultimate proceeding in our judicial system. All Georgians have a constitutionally guaranteed right to have their criminal cases and many of their civil disputes resolved by a jury of their fellow citizens. Jury trials require a lot of people: the judge, courtroom clerk, and court reporter; bailiffs for security; the litigants and their lawyers; witnesses; the jurors and usually a few alternates; and at the start of the trial, dozens and sometimes hundreds of prospective jurors from which the trial jury will be selected. Plus family members, victims, media representatives, and members of the public who want to watch the trial, as is their constitutional right.

Now think about the Georgia trial courtrooms that you've seen on TV or been in yourself. They're usually not large to start with. Before COVID, we squeezed the jurors together on one side in what we call the jury "box," with the witness stand, judge's bench, clerk's desk, and tables for litigants and lawyers all close at hand, because all the participants need to see and hear the proceedings. And during breaks and final deliberations, we sent jurors to sit together in an even smaller room. We had all these folks sit in tight spaces for hours a day, and days and sometimes weeks on end. That way of doing things is a recipe for the spread of a dangerous respiratory virus like COVID.

So when COVID rates are skyrocketing – as they were in the spring of 2020, and the winter of 2021, and again with the delta variant last fall and with omicron recently – there may be no way to conduct jury trials in a way that adequately protects the health of those involved. When rates are more moderate, however, our judges have figured out ways to safely conduct jury trials, even high-profile trials that last for several weeks. They've done so by requiring masks and improving ventilation and sanitation. They've reconfigured courtrooms to socially distance jurors and other participants – or, where courtrooms just weren't big enough to accommodate jury trials and jury selection, they've borrowed or rented larger facilities where possible.

In Douglas County, for example, Chief State Court Judge Eddie Parker explains that the judges modified their two courtrooms by moving benches and desks to allow socially distanced trials for misdemeanor crimes, which use six-person juries. But there just wasn't enough room for civil trials that require 12 jurors, so the court approached the Douglas County Commission to obtain use of the Citizens Hall, where several jury trials have since been held safely.

Working with court administrators, sheriffs, and other stakeholders, courts have also used the Classic Center in Athens, the James Brown Arena in Augusta, the Ice Rink in the Columbus Civic Center, and other alternate facilities for trials or jury selection. Acoustics and sound systems can be a particular problem in these larger spaces, requiring creative solutions – like the wireless headsets that the superior court in Augusta obtained for prospective jurors, parties, and lawyers to be able to clearly hear the questioning in that huge facility. There's often a major challenge with holding criminal trials involving detained defendants in these alternate spaces, because they usually don't have secure holding cells, meaning that many more sheriff's personnel are required at a time when most sheriff departments are stretched thin.

Technology can again help, to some extent. Fulton County Chief Judge Christopher Brasher and his fellow superior and state court judges have developed a method for selecting jurors remotely in civil cases. Judge Brasher estimates that since last April, more than 75 juries have been selected for civil trials using Zoom.

The Fulton County courts are seating more than half of the potential jurors summoned this way, which is a notably higher rate than when jury summonses were in-person only. While some lawyers have been hesitant about the process, Judge Brasher notes that many prospective jurors seem to open up and respond more to questions when they're alone in their home or another known setting, instead of sitting in a courtroom surrounded by dozens of strangers. Judge Brasher also reports that the reaction of the prospective jurors has been overwhelmingly positive. Other courts in Georgia are starting to use this remote jury selection method, and it's another of the innovations that should outlast the pandemic.

But remote jury selection is used only for civil trials. And even with all of this creativity, as long as social distancing and other health measures are required, the number of jury trials will be below what it was before the pandemic. For example, Judge Kell says that that the Cobb County Superior Court would often conduct seven to eight jury trials a week, civil and criminal, prior to the pandemic. The most they can conduct with social distancing and other precautions is three, less than half the pre-pandemic rate.

Judge Wade Padgett also notes that while he and other superior court judges in the Augusta area have worked hard to resolve cases that were likely to result in guilty pleas or civil settlements, what's left now are the hardest and most complex cases that are more likely destined for trial. And keep in mind that a civil settlement can be completed entirely on paper, and a guilty plea hearing may take 30 minutes, but a trial often lasts for several days or even weeks.

So even when not halted entirely, our judicial system's capacity to conduct jury trials, and other proceedings that need to be done in-person, is significantly lower because of COVID. This has led to significant backlogs, particularly of the serious criminal cases are the most likely to go to trial and to have long and complicated trials, including many gang-related and other trials with multiple defendants, which can multiply the number of participants involved. Dougherty County, for example, has at least five pending serious violent felony cases with eight or more defendants. But there are also backlogs in domestic cases, personal injury cases, business cases, and all sorts of other cases in all of our classes of trial courts: superior courts, state courts, juvenile courts, probate courts, magistrate courts, and municipal courts.

Judges are acutely aware that all of these cases are important to the litigants and the community. We must always remember that court cases are about real people, our fellow Georgians: defendants accused of crimes and detained in jails without bond, waiting for trials to determine their guilt or innocence; crime victims waiting for some justice; children in limbo as divorce and child custody disputes languish; injured plaintiffs struggling to survive until they can be awarded compensation; business owners trying to operate under the cloud of pending litigation.

We're working hard, and we're working together, to try to restore and expand the capacity of the judicial system to resolve cases, especially those needing trials. You provided the courts with some much-needed statutory tools in your last session. You authorized judges to extend statutory speedy trial deadlines at the local level for a time even after formal judicial emergencies end, so that criminal defendants are not required to just be released without ever having a trial. You allowed more criminal cases to get started with a prosecutor's accusation instead of by grand jury indictment, and more cases to be tried by judges rather than juries where the defendant consents. And you made it easier to use alternate facilities for court proceedings.

And in November, Governor Kemp allocated to the judicial system $110 million in funds that the State received under ARPA — the federal American Rescue Plan Act. These funds cannot be used to supplant normal operating budgets that let courts handle the ongoing flow of new cases being filed. The ARPA funds may be used only to obtain temporary space and pay for temporary personnel to address case backlogs, with a priority on the backlogs of serious violent felony cases like murder, armed robbery, and aggravated sex crimes. The goal is to add more capacity with proportional funding for senior and temporary judges as well as additional prosecutors and public defenders, court clerks, court reporters, bailiffs, etc.

The Judicial Council, through a committee chaired by Presiding Justice Michael Boggs and staffed by the Administrative Office of the Courts, worked diligently to establish an application process and award initial grants totaling nearly $25 million to 26 judicial circuits in late December, so those funds have already started to be used. The second round of grants will be awarded later this month; a total of 42 of our 50 judicial circuits have now applied. This has been a complicated task, but Presiding Justice Boggs, his committee, the AOC, and the judicial circuits have worked very hard, and we all greatly appreciate this financial support.

But note that this ARPA funding is targeted and restricted, both by federal rules and additional limitations established by OBP. Funding for most courts in Georgia has traditionally been a shared responsibility of the State and the counties, and we need more counties to step up and contribute some of the ARPA funds that they're receiving to address the backlogs of cases in their county's courts. This year, every single Georgia county will receive another portion of federal COVID relief funds; many individual counties will receive more than the $110 million that the judicial branch was allocated for use in all 159 counties. The federal guidelines expressly authorize counties to use their COVID relief funding to address backlogs of cases in their courts.

Fulton County has dedicated $75 million of its ARPA funds to assist its judicial system to clear out backlogs. Fulton is our largest county, and it has the largest backlogs, but other counties need to assist their courts as well if we're going to get back on track. We've been working with ACCG to help communicate the urgency of this issue to county leadership.

Because the issue is not just the backlogs of cases that have built up over the past two years. New cases keep getting filed in all of our courts, sometimes at higher rates than before the pandemic where crime rates have increased. So let's assume – let's pray – that we'll soon see COVID risks reduced to the point that we could end social distancing and other health precautions and get our jury trial rates back to what they were before the pandemic, back to 100% of what we considered "normal" capacity. Well, in many counties, the judicial system operated at maximum capacity before the pandemic, barely able to handle the number of jury trials required based on new cases coming into the courts each year. This is demonstrated by the fact that a pre-pandemic caseload analysis by the Judicial Workload Assessment Committee identified the need for eight new superior court judges in circuits around the state.

All of these newly filed cases still need to be handled, and now add on top of them all the cases that have not been able to be resolved in the normal way over the past two years. Let me offer a way to think about what our courts are facing.

The Atlanta Braves canceled 102 games during the 2020 baseball season due to COVID. Those games were just canceled forever, not postponed to be resolved later like court cases have to be. What if those games eventually had to be played, and the Braves had to postpone another 102 games last season. They would be looking at an upcoming season with the usual 162 games, plus 102 games from 2020 and another 102 games from 2021. That's a 366 game season, and I'm not sure even our World Series champs could handle that. This is the situation some of our courts are facing right now with their overall caseloads.

Let me give you a few specific examples from around the State: We have a rural judicial circuit on the coast that has four prisons. It has more than 200 serious violent felony cases pending, 33 coming from the prison system alone. A northeast Georgia rural circuit has a total pending caseload two-thirds higher than what it was before the pandemic, including 53 serious violent felony cases. The six-county Southwestern Circuit had 377 open felony cases in 2019; now it has more than 900. Muscogee County in west Georgia has almost 300 serious violent felony cases pending, including more than 100 detained defendants charged with murder. And these are just the indicted serious violent felony cases; they don't include cases in which the defendants have been arrested but not yet indicted, or all the other sorts of criminal cases, much less all the civil cases.

So this will be the main issue that the judicial system in Georgia will be dealing with, not only until the rest of our society returns to more normal conditions, but for several years to come. I can pledge to you the continuing diligence and creativity of Georgia's judges at all levels. But we will need support and patience from you, and from the public, as we struggle to keep up with new cases while also resolving the cases backlogged due to COVID.

I want to mention one last pandemic-related issue. Studies have shown that people with mental illnesses are more likely to be incarcerated than hospitalized. Our jails have become our de facto mental hospitals, and our criminal justice system has struggled for many years with how to deal with offenders who have unaddressed behavioral health issues. The pandemic has significantly magnified these challenges. I know that improving our mental health system across the board is a priority for Speaker Ralston and for many of you. Presiding Justice Boggs and Judges Brian Amero and Sarah Harris served on the Behavioral Health Reform and Innovation Commission, and Georgia's judges support these efforts and stand ready to assist.

One effective method of dealing with non-violent offenders who have behavioral health issues is our accountability courts, which the General Assembly and the Governor have been so supportive of in recent years. These courts, including mental health courts, veterans' courts, drug courts, and DUI courts, deal with criminal defendants with much greater frequency and depth than traditional courts, as they address the behavioral health and other issues that often lead non-violent individuals into the criminal justice system.

Our accountability courts have had to be particularly creative during the pandemic in balancing remote and in-person check-ins, group meetings, and treatment sessions. But they have continued to be successful in reducing recidivism rates, saving the State money by allowing offenders to re-enter society and the workforce rather than being incarcerated, and, most importantly, saving lost souls. But beyond accountability courts, communities across Georgia need more resources to serve our fellow citizens with mental health issues. Addressing this problem is not just good for our justice system and our economy; it's a moral imperative.

I'd like to end on a positive note. In December, the Supreme Court of Georgia celebrated its 175th anniversary with a two-day history seminar. I want to thank the Georgia Legal History Foundation, which organized the event along with my colleague Justice Carla Wong McMillian.

In listening to the speakers at that event, I was struck by how much our Supreme Court has changed over the years. We've grown from three Justices in 1846, who traveled around the state by horse and buggy to hear cases, to nine Justices with chambers in the state's first building dedicated to the judiciary, who can hear cases by videoconference when necessary. There are only three former female Justices, but we now have four women serving as Justices at the same time. Yet some things don't change. We remain one of the busiest high courts in the nation. We disposed of nearly 1,400 cases in 2021, including issuing 239 full opinions – more than three times as many opinions as the United States Supreme Court issued in its last term.

Most importantly, our fundamental mission has never changed. Like all courts in Georgia, we remain focused on providing an independent and impartial forum in which disputes are resolved through a fair and efficient process, in accordance with the law, and with equal justice for all. That mission has been challenged in many ways over the centuries, and the COVID pandemic has certainly been a significant new challenge. But Georgia's judges and the staff that support us are resilient and resourceful. We are weathering this storm, and we will emerge better than we were before. You are valued allies in our mission, and we appreciate everything that you do for our State and for the citizens that we serve together.

Thank you again for the opportunity to report to you today on the state of our judiciary. May God continue to bless these United States and the great State of Georgia."

"SECTION 2.

(a) For purposes of electing members of the board of commissioners, Fulton County is divided into six commissioner districts. One member of the board shall be elected from each such district. (b) For the purposes of such plan:

(1) The term 'VTD' shall mean and describe the same geographical boundaries as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia. The separate numeric designations in a district description which are underneath a VTD heading shall mean and describe individual Blocks within a VTD as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia; and

(2) Except as otherwise provided in the description of any district, whenever the description of any district refers to a named city, it shall mean the geographical boundaries of that city as shown on the census maps for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia.

Honorable Chuck Hufstetler
Chairman, Senate Finance
121-C State Capitol
Atlanta, GA 30334

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
Senate Bill (LC 43 2189)

Dear Chairman Hufstetler:

The bill would create an income tax credit for individuals and corporations that make qualified contributions to certain foster child support organizations that provide aging-out services. Credits are equal to 100 percent of the amount of qualifying donations paid by the taxpayer to an approved organization. The total amount of tax credits utilized in any year may not exceed the taxpayer's income tax liability for the year, but unutilized tax credits may be carried forward and applied to offset future tax liabilities for up to five years. The amount of credits available is subject to a statewide aggregate cap of $20 million per year. The credit would be available for all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

Impact on State Revenue
Georgia State University's Fiscal Research Center (FRC) estimated that the bill would decrease state revenue by $13.5 million in FY 2024, with the amount nearing the $20 million cap by FY 2026. The appendix provides details of the analysis.

Table 1. Estimated State Revenue Effects of LC 43 2189

($ millions)	FY 2023	FY 2024	FY 2025	FY 2026	FY 2027
Utilized Credits	–	($13.5)	($18.4)	($19.6)	($19.9)

Impact on State Expenditures
The Departments of Revenue and Human Services are expected to implement the provisions of the bill with existing resources.

Respectfully,

/s/ Greg S. Griffin
Greg S. Griffin
State Auditor

Analysis by the Fiscal Research Center

LC 43 2189, the Fostering Success Act, establishes criteria that qualify a foster child support organization for their donors to earn tax credits equal to their donations. The Georgia Department of Human Services (DHS) is tasked with qualifying foster child support organizations and the state revenue commissioner is responsible preapproving contributions to qualify for the tax credit. A qualified foster child support organization is as defined as:

- The aging-out program of the Technical College System of Georgia Foundation;
- The aging-out program of the University System of Georgia Foundation provided it is certified by the Governor's Office of Planning and Budget; or
- Any domestic non-profit corporation operating an aging-out program or supporting a Georgia licensed child-placing agency, or disbursing funds to one or more such organizations in the state.

The statewide aggregate amount of donations eligible for the tax credit is capped at $20 million per year. For preapproval applications filed from January 1 to June 30 each year, amount of credit allowed per taxpayer is capped as follows:

- $2,500 for a single individual or head of household,
- $5,000 for a married couple or an individual who is part of a limited liability company, S- corporation, or partnership, and
- 10 percent of income tax liability for a corporation.

For preapproval applications filed after June 30 of each year, these per-taxpayer caps do not apply.

Similar donation-based tax credit programs in Georgia include the qualified education expense credit (QEEC) for donations to student scholarship organizations and the rural hospital credit, both of which currently award credits equal to 100 percent of the amount donated, though the credit rate for rural hospital donations was 70 percent in its first year, 2017. The history of these credits shows some variation in terms of reaching their respective aggregate caps. While it fell well short of its cap in the first year, once the credit rate was raised to 100 percent in 2018, the rural hospital credit reached its $60 million cap that year. However, donations fell off in 2019 to about 78 percent of the cap, possibly due to uncertainty over proposed IRS regulations affecting such state tax credit programs to close a loophole created by the Tax Cut and Jobs Act. Since the regulation was finalized, credits earned have rebounded, reaching 99.9 percent of the cap in 2021. The QEEC has been around longer, since 2009, and preapprovals have generally reached the cap since at least 2011 (reporting of preapprovals for 2009 and 2010 is not available), except for 2019 and 2020, when they reached 98 and 95 percent of the cap respectively.

Based on these other programs, and assuming that a sufficient number of eligible organizations are prepared to promote the credit in their fundraising, the estimates herein assume the $20 million cap is reached in the second year, with first-year preapprovals assumed to reach 90 percent of the cap.

Experience with utilization of the two similar credits also suggests that significant amounts of credits earned in a year are not utilized that year and instead are carried forward. For purposes of this note, 75 percent of credits available, including carryforwards from prior years, are assumed to be utilized in the given year, the balance to be carried forward.

Finally, utilized credits for a given tax year are assumed to impact state tax collections through reductions in estimated and final tax payments made during the fiscal year starting July 1 of the given tax year

The Senate Committee on Finance offered the following substitute to SB 370:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Chapter 7 of Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to income taxes, so as to enact the "Fostering Success Act"; to provide for tax credits for certain contributions made by taxpayers to certain foster child support organizations; to provide for definitions; to provide for an aggregate annual limit; to provide for terms and conditions; to provide for applications and certifications; to provide for the revocation of qualified status; to provide for audits; to provide for certain penalties; to require annual reporting; to provide for the discretion to refer certain acts to the Attorney General for investigation and prosecution; to provide for rules and regulations; to provide for a short title; to provide for legislative findings; to provide for related matters; to provide for an effective date and applicability; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

SECTION 1.

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Fostering Success Act."

(2) Empowering those Georgians who have aged out of foster care to achieve success in their careers and postsecondary education is both a responsibility and opportunity for Georgia; and

(3) Georgia taxpayers would welcome the opportunity to participate in such a virtuous pursuit through their direct contributions to the state's postsecondary institutions and other nonprofit partners.

SECTION 3.

Chapter 7 of Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to income taxes, is amended by adding a new Code section to read as follows:

"48-7-29.24.

(C) Any domestic nonprofit corporation which maintains nonprofit status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and tax exempt status under Code Section 48-7-25, that has the primary function of:

(i) Operating an aging-out program or operating as or supporting a Georgia licensed child-placing agency; or

(B) Wraparound services for individuals attending a public postsecondary educational institution under a waiver granted pursuant to Code Section 20-3-660; or

(2) Subject to the aggregate limit provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection and the limitations of subsection (b.1) of this Code section, each taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this chapter for qualified contributions made by the taxpayer on or after January 1, 2023, as follows:

(B) In the case of a married couple filing a joint return, the actual amount of qualified contributions made;

(C) Anything to the contrary contained in subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph notwithstanding, in the case of an individual taxpayer who is a member of a limited liability company duly formed under state law, a shareholder of a Subchapter 'S' corporation, or a partner in a partnership, the actual amount of qualified contributions it made; provided, however, that tax credits pursuant to this paragraph shall only be allowed for the portion of the income on which such tax was actually paid by such member of the limited liability company, shareholder of a Subchapter 'S' corporation, or partner in a partnership; or

(D) A corporation or other entity not provided for in subparagraphs (A) through (C) of this paragraph shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this chapter, for qualified contributions in an amount not to exceed the actual amount of qualified contributions made.

(ii) A sibling of a student enrolled in another local school designated in the charter; located denies the petition; provided, however, that such local board shall approve or deny the petition no later than 90 days after its submission, as required pursuant to subsection (b) of Code Section 20-2-2064, unless the petitioner requested an extension. Failure to approve or deny such petition by such local board, in violation of Code Section 20-2-2064, shall be deemed a denial for purposes of this paragraph. A local board that has denied a petition for a state charter school shall be permitted to present to the commission in writing or in person the reasons for denial and the deficiencies in such petition resulting in such denial.

Such funds appropriated by the General Assembly shall be made available for the operation of such schools under rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Education."

(3) The commission may take into consideration any support or opposition by the local board of education or local boards of education on the start-up charter school petition when it votes to approve or deny a corresponding state charter school petition.

(4) The commission shall not approve, renew, or extend a state charter school petition for any school with one or more employees, officers, or governing board members who are also an officer, member, or executive-level employee of a local board of education or an employee of a local school system from the geographic region which the state charter school serves. (B) For petitions for state charter schools with a defined attendance zone that serve only individuals between ages 21 and 35 residing in this state who have not attained a high school diploma, the petitioner shall concurrently submit such petition to the commission, to the local board of education in which the school is proposed to be located, and to each local school system from which the proposed school plans to enroll students. The commission shall not act on a petition unless the local board of education in which the school is proposed to be located denies the petition; provided, however, that such local board shall approve or deny the petition no later than 90 days after its submission, as required pursuant to subsection (b) of Code Section 20-2-2064, unless the petitioner requests an extension. Section 1324b, the school shall receive approval by the commission and demonstrate that qualified teachers and other personnel were sought but not available in such area which warrants hiring an individual other than a citizen or national of the United States or a protected individual as defined in 8 U.S.C. Section 1324b, unless a teacher is a foreign exchange teacher; provided, further, that the commission and the state charter school shall not construe this paragraph in a manner in violation of 8 U.S.C. Section 1324b or other provisions of law; and

(2) Give preference in contracting and purchasing of services and materials to businesses incorporated under the laws of this state or qualified to do business within this state and having a regularly maintained and established place of business within this state, so long as such businesses are otherwise similarly situated and qualified as compared to a business from out of state.

(C) Use, or knowingly allow to be used, his or her position or any information not generally available to the members of the public which he or she receives or acquires in the course of and by reason of his or her position for the purpose of securing financial gain for himself or herself, his or her immediate family member, or any business organization with which he or she is associated;

(D) Be an officer or serve on the board of directors of any organization that sells goods or services to that state charter school; or

(E) Be an officer, member, or employee of a local board of education or an employee of a local school system.

As used in this paragraph, the term 'immediate family member' means a spouse, child, sibling, or parent or the spouse of a child, sibling, or parent.

(f) The members of the governing board of each state charter school shall participate in initial training for boards of newly approved state charter schools and annual training thereafter conducted or approved by the commission pursuant to paragraph (12) of subsection (b) of Code Section 20-2-2083.

(f.1) The principal, or its equivalent, ~~for~~ of a state charter school shall not serve simultaneously as the chief financial officer, or its equivalent, for the state charter school.

Such funds appropriated by the General Assembly shall be made available for the operation of such schools under rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Education."

SB 361. By Senators Walker III of the 20th, Harbison of the 15th, Mullis of the 53rd, Cowsert of the 46th, Albers of the 56th and others:

A BILL to be entitled an Act to amend Chapter 7 of Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to income taxes, so as to enact the "Law Enforcement Strategic Support Act" ("LESS Crime Act"); to provide for tax credits for certain contributions made by taxpayers to certain local law enforcement foundations; to provide for an aggregate annual limit; to provide for terms and conditions; to provide for applications and certifications; to provide for the revocation of qualified status; to provide for certain penalties; to require annual reporting; to provide for rules and regulations; to provide for a short title; to provide for related matters; to provide for an effective date, applicability, and an automatic repeal; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

Honorable Chuck Hufstetler
Chairman, Senate Finance

Atlanta, GA 30334

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
Senate Bill (LC 43 2159)

Dear Chairman Hufstetler:

The bill would create an income tax credit for individuals and corporations that make qualified contributions to local law enforcement foundations. Credits are equal to 100 percent of the amount of qualifying donations paid by the taxpayer to an approved organization. The total amount of tax credits utilized in any year may not exceed the taxpayer’s income tax liability for the year, but unutilized tax credits may be carried forward and applied to offset future tax liabilities for up to five years. The amount of credits available is subject to a statewide aggregate cap of $100 million per year. The credit would be available for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2023 and ending on or before December 31, 2027.

Impact on State Revenue
Georgia State University's Fiscal Research Center (FRC) estimated that the bill would decrease state revenue by $67.5 million in FY 2024, with the amount nearing the $100 million cap by FY 2026. The appendix provides details of the analysis.

Table 1. Estimated State Revenue Effects of LC 43 2159

($ million)	FY 2023	FY 2024	FY 2025	FY 2026	FY 2027
Utilized Credits	–	($67.5)	($91.9)	($98.0)	($99.5)

Impact on State Expenditures
The Department of Revenue would incur initial cost and annual costs as a result of the bill. The Taxpayer Services Division would need two additional tax examiners at a total annual cost of $110,744. One-time costs of $3,650 would pay for their computers and equipment.

The need for two additional examiners is based on the workload attributed to a similar tax credit program—the qualified education expense credit. While tax returns are filed electronically, the error rate for those credits requires a manual review for more than 2,500 returns each tax season.

Respectfully,

Analysis by the Fiscal Research Center

SB 361, The Law Enforcement Strategic Support Act, establishes criteria that qualify a law enforcement foundation for their donors to earn tax credits equal to their donations. The state revenue commissioner is tasked with verifying all the requirements to qualify law enforcement foundations and preapproving contributions to qualify for the tax credit. A qualified law enforcement foundation is defined as any domestic non-profit corporation that maintains its non-profit status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and tax-exempt status under O.C.G.A. §48-7-25, and which has as its sole function the supporting a local law enforcement unit, as defined in the bill.

The statewide annual aggregate amount of donations eligible for the tax credit is capped $100 million per year. The maximum amount of credit that may be earned by any taxpayer in any year is capped as follows:

- $5,000 for single head of single individual or head of household,

- $10,000 for a married couple or an individual who is part of a limited liability company, a S-corporation shareholder, or partnership and
- 75 percent of income tax liability for a corporation.

Similar donation-based tax credit programs in Georgia include the qualified education expense credit (QEEC) for donations to student scholarship organizations and the rural hospital credit, both of which currently award credits equal to 100 percent of the amount donated, though the credit rate for rural hospital donations was 70 percent in its first year, 2017. The history of these credits shows some variation in terms of reaching their respective aggregate caps. While it fell well short of its cap in the first year, once the credit rate was raised to 100 percent in 2018, the rural hospital credit reached its $60 million cap that year. However, donations fell off in 2019 to about 78 percent of the cap, possibly due to uncertainty over proposed IRS regulations affecting such state tax credit programs to close a loophole created by the Tax Cut and Jobs Act. Since the regulation was finalized, credits earned have rebounded, reaching 99.9 percent of the cap in 2021. The QEEC has been around longer, since 2009, and preapprovals have generally reached the cap since at least 2011 (reporting of preapprovals for 2009 and 2010 is not available), except for 2019 and 2020, when they reached 98 and 95 percent of the cap respectively.

Based on these other programs, and assuming that a sufficient number of eligible organizations are prepared to promote the credit in their fundraising, the estimates herein assume the $100 million cap is reached in the second year, with first-year preapprovals assumed to reach 90 percent of the cap.

Experience with utilization of the two similar credits also suggests that significant amounts of credits earned in a year are not utilized that year and instead are carried forward. For purposes of this note, 75 percent of credits available, including carryforwards from prior years, are assumed to be utilized in the given year, the balance to be carried forward.

Finally, utilized credits for a given tax year are assumed to impact state tax collections through reductions in estimated and final tax payments made during the fiscal year starting July 1 of the given tax year.

The Senate Committee on Finance offered the following substitute to SB 361:

Each qualified law enforcement foundation shall maintain accurate and current records of all expenditures of such funds and provide such records to the commissioner upon his or her request.

All applications for preapproval of tax credits for contributions to such law enforcement foundation under this Code section made on or after the date of such removal shall be rejected.

(4) Each law enforcement foundation that has had its status revoked and has been delisted pursuant to this Code section, shall immediately cease all expenditures of funds received relative to this Code section, and shall transfer all of such funds that are not yet expended, to a properly operating qualified law enforcement foundation within 30 calendar days of its removal from the department's list of qualified law enforcement foundations.

(k)(1) No credit shall be allowed under this Code section to a taxpayer for any amount of qualified contributions that were utilized as deductions or exemptions from taxable income.

(2) In no event shall the total amount of the tax credit under this Code section for a taxable year exceed the taxpayer's income tax liability. Any unused tax credit shall be allowed the taxpayer against the succeeding five years' tax liability. No such credit shall be allowed the taxpayer against prior years' tax liability.

(l) The commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary to implement and administer the provisions of this Code section."

SECTION 3.

This city shall be empowered to levy any other tax or fee allowed now or hereafter by law, and the specific mention of any right, power, or authority in this article shall not be construed as limiting in any way the general powers of this city to govern its local affairs.

SECTION 6.18.
Collection of delinquent taxes and fees.

The city council by ordinance may provide generally for the collection of delinquent taxes, fees, or other revenue due the city under Sections 6.10 through 6.17 of this charter by whatever reasonable means as are not precluded by law. (b) The city council by ordinance shall adopt the final operating budget for the ensuing fiscal year not later than December 15 of each year. If the city council fails to adopt the budget by said date, the amounts appropriated for operation for the then current fiscal year shall be deemed adopted for the ensuing fiscal year on a month-to-month basis, with all items prorated accordingly, until such time as the city council adopts a budget for the ensuing fiscal year. Adoption of the budget shall take the form of an appropriations ordinance setting out the estimated revenues in detail by sources and making appropriations according to fund and by organizational unit, purpose, or activity as set out in the budget preparation ordinance adopted pursuant to Section 6.24 of this charter.

(c) Whenever in opening, extending, or widening any street, avenue, alley, or public place of the city a small parcel or tract of land is cut off or separated by such work from a larger tract or boundary of land owned by the city, the city council may authorize the mayor to sell and convey said cut-off or separated parcel or tract of land to an abutting or adjoining property owner or owners where such sale and conveyance facilitates the highest and best use of the abutting owner's property. Included in the sales contract shall be a provision for the rights of way of said street, avenue, alley, or public place. Each abutting property owner shall be notified of the availability of the property and given the opportunity to purchase said property under such terms and conditions as set out by ordinance. SECTION 8.11.
Effective dates and transition.

(a) The provisions of this Act necessary for the referendum election provided for in Section 8.10 of this charter shall become effective immediately upon this Act's approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.
(b) Those provisions of this Act necessary for the special election provided for in Section 8.13 of this charter shall be effective upon the certification of the results of the referendum election provided for by Section 8.10 of this charter if this Act is approved at such referendum election.
(c) Except as provided in Section 8.10 of this charter, the remaining provisions of this Act shall become of full force and effect for all purposes at 12:00 Midnight on January 1, 2023, except that the initial mayor or councilmembers shall take office immediately following their election and by action of a quorum may prior to 12:00 Midnight on January 1, 2023, meet and take actions binding on the city.
(d) A period of time will be needed for an orderly transition of various government functions from Cobb County to the City of East Cobb. Accordingly there shall be a transition period beginning on the date the initial mayor and councilmembers take office under this charter, and ending at 12:00 Midnight on December 31, 2025. During such transition period, all provisions of this charter shall be effective as law, but not all provisions of this charter shall be implemented.
(e) During such transition period, Cobb County shall continue to provide within the territorial limits of the city all government services and functions which Cobb County provided in that area during the years 2021 and 2022 and at the same actual cost, except to the extent otherwise provided in this section; provided, however, that upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to Cobb County by the City of East Cobb, responsibility for any such service or function shall be transferred to the City of East Cobb. During the transition period, the city shall remain within the Cobb County special services district, but shall be removed from such district at the conclusion of such period. Beginning July 1, 2023, the City of East Cobb shall collect taxes, fees, assessments, fines and forfeitures, and other moneys within the territorial limits of the city in the same manner as authorized immediately prior to the effective date of this section; provided, however, that upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to Cobb County by the City of East Cobb, the authority to collect any tax, fee, assessment, fine or forfeiture, or other moneys shall remain with Cobb County after July 1, 2023, until such time as Cobb County receives subsequent notice from the City of East Cobb that such authority shall be transferred to the City of East Cobb.

(f) During the transition period, the governing authority of the City of East Cobb:

(g) Except as otherwise provided in this section, during the transition period, the Municipal Court of the City of East Cobb shall not exercise its jurisdiction. During the transition period, all ordinances of Cobb County shall remain applicable within the territorial limits of the city and the appropriate court or courts of Cobb County shall retain jurisdiction to enforce such ordinances. However, by mutual agreement and concurrent resolutions and ordinances if needed Cobb County and the City of East Cobb may during the transition period transfer all or part of such regulatory authority and the appropriate court jurisdiction to the City of East Cobb. Any transfer of jurisdiction to the City of East Cobb during or at the end of the transition period shall not in and of itself abate any judicial proceeding pending in Cobb County or the pending prosecution of any violation of any ordinance of Cobb County.

(h) During the transition period, the governing authority of the City of East Cobb may at any time, without the necessity of any agreement by Cobb County, commence to exercise its planning and zoning powers; provided, however, that the city shall give the county notice of the date on which the city will assume the exercise of such powers. Upon the governing authority of the City of East Cobb commencing to exercise its planning and zoning powers, the Municipal Court of the City of East Cobb shall immediately have jurisdiction to enforce the planning and zoning ordinances of the city. The provisions of this subsection shall control over any conflicting provisions of any other subsection of this section.

(i) Effective upon the termination of the transition period, subsections (b) through (h) of this section shall cease to apply except for the last sentence of subsection (g) which shall remain effective. Effective upon the termination of the transition period, the City of East Cobb shall be a full functioning municipal corporation and subject to all general laws of this state.

SECTION 8.12.
Directory nature of dates.

It is the intention of the General Assembly that this Act be construed as directory rather than mandatory with respect to any date prescribed in this Act. If it is necessary to delay any action called for in this Act for providential cause or any other reason, it is the intention of the General Assembly that the action be delayed rather than abandoned. Any delay in performing any action under this Act, whether for cause or otherwise, shall not operate to frustrate the overall intent of this Act. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing it is specifically provided that:

Senate Bill (LC 43 1899)

Dear Senator Robertson:

This bill would amend several provisions relating to the Sheriffs' Retirement Fund of Georgia. The specific changes outlined in this bill are as follows.

- The cost for members wishing to purchase prior creditable service would increase from $37.50 per month of creditable service purchased to $65 per month.

- Dues paid by active members would increase from $45 per month to $65 per month. It should be noted that members are not required to pay dues once they earn 30 years of creditable service.
- This bill would increase the fees paid to the Fund for civil filings in superior courts, state courts, and magistrate courts. Currently Fund receives $1 for each proceeding. This bill would increase the fees to $5 for each proceeding.
- An additional revenue source would be available to the Fund. Under the provisions of this bill, the Fund would receive $2 from each fee collected prior to adjudication of guilt for purposes of pretrial diversion pertaining to any criminal or quasi-criminal case for violation of state statutes, county ordinances, or municipal ordinances.
- The death benefit paid to survivors would increase from $15,000 to $35,000.

This is to certify that this bill is a fiscal retirement bill as defined in the Public Retirement Systems Standards Law.

SUBJECT: Actuarial Investigation
Senate Bill 281 (LC 43 1899)
Sheriffs' Retirement Fund of Georgia

Dear Chairman Robertson:

This bill would amend several provisions relating to the Sheriffs' Retirement Fund of Georgia. The specific changes outlined in this bill are as follows.

- The cost for members wishing to purchase prior creditable service would increase from $37.50 per month of creditable service purchased to $65 per month.
- Dues paid by active members would increase from $45 per month to $65 per month. It should be noted that members are not required to pay dues once they earn 30 years of creditable service.
- This bill would increase the fees paid to the Fund for civil filings in superior courts, state courts, and magistrate courts. Currently, the Fund receives $1 for each proceeding. This bill would increase the fees to $5 for each proceeding.
- An additional revenue source would be available to the Fund. Under the provisions of this bill, the Fund would receive $2 from each fee collected prior to adjudication of guilt for purposes of pretrial diversion pertaining to any criminal or quasi-criminal case for violation of state statutes, county ordinances, or municipal ordinances.
- The death benefit paid to survivors would increase from $15,000 to $35,000.

This legislation is estimated to increase first-year costs to the Fund by $195,754. This first-year cost includes $197,021 each year for the next 20 years to amortize the unfunded actuarial accrued liability and a $1,269 annual reduction to fund the normal cost. However, this legislation also provides for an increase in fees collected per civil case for superior court and for any court of the state where a sheriff serves. This legislation would also provide for an additional revenue source from certain adjudications of pre-trial diversion cases. It is estimated that the Fund would receive an additional $1,847,000 from such fees. This revenue is sufficient to fund the increase in the death benefit, thus enabling the Fund to meet the concurrent funding requirements of O.C.G.A. §47-20-50. This cost estimate is based on current member data, actuarial assumptions, and actuarial methods. It should be noted that changes in any of these variables could affect the cost estimate for this legislation. Any future costs would be paid through fines and bond forfeitures collected from civil cases.

The following is a summary of the relevant findings of the actuarial investigation for this bill pursuant to a request by the Senate Retirement Committee. The investigation was conducted according to O.C.G.A. §47-20-36, which outlines the factors to be considered in an actuarial investigation. The figures are based on employee data and the most recent actuarial assumptions and methods.

(1)	The amount of the unfunded actuarial accrued liability which will result from the bill.	$ 2,311,989
(2)	The amount of the annual amortization of the unfunded actuarial accrued liability which will result from the bill.	$ 197,021
(3)	The number of years that the unfunded actuarial accrued liability created by this bill would be amortized.	20
(4)	The amount of the annual normal cost which will result from the bill.	$ (1,269)
(5)	The employer contribution rate currently in effect.	A portion of fines and bond forfeitures
(6)	The employer contribution rate recommended (in conformity with minimum funding standards specified in Code Section §47-20-10).	A portion of fines and bond forfeitures
(7)	The total dollar amount of the increase in the annual employer contribution which is necessary to maintain the retirement system in an actuarially sound condition.	$ 195,752*

This bill would result in additional first-year costs of $195,752. It should be noted that current revenue sources do not sufficiently cover the recommended contribution to meet minimum finding standards. However, this legislation includes provisions to increase revenue through an increase in rate and through a new source of revenue. As a result, the Fund could generate an additional $1,847,000 in revenue in the first year. This additional revenue is more than sufficient for the Fund to meet the minimum funding standards if Senate Bill 281is enacted.*

It should be noted that any subsequent changes in the retirement bill will invalidate the actuarial investigation and the findings included therein.

Respectfully,
/s/ Greg S. Griffin

State Senator

SUBJECT: State Auditor's Certification
Senate Bill (LC 43 2163)

Dear Senator Hufstetler:

This bill would amend provisions relating to postretirement benefit adjustments for certain members of the Employees' Retirement System, Legislative Retirement System, and the Georgia Judicial Retirement System. Currently, persons who become members of these retirement systems on or after July 1, 2009 are not eligible to receive any postretirement benefit adjustment upon retirement. If this legislation is enacted, this provision would be repealed. In the event a system's Board of Trustees granted a postretirement benefit adjustment, such members would also become eligible for such adjustment. Under the provisions of this legislation, such members would only be entitled to receive postretirement benefit adjustments granted on or after July 1, 2022.

This bill would also amend provisions relating to forfeited leave for retiring members of the Employees' Retirement System. Currently, any member who has accumulated six months or more of forfeited annual and sick leave may apply such time towards creditable service upon retirement. The employer for the retiring member is required to make a lump sum payment to the Employees' Retirement System to cover the cost of this additional creditable service earned. If this legislation is enacted, the employer would no longer be required to cover the cost of such creditable service. Instead, it would become a cost of the System and incorporated into future calculations of the employer contribution rate.

Finally, this bill would amend provisions regarding the employer contribution matches for GSEPS members who make contributions to the 401(K) plan. Currently, employers contribute a maximum match of three percent. If this legislation is enacted, the employer would match employee contributions on a one-for-one basis up to a maximum of five percent. This bill also adds a provision for additional employer contributions for any GSEPS member who has contributed five percent and has five or more years of creditable service. Such persons would receive an additional employer match of .5 percent for each year of service that exceeds five years. This additional contribution would be capped after 13 years of service, thus allowing for a maximum employer contribution of nine percent. While this provision does not directly impact costs and funding factors of the Employees' Retirement System, this provision would have an impact on the budgets of state agencies. Approximately 80% of all GSEPS employees contribute five percent of their salary to the plan. Under the provisions of this bill, employers would be required to make higher contributions, thus increasing the costs to individual agency budgets.

This is to certify that this bill is a nonfiscal retirement bill as defined in the Public Retirement Systems Standards Law.

government reported by service suppliers in the reports required by subsection (b) of Code Section 38-3-185. SECTION 3.

Chapter 17 of Title 47 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund, is amended in paragraph (5) of Code Section 47-17-1, relating to definitions, by striking "and" at the end of subparagraph (K), by replacing the period and quotation mark with a quotation mark followed by "; and" at the end of subparagraph (L), and by adding the following:

SUBJECT: State Auditor's Certification
Substitute to Senate Bill 84
(LC 43 2217S)

Dear Chairman Robertson:

This substitute bill would amend provisions relating to membership in the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund. If this legislation is enacted, certain communications officers would be eligible to join the Fund. Eligibility for membership would be afforded to communications officers who:

- Are employed by the state or by a local governmental agency to receive, process, or transmit public safety information and dispatch law enforcement officers, firefighters, medical personnel, or emergency management personnel, and
- Are certified or maintain compliance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Georgia Peace Officer Standards and Training Council with respect to their position as a communications officer.

Such new members would be covered under the current provisions for the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund relating to membership, creditable service, and eligibility for benefits. However, they would not be entitled to earn creditable service for prior service as a communications officer prior to July 1, 2022.

This substitute bill would also amend provisions within Chapter 3 of Title 38 of the Official Code of Georgia. Specifically, this substitute bill would provide for a portion of the 9-1-1 charges collected by the Department of Revenue to be remitted to the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund to cover costs associated with the addition of communications officers into the Fund. Currently, the Department of Revenue retains one percent of the fees received. This is to offset the administrative costs of receiving and disbursing of such fees. If this legislation is enacted, the Department of Revenue would only retain .25 percent of the fees collected. The other .75 percent would be remitted to the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund.

This is to certify that this substitute bill is a reduction in cost amendment as defined in the Public Retirement System Standards Law. A revised actuarial investigation and State Auditor's Certification are attached for Senate Bill 84 (LC 43 2217S).

SUBJECT: Actuarial Investigation
Substitute to Senate Bill 84 (LC 43 2217S)
Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund

Dear Chairman Robertson:

This substitute bill would amend provisions relating to membership in the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund. If this legislation is enacted, certain communications officers would be eligible to join the Fund. Eligibility for membership would be afforded to communications officers who:

- Are employed by the state or by a local governmental agency to receive, process, or transmit public safety information and dispatch law enforcement officers, firefighters, medical personnel, or emergency management personnel, and
- Are certified or maintain compliance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Georgia Peace Officers Standards and Training Council with respect to their position as a communications officer.

Such new members would be covered under the current provisions for the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund relating to membership, creditable service, and eligibility for benefits. However, they would not be entitled to earn creditable service for prior service as a communications officer prior to July 1, 2022.

This substitute bill would also amend provisions within Chapter 3 of Title 38 of the Official Code of Georgia. Specifically, this substitute bill would provide for a portion of the 9-1-1 charges collected by the Department of Revenue to be remitted to the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund to cover costs associated with the addition of communications officers into the Fund. Currently, the Department of Revenue retains one percent of the fees received. This is to offset the administrative costs of receiving and disbursing of such fees. If this legislation is enacted, the Department of Revenue would only retain .25 percent of the fees collected. The other .75 percent would be remitted to the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund.

The first-year cost of this legislation would be $1,247,000 to meet the concurrent funding requirements of O.C.G.A. §47-20-50 and is the cost required annually to fund the normal cost less anticipated member dues. This estimate assumes that 1,400 of the 4,160 eligible communications officers in Georgia would elect to join the Fund. This cost estimate is also based on current member data, actuarial assumptions, and actuarial methods. It should be noted that changes in any of these variables could affect the cost estimate for this legislation. Any future costs would be paid through revenue generated from fines, fees, and bond forfeitures.

Although this substitute bill increases the actual costs of the Fund, there is an offset in this cost due to additional revenues generated. Under the provisions of this substitute bill, the Fund would receive .75 percent of the 9-1-1 fees collected by the Department of Revenue. Based on current fees collected, it is anticipated that the Fund would receive an additional $1,730,000 in revenue to cover the cost of this legislation. This additional revenue offsets the costs of this bill and results in a $483,000 surplus to the Fund. Based on the current actuarial valuation and the actuarial investigation received specific to this substitute bill, the Fund's revenues are expected to exceed the contributions required to meet minimum funding standards.

The following is a summary of the relevant findings of the actuarial investigation for this bill pursuant to a request by the Senate Retirement Committee. The investigation was to be conducted according to O.C.G.A. §47-20-36, which outlines the factors to be considered in an actuarial investigation. The figures are based on employee data and the most recent actuarial assumptions and methods.

(1)	The amount of the unfunded actuarial accrued liability which will result from the bill.	$ 0
(2)	The amount of the annual amortization of the unfunded actuarial accrued liability which will result from the bill.	$ 0
(3)	The number of years that the unfunded actuarial accrued liability created by this bill would be amortized.	N/A
(4)	The amount of the annual normal cost which will result from the bill.	$ 1,247,000

(5)	The employer contribution rate currently in effect.	A portion of fines, fees, and bond forfeitures
(6)	The employer contribution rate recommended (in conformity with minimum funding standards specified in Code Section §47-20-10).	A portion of fines, fees, and bond forfeitures
(7)	The total dollar amount of the increase in the annual employer contribution which is necessary to maintain the retirement system in an actuarially sound condition.	$ 0*

This substitute bill would result in additional first-year costs of $1,247,000. However, based on the additional revenue anticipated through the substitute bill, there is a net reduction in cost for the substitute to Senate Bill 84 (LC 43 2217S). Additionally, based on the estimated revenues and payouts as outlined in the Actuarial Valuation as of June 30, 2021, and the anticipated additional revenue to be generated by the Substitute to Senate Bill 84 (LC 43 2217S), the Peace Officers' Annuity and Benefit Fund would have sufficient revenues to cover the costs of the communications officers who elect to join the Fund. The actuary estimates that the Fund would recognize a surplus of $483,000 if SB 84 (LC 43 2217S) was enacted and provided the number of new members approximates 1,400 as estimated in the actuarial investigation.*

It should be noted that any subsequent changes in the retirement bill will invalidate the actuarial investigation and the findings included therein.

Respectfully,

SB 403. By Senators Watson of the 1st, Albers of the 56th, Cowsert of the 46th, Robertson of the 29th, Kirkpatrick of the 32nd and others:

A BILL to be entitled an Act to amend Title 37 of the O.C.G.A., relating to mental health, so as to enact the "Georgia Behavioral Health and Peace Officer Co-Responder Act"; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

The Senate Committee on Health and Human Services offered the following substitute to SB 403:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Title 37 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to mental health, so as to enact the "Georgia Behavioral Health and Peace Officer Co-Responder Act"; to provide for immunity for the transport of a patient to a facility; to provide for the establishment of co-responder programs; to provide for co-responder teams composed of peace officers and behavioral health professionals; to provide for training of co-responder team members; to provide for dispatch of co-responder teams; to provide for co-responder protocol committees; to provide for support services; to provide for review of publicly available arrest and incarceration records of currently incarcerated individuals; to provide for records and data reporting; to require an annual report regarding co-responder programs; to provide that program requirements are contingent on available funding; to provide for annual budget requests; to provide for limitations on liability; to provide for statutory construction; to provide for a short title; to provide for legislative findings; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Georgia Behavioral Health and Peace Officer Co-Responder Act."

SECTION 2.

The General Assembly finds that:

(1) Demands on peace officers include responding to emergencies involving individuals with a mental or emotional illness, developmental disability, or addictive disease, without the benefit of a behavioral health specialist being present;

(2) The presence of a behavioral health specialist exponentially decreases the risk of escalation;

(3) The absence of a behavioral health specialist may result in the arrest of individuals whose conduct would be more effectively treated and stabilized in a behavioral health setting rather than a jail or prison;

(4) Law enforcement agencies throughout Georgia frequently report that jails and prisons are becoming revolving door behavioral health hospitals of last resort;

(5) Several law enforcement agencies in Georgia have established co-responder programs and formed co-responder partnerships with local community service boards. Community service boards provide support during emergency responses and provide follow-up services to help stabilize the individual in crisis and prevent relapse;

(6) Combining the expertise of peace officers and behavioral health specialists to de-escalate behavioral health crises prevents unnecessary incarceration of individuals with a mental or emotional illness, developmental disability, or addictive disease and instead links those in crisis to services that promote stability and reduce the likelihood of recurrence, decreases the costs incurred by prisons and jails to incarcerate such individuals, and increases the ability of peace officers outside of the co-responder teams to focus on serious crimes; and

(7) It is in the best interest of the state to establish the framework for a state-wide co-responder model to include emergency response co-responder teams and post-emergency behavioral health services.

SECTION 3.

Title 37 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to mental health, is amended by revising Code Section 37-3-4, relating to immunity of hospitals, physicians, peace officers, or other private or public hospital employees from liability for certain actions taken in good faith, as follows:

"37-3-4.

Any hospital or any physician, psychologist, peace officer, attorney, or health official, or any hospital official, agent, or other person employed by a private hospital or at a facility operated by the state, by a political subdivision of the state, or by a hospital authority created pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 7 of Title 31, who acts in good faith in compliance with the transport, admission, and discharge provisions of this chapter shall be immune from civil or criminal liability for his or her actions in connection with the transport of a patient to a physician or facility, the admission of a patient to a facility, or the discharge of a patient from a facility; provided, however, that nothing in this Code section shall be construed to relieve any hospital or any physician, psychologist, peace officer, attorney, or health official, or any hospital official, agent, or other person employed by a private hospital or at a facility operated by the state, by a political subdivision of the state, or by a hospital authority created pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 7 of Title 31, from liability for failing to meet the applicable standard of care in the provision of treatment to a patient."

SECTION 4.

Said title is further amended by revising Code Section 37-7-5, relating to immunity from liability for actions taken in good faith compliance with admission and discharge provisions of chapter, as follows:

"37-7-5.

Any physician, psychologist, peace officer, attorney, or health official, or any hospital official, agent, or other person employed by a private hospital or at a facility operated by the state, by a political subdivision of the state, or by a hospital authority created pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 7 of Title 31, who acts in good faith in compliance with the transport, admission, and discharge provisions of this chapter shall be immune from civil or criminal liability for his actions in connection with the transport of a patient to a physician or facility, the admission of a patient to a facility, or the discharge of a patient from a facility."

SECTION 5.

Said title is further amended by adding a new chapter to read as follows:

"CHAPTER 11

37-11-1.

As used in this chapter, the term:

(1) 'Behavioral health crisis' means any circumstance when symptoms of a person's behavioral health disorder put that person or others at risk for causing personal injury or property damage.

(2) 'Behavioral health disorder' means a mental or emotional illness, developmental disability, or addictive disease.

(3) 'Co-responder program' means a program established through a partnership between a community service board and a law enforcement agency to utilize the combined expertise of peace officers and behavioral health professionals on emergency calls involving behavioral health crises to de-escalate situations and help link individuals with behavioral health issues to appropriate services.

(4) 'Co-responder team' means a team established pursuant to a co-responder program, composed of at least one officer team member and one community service board team member.

(5) 'Communications officer' means and includes any person employed by a public safety agency to receive, process, or transmit public safety information and dispatch law enforcement officers, firefighters, medical personnel, or emergency management personnel.

(6) 'Community service board team member' means a behavioral health professional working at the direction of a community service board who is licensed or certified in this state to provide counseling services or to provide other support services to individuals and their families regarding a behavioral health disorder, and who is part of a co-responder team.

(7) 'Law enforcement agency' means a governmental unit of one or more persons employed full time or part time by the state, a state agency or department, or a political subdivision of the state for the purpose of preventing and detecting crime and enforcing state laws or local ordinances, employees of which unit are authorized to make arrests for crimes while acting within the scope of their authority.

(8) 'Officer team member' means a peace officer who is part of a co-responder team.

(9) 'Public safety agency' means the state or local entity which receives emergency calls placed through an emergency 9-1-1 system and dispatches fire-fighting, law enforcement, emergency medical, or other emergency services.

37-11-2.

(a) Each community service board shall establish a co-responder program to offer assistance or consultation to peace officers responding to emergency calls involving individuals with behavioral health crises. Law enforcement agencies within a community service board's service area may elect to partner with the community service board to establish one or more co-responder teams.

(b) When a law enforcement agency that has entered into a co-responder partnership with a community service board responds to an emergency call involving an individual with a behavioral health crisis and a co-responder team is dispatched, a community service board team member shall be available to accompany the officer team member in person or via virtual means or shall be available for consultation via telephone or telehealth during such emergency call. The officer team member may consider input from the community service board team member in determining whether to refer an individual for behavioral health treatment or other community support or to transport the individual for emergency evaluation in accordance with Code Section 37-3-42 or 37-7-42, rather than making an arrest.

(c) In the event that the officer team member transports the individual for emergency evaluation in accordance with Code Section 37-3-42 or 37-7-42, the emergency receiving facility shall notify the community service board, prior to the release of the individual whether or not the individual is admitted for treatment, for purposes of identifying and facilitating any necessary follow-up services for such individual to prevent relapse.

(d) Following an individual's behavioral health crisis, the community service board shall make available voluntary outpatient therapy to eligible individuals pursuant to Code Section 37-11-9.

(e) Transport conducted pursuant to this Code section shall occur in government-owned vehicles configured for safe transport based on the individual's condition; provided, however, that the officer team member may authorize alternative transportation by a medical transport company or otherwise if deemed safe to do so based on the individual's condition.

37-11-3.

Every county shall retain a written list available for public inspection that identifies all law enforcement agencies within such county whose routine responsibilities include responding to emergency calls. Such list shall be created no later than August 1, 2022, and shall be updated immediately when additional departments assume routine responsibility for emergency response and shall be maintained with current information.

37-11-4.

(a) Each community service board shall employ or contract with behavioral health professionals who are licensed in this state to provide counseling services, or to provide other support services to individuals and their families regarding a behavioral health disorder, and whose responsibilities include participation as a community service board team member on a co-responder team. The community service board shall designate a sufficient number of individuals to serve as community service board team members to partner with the law enforcement agencies located within the community service board's service area, with on-call availability at all times.

(b) The department shall maintain a current, written list of emergency receiving facilities within each community service board area where an individual experiencing a behavioral health crisis may be transported by or at the direction of an officer or team member. The written list shall be maintained by each community service board and provided to each law enforcement agency.

37-11-5.
(a) A law enforcement agency that has entered into a co-responder partnership with a community service board shall designate one or more peace officers to participate as officer team members in a co-responder team.
(b) A law enforcement agency that has not entered into a co-responder partnership with a community service board shall designate one peace officer to serve as the primary point of contact with the community service board.
(c) A law enforcement agency shall designate a peace officer who shall serve on the co-responder protocol committee.

37-11-6.
(a) Officer team members may elect to receive crisis intervention team training as approved by the Georgia Police Officer Standards and Training Council.
(b) All communications officers and other employees of public safety agencies who make dispatch decisions shall receive educational training about identifying emergency calls involving individuals in a behavioral health crisis and dispatching appropriate response units.
(c) Community service board team members shall receive training on the operations, policies, and procedures of the law enforcement agencies with which they partner.
(d) All training undertaken in accordance with this Code section shall be provided at the expense of the department and at no expense to any law enforcement agency, public safety agency, or community service board.

37-11-7.
When an emergency call involving an individual's behavioral health crisis is received by a communications officer or public safety agency, and a civilian-only response team is not appropriate or available, the communications officer shall notify the co-responder team in the jurisdiction where the emergency is located, if practicable, regardless of whether other peace officers are also dispatched. The co-responder team will work collaboratively to de-escalate the situation; provided, however, that all final decisions shall be made by the officer team member or his or her superiors.

37-11-8.
Each community service board shall establish a co-responder protocol committee for its service area which shall work to increase the availability, efficiency, and effectiveness of community response to behavioral health crises. The protocol committee shall address best practices for issues which arise during the operation of co-responder teams. Such issues include, but shall not be limited to, data collection, privacy protection, interagency coordination, intragovernmental coordination, available treatment modalities, data sharing and analysis, training, and community outreach. Implemented best practices should increase public safety in the service area, improve outcomes for individuals experiencing mental health crises, and enhance cooperation between law enforcement and behavioral health specialists.

37-11-9.

When a co-responder team responds to a behavioral health crisis, the community service board of the service area where the crisis occurred shall contact the individual within two business days following the crisis, regardless of whether that individual was incarcerated. If the individual resides in a different community service board area, the case shall be transferred to the appropriate community service board. The community service board handling the case shall work to identify the types of services needed to support the individual's stability and to locate affordable sources for those services, including housing and job placement. If the individual was incarcerated, the community service board may make recommendations for inclusion in a jail release plan. Following the behavioral health crisis, the community service board shall provide voluntary outpatient therapy as needed.

(a) Community service board team members may review publicly available arrest and incarceration records and may request access to evaluate currently incarcerated individuals for the purpose of identifying individuals who may be treated more effectively within the behavioral health system rather than the criminal justice system. If such individuals are identified, the community service board team member shall provide a written recommendation to the appropriate law enforcement agency and jail or prison operator for consideration. The law enforcement agency and jail or prison operator shall provide community service board team members with access to requested nonrestricted records and shall grant access to such records at mutually convenient times, for the purpose of facilitating the community service board team member's analysis.

(b) The department shall establish a referral system, by which any law enforcement agency may request behavioral health consultation for an individual who is currently incarcerated, or frequently incarcerated, who it believes may be treated more effectively within the behavioral health system rather than the criminal justice system. The department shall assign the case to the appropriate community service board for evaluation and any appropriate treatment to be provided or facilitated by the community service board.

(a) Each community service board shall compile and maintain records of the services provided by co-responder teams and community service board team members, which shall include community follow-ups and actions taken on behalf of incarcerated individuals together with reasonably available outcome data. Community service boards shall report data to the department in a form developed cooperatively by the community service boards.

(b) No later than January 31, 2024, and annually thereafter, the department shall issue a written annual report regarding the co-responder program, which shall include statistics derived from all sources, including community service board documentation and reports. Data shall be presented per community service board, where available, and cumulatively. Such report shall be posted in a prominent location on the department's website.

(a) The requirements contained in this chapter shall be contingent upon the appropriation of funds by the General Assembly or the availability of other funds.

(b) No later than July 15, 2023, and annually thereafter, the department shall submit to the board proposed budgets for co-responder programs for each community service board. The proposed budget for each community service board shall be based on each community service board's operational analysis and shall include the salaries of an adequate number of staff dedicated to the responsibilities of the co-responder program and shall delineate unique factors existing in the area served, such as the population and demographics.

(c) In the event that full funding or staffing is not obtained by a community service board, such board may work collaboratively with other entities, including but not limited to the Georgia Association of Community Service Boards, to identify and apply for potential sources of additional funding, identify and pursue additional recruiting options, and identify the elements of the co-responder program that will be implemented given the resources available, until full resources are obtained.

(d) The department may pursue funding for purposes of implementing the co-responder program pursuant to this chapter, including without limitation from block grants, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration; the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act of 2020, P.L. 116-136; the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, P.L. 117-2; and other grants.

Any peace officer, law enforcement agency, community service board, community service board team member, public safety agency, communications officer, or any employee or contractor thereof, who acts in good faith in compliance with the provisions of this chapter shall be immune from civil or criminal liability for his or her actions in connection with a decision to dispatch or not dispatch a co-responder team, to incarcerate an individual, to transport an individual to an emergency receiving facility, or not take an individual into custody.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as creating an exclusive method for a law enforcement agency to establish emergency response teams combining peace officers and behavioral health specialists."

(b) Such meetings shall be open to the public to the extent required by law and notice to the public of emergency meetings shall be made as fully as is reasonably possible in accordance with Code Section 50-14-1 of the O.C.G.A. or such other applicable laws as are or may hereafter be enacted.

In the event an elected officer is sought to be removed by the action of the city council, such officer shall be entitled to a written notice specifying the ground or grounds for removal and to a public hearing which shall be held not less than ten days after the service of such written notice. The city council shall provide by ordinance for the manner in which such hearings shall be held. Any elected officer sought to be removed from office as provided in this section shall have the right of appeal from the decision of the city council to the Superior Court of Cobb County. Such appeal shall be governed by the same rules as govern appeals to the superior court from the probate court; or

(2) By an order of the Superior Court of Cobb County following a hearing on a complaint seeking such removal brought by any resident of the City of Lost Mountain.

(a) The city council shall have the power to grant franchises for the use of this city's streets and alleys for the purposes of railroads, street railways, telephone companies, electric companies, electric membership corporations, cable television and other telecommunications companies, gas companies, transportation companies, and other similar organizations. SECTION 6.16.
Special assessments.

The city council by ordinance shall have the power to assess and collect the cost of constructing, reconstructing, widening, or improving any public way, street, sidewalk, curbing, gutters, sewers, or other utility mains and appurtenances from the abutting property owners. If unpaid, such charges shall be collected as provided in Section 6.18 of this charter.

SECTION 6.17.
Construction; other taxes.

This city shall be empowered to levy any other tax or fee allowed now or hereafter by law, and the specific mention of any right, power, or authority in this article shall not be construed as limiting in any way the general powers of this city to govern its local affairs.

SECTION 6.18.
Collection of delinquent taxes and fees.

The city council by ordinance may provide generally for the collection of delinquent taxes, fees, or other revenue due the city under Sections 6.10 through 6.17 of this charter by whatever reasonable means as are not precluded by law. This shall include providing for the dates when the taxes or fees are due; late penalties or interest; issuance and execution of fi. fas.; creation and priority of liens; making delinquent taxes and fees personal debts of the persons required to pay the taxes or fees imposed; revoking city permits for failure to pay any city taxes or fees; and providing for the assignment or transfer of tax executions.

SECTION 6.19.
General obligation bonds.

The city council shall have the power to issue bonds for the purpose of raising revenue to carry out any project, program, or venture authorized under this charter or the laws of the state. Such bonding authority shall be exercised in accordance with the laws governing bond issuance by municipalities in effect at the time said issue is undertaken, provided that no general obligation bonds shall be issued by the city unless the issuance of such specific bond series is approved by the voters of the city at a referendum called for approval of such issuance.

SECTION 6.20.
Revenue bonds.

Revenue bonds may be issued by the city council as state law now or hereafter provides. Such bonds are to be paid out of any revenue produced by the project, program, or venture for which they were issued.

SECTION 6.21.
Short-term loans.

The city may obtain short-term loans and must repay such loans not later than December 31 of each year, unless otherwise provided by law.

SECTION 6.22.
Lease-purchase contracts.

The city may enter into multiyear lease, purchase, or lease-purchase contracts for the acquisition of goods, materials, real and personal property, services, and supplies, provided the contract terminates without further obligation on the part of the municipality at the close of the calendar year in which it was executed and at the close of each succeeding calendar year for which it may be renewed. Contracts must be executed in accordance with the requirements of Code Section 36-60-13 of the O.C.G.A., or other such applicable laws as are or may hereafter be enacted.

SECTION 6.23.

SECTION 6.24.

The city council shall provide an ordinance on the procedures and requirements for the preparation and execution of an annual operating budget, a capital improvement plan, and a capital budget, including requirements as to the scope, content, and form of such budgets and plans. The city council shall also comply with the budgeting and auditing provisions of Chapter 81 of Title 36 of the O.C.G.A.

SECTION 6.25.

The budget shall be accompanied by a message from the city manager containing a statement of the general fiscal policies of the city, the important features of the budget, explanations of major changes recommended for the next fiscal year, a general summary of the budget, and other pertinent comments and information. The operating budget and the capital budget provided for in Section 6.29 of this charter, the budget message, and all supporting documents shall be filed in the office of the city clerk and shall be open to public inspection.

SECTION 6.26.
Action by city council on budget.

(a) The councilmembers may amend the operating budget proposed by the city manager, except that the budget as finally amended and adopted must provide for all expenditures required by state law or by other provisions of this charter and for all debt service requirements for the ensuing fiscal year. The total appropriations from any fund shall not exceed the estimated fund balance, reserves, and revenues.
(b) The city council by ordinance shall adopt the final operating budget for the ensuing fiscal year not later than December 15 of each year. If the city council fails to adopt the budget by said date, the amounts appropriated for operation for the then current fiscal year shall be deemed adopted for the ensuing fiscal year on a month-to-month basis, with all items prorated accordingly, until such time as the city council adopts a budget for the ensuing fiscal year. Adoption of the budget shall take the form of an appropriations ordinance setting out the estimated revenues in detail by sources and making appropriations according to fund and by organizational unit, purpose, or activity as set out in the budget preparation ordinance adopted pursuant to Section 6.24 of this charter.
(c) The amount set out in the adopted operating budget for each organizational unit shall constitute the annual appropriation for such, and no expenditure shall be made or encumbrance created in excess of the otherwise unencumbered balance of the appropriations or allotment thereof to which it is chargeable.

SECTION 6.27.
Levy of taxes.

The city council shall levy by ordinance such taxes as are necessary. The taxes and tax rates set by such ordinance shall be such that reasonable estimates of revenues from such levy shall at least be sufficient, together with other anticipated revenues, fund balances, and applicable reserves, to equal the total amount appropriated for each of the several funds set forth in the annual operating budget for defraying the expenses of the general government of this city.

SECTION 6.28.
Changes in appropriations.

The city council by ordinance may make changes in the appropriations contained in the current operating budget at any regular meeting or special or emergency meeting called for such purpose, but any additional appropriations may be made only from an existing unexpended surplus.

SECTION 6.29.
Capital improvements.

(a) On or before the date fixed by the city council, but not later than 60 days prior to the beginning of each fiscal year, the city manager shall submit to the city council a proposed capital improvements plan with a recommended capital budget containing the means of financing the improvements proposed for the ensuing fiscal year. The city council shall have power to accept, with or without amendments, or reject the proposed plan and budget. The city council shall not authorize an expenditure for the construction of any building, structure, work, or improvement unless the appropriations for such project are included in the capital budget, except to meet a public emergency as provided in Section 2.23 of this charter.

(b) The city council shall adopt by ordinance the final capital budget for the ensuing fiscal year not later than December 15 of each year. No appropriation provided for in a prior capital budget shall lapse until the purpose for which the appropriation was made shall have been accomplished or abandoned; provided, however, that the city manager may submit amendments to the capital budget at any time during the fiscal year, accompanied by recommendations. Any such amendments to the capital budget shall become effective only upon adoption by ordinance.

SECTION 6.30.
Audits.

There shall be an annual independent audit of all city accounts, funds, and financial transactions by a certified public accountant selected by the city council. The audit shall be conducted according to generally accepted auditing principles. Any audit of any funds by the state or federal governments may be accepted as satisfying the requirements of this charter. Copies of annual audit reports shall be available at printing costs to the public.

SECTION 6.31.
Procurement and property management.

No contract with the city shall be binding on the city unless:

(1) It is in writing;

(2) It is drawn by or submitted and reviewed by the city attorney and, as a matter of course, is signed by the city attorney to indicate such drafting or review; and

(3) It is made or authorized by the city council and such approval is entered in the city council journal of proceedings pursuant to Section 2.19 of this charter.

SECTION 6.32.

The city council shall by ordinance prescribe procedures for a system of centralized purchasing for the city.

SECTION 6.33.
Sale and lease of property.

(a) The city council may sell and convey or lease any real or personal property owned or held by the city for governmental or other purposes as now or hereafter provided by law.

(b) The city council may quitclaim any rights it may have in property not needed for public purposes upon report by the city manager and adoption of a resolution, both finding that the property is not needed for public or other purposes and that the interest of the city has no readily ascertainable monetary value.

(c) Whenever in opening, extending, or widening any street, avenue, alley, or public place of the city a small parcel or tract of land is cut off or separated by such work from a larger tract or boundary of land owned by the city, the city council may authorize the mayor to sell and convey said cut-off or separated parcel or tract of land to an abutting or adjoining property owner or owners where such sale and conveyance facilitates the highest and best use of the abutting owner's property. Included in the sales contract shall be a provision for the rights of way of said street, avenue, alley, or public place. Each abutting property owner shall be notified of the availability of the property and given the opportunity to purchase said property under such terms and conditions as set out by ordinance. All deeds and conveyances heretofore and hereafter so executed and delivered shall convey all title and interest the city has in such property, notwithstanding the fact that no public sale after advertisement was or is hereafter made.

SECTION 6.34.
Apportionment of revenue.

Except as otherwise agreed pursuant to Chapter 70 of Title 36 of the O.C.G.A., the city is authorized to pay all revenues collected by Cobb County on behalf of the city to the county in exchange for continuation of services during the transition period provided in Section 8.11 of this charter and beyond, with the exception of the following revenues, which shall stay with the city:

(1) New revenues from utility franchise fees;

(2) Fines collected in municipal court; and

(3) Revenues generated from any additional millage above the millage rate imposed in the county special service district.

(a) Section captions in this charter are informative only and are not to be considered as a part thereof.

(b) The word "shall" is mandatory and the word "may" is permissive.

(c) The singular shall include the plural, the masculine shall include the feminine, and vice versa.

ARTICLE VIII.
REFERENDUM AND INITIAL ELECTIONS

SECTION 8.10.
Referendum and initial election.

(a) The election superintendent of Cobb County shall call a special election for the purpose of submitting this Act to the qualified voters of the proposed City of Lost Mountain for approval or rejection. The superintendent shall set the date of such election for the date of the 2022 general primary. The superintendent shall issue the call for such election at least 30 days prior to the date thereof. The superintendent shall cause the date and purpose of the election to be published once a week for two weeks immediately preceding the date thereof in the official organ of Cobb County. The ballot shall have written or printed thereon the words:

"( ) YES Shall the Act incorporating the City of Lost Mountain in Cobb County
( ) NO according to the charter contained in the Act be approved?"

All persons desiring to vote for approval of the Act shall vote "Yes," and those persons desiring to vote for rejection of the Act shall vote "No." If more than one-half of the votes cast on such question are for approval of the Act, it shall become of full force and effect as provided in Section 8.11 of this charter, otherwise it shall be void and of no force and effect.

The initial expense of such election shall be borne by Cobb County. Within two years after the elections if the incorporation is approved, the City of Lost Mountain shall reimburse Cobb County for the actual cost of printing and personnel services for such election and for the initial election of the councilmembers pursuant to this charter. It shall be the duty of the superintendent to hold and conduct such election. It shall be his or her further duty to certify the result thereof to the Secretary of State.

(b) For the purposes of the referendum election provided for in subsection (a) of this section and for the purposes of the special election of the City of Lost Mountain to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 2022, the qualified electors of the City of Lost Mountain shall be those qualified electors of Cobb County residing within the corporate limits of the City of Lost Mountain as described by Appendix A of this charter. At subsequent municipal elections, the qualified electors of the City of Lost Mountain shall be determined pursuant to the authority of Chapter 2 of Title 21 of the O.C.G.A. known as the "Georgia Election Code."

(c) Only for the purposes of holding and conducting the referendum election provided for in subsection (a) of this section and holding the special election of the City of Lost Mountain to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 2022, the election superintendent of Cobb County is vested with the powers and duties of the election superintendent of the City of Lost Mountain and the powers and duties of the governing authority of the City of Lost Mountain.

SECTION 8.11.
Effective dates and transition.

(a) The provisions of this Act necessary for the referendum election provided for in Section 8.10 of this charter shall become effective immediately upon this Act's approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

(b) Those provisions of this Act necessary for the special election provided for in Section 8.13 of this charter shall be effective upon the certification of the results of the referendum election provided for by Section 8.10 of this charter if this Act is approved at such referendum election.

(c) Except as provided in Section 8.10 of this charter, the remaining provisions of this Act shall become of full force and effect for all purposes at 12:00 Midnight on January 1, 2023, except that the initial councilmembers shall take office immediately following their election and by action of a quorum may prior to 12:00 Midnight on January 1, 2023, meet and take actions binding on the city.

(d) A period of time will be needed for an orderly transition of various government functions from Cobb County to the City of Lost Mountain. Accordingly there shall be a transition period beginning on the date the initial mayor and councilmembers take office under this charter, and ending at 12:00 Midnight on December 31, 2024. During such transition period, all provisions of this charter shall be effective as law, but not all provisions of this charter shall be implemented.

(e) During such transition period, Cobb County shall continue to provide within the territorial limits of the city all government services and functions which Cobb County provided in that area during the years 2021 and 2022 and at the same actual cost, except to the extent otherwise provided in this section; provided, however, that upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to Cobb County by the City of Lost Mountain, responsibility for any such service or function shall be transferred to the City of Lost Mountain. During the transition period, the city shall remain within the Cobb County special services district, but shall be removed from such district at the conclusion of such period. Beginning July 1, 2023, the City of Lost Mountain shall collect taxes, fees, assessments, fines and forfeitures, and other moneys within the territorial limits of the city in the same manner as authorized immediately prior to the effective date of this section; provided, however, that upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to Cobb County by the City of Lost Mountain, the authority to collect any tax, fee, assessment, fine or forfeiture, or other moneys shall remain with Cobb County after July 1, 2023, until such time as Cobb County receives subsequent notice from the City of Lost Mountain that such authority shall be transferred to the City of Lost Mountain.

(f) During the transition period, the governing authority of the City of Lost Mountain:

(1) Shall hold regular meetings and may hold special meetings as provided in this charter;

(2) May enact ordinances and resolutions as provided in this charter;

(3) May amend this charter by home rule action as provided by general law;

(4) May accept gifts and grants;

(5) May borrow money and incur indebtedness to the extent authorized by this charter and general law;

(6) May levy and collect an ad valorem tax for calendar years 2023 and 2024;

(7) May establish a fiscal year and budget;

(8) May create, alter, or abolish departments, boards, offices, commissions, and agencies of the city; appoint and remove officers and employees; and exercise all necessary or appropriate personnel and management functions; and

(9) May generally exercise any power granted by this charter or general law, except to the extent that a power is specifically and integrally related to the provision of a governmental service, function, or responsibility not yet provided or carried out by the city.

(g) Except as otherwise provided in this section, during the transition period, the Municipal Court of the City of Lost Mountain shall not exercise its jurisdiction. During the transition period, all ordinances of Cobb County shall remain applicable within the territorial limits of the city and the appropriate court or courts of Cobb County shall retain jurisdiction to enforce such ordinances. However, by mutual agreement and concurrent resolutions and ordinances if needed Cobb County and the City of Lost Mountain may during the transition period transfer all or part of such regulatory authority and the appropriate court jurisdiction to the City of Lost Mountain. Any transfer of jurisdiction to the City of Lost Mountain during or at the end of the transition period shall not in and of itself abate any judicial proceeding pending in Cobb County or the pending prosecution of any violation of any ordinance of Cobb County.

(h) During the transition period, the governing authority of the City of Lost Mountain may at any time, without the necessity of any agreement by Cobb County, commence to exercise its planning and zoning powers; provided, however, that the city shall give the county notice of the date on which the city will assume the exercise of such powers. Upon the governing authority of the City of Lost Mountain commencing to exercise its planning and zoning powers, the Municipal Court of the City of Lost Mountain shall immediately have jurisdiction to enforce the planning and zoning ordinances of the city. Effective upon the certification of the results of the referendum election provided for by Section 8.10 of this charter, Cobb County shall not alter, amend, change, modify, or rezone the zoning or land use classification of, or issue any special use permit for, any property located within the territory of the City of Lost Mountain. Any amendment made by Cobb County to its zoning ordinance after the certification of the results of the referendum election provided for by Section 8.10 of this charter shall not apply to any property located within the territory of the City of Lost Mountain, and all such property shall be governed by the zoning ordinance and land use plan of Cobb County in place on the day the results of such referendum are certified until so amended or changed by the governing authority of the City of Lost Mountain. The provisions of this subsection shall control over any conflicting provisions of any other subsection of this section.

(i) Effective upon the termination of the transition period, subsections (b) through (h) of this section shall cease to apply except for the last sentence of subsection (g) which shall remain effective. Effective upon the termination of the transition period, the City of Lost Mountain shall be a full functioning municipal corporation and subject to all general laws of this state.

SECTION 8.12.
Directory nature of dates.

It is the intention of the General Assembly that this Act be construed as directory rather than mandatory with respect to any date prescribed in this Act. If it is necessary to delay any action called for in this Act for providential cause or any other reason, it is the intention of the General Assembly that the action be delayed rather than abandoned. Any delay in performing any action under this Act, whether for cause or otherwise, shall not operate to frustrate the overall intent of this Act. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing it is specifically provided that:

(1) If it is not possible to hold the referendum election provided for in Section 8.10 of this charter on the date specified in that section, then such referendum shall be held as soon thereafter as is reasonably practicable; and

(2) If it is not possible to hold the first election provided for in Section 8.13 of this charter on the date specified in that section, then there shall be a special election for the initial members of the governing authority to be held as soon thereafter as is reasonably practicable, and the commencement of the initial terms of office shall be delayed accordingly.

SECTION 8.13.
Special election.

(a) The first election for councilmembers shall be a special election held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 2022. At such election, the first councilmembers shall be elected to serve for the initial terms of office specified in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. Thereafter, the time for holding regular municipal elections shall be on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November of each odd-numbered year beginning in 2025. The successors to the first mayor and initial councilmembers and future successors shall take office at the first organizational meeting in January immediately following their election and shall serve for terms of four years and until their respective successors are elected and qualified.

(b) The initial councilmembers elected from Post 2, Post 4, and Post 6 shall serve a term of office ending on December 31, 2025, and until their respective successors are elected and qualified. The initial councilmembers elected from Post 1, Post 3, and Post 5 shall serve a term of office ending on December 31, 2027, and until their respective successors are elected and qualified. Thereafter, successors to such initial councilmembers shall serve four-year terms of office and until their respective successors are elected and qualified.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Part 5 of Article 16 of Chapter 2 of Title 20 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to review of removal of students in elementary and secondary education, so as to provide for the protection of the fundamental right of parents to direct the upbringing and education of their minor children from undue infringement by a state or local government entity, local board of education or other governing body, or any officer, employee, or agent thereof; to provide for a short title; to provide for legislative findings; to provide for definitions; to require school and school system governing bodies to adopt policies or regulations that promote parental involvement in public schools; to provide for policy or regulation requirements; to provide for a process by which parents shall have access to certain information; to provide for appeals; to provide for construction; to prohibit certain waivers; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Part 5 of Article 16 of Chapter 2 of Title 20 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to review of removal of students in elementary and secondary education, is amended by adding a new Code section to read as follows:

"20-2-786.

(a) This Code section shall be known and may be cited as the 'Parents' Bill of Rights.'

(b) The General Assembly finds that it is a fundamental right of parents to direct the upbringing and education of their minor children. The General Assembly further finds that important information relating to a minor child should not be withheld, either inadvertently or purposefully, from his or her parent, including information relating to the minor child's education.

(c) As used in this Code section, the term:

(1) 'Governing body' shall have the same meaning as provided in subsection (a) of Code Section 20-2-167.1.

(2) 'Instructional material' means instructional materials and content, as defined by the State Board of Education pursuant to Code Section 20-2-1010, and locally approved instructional materials and content, as defined in subsection (a) of Code Section 20-2-1017.

(3) 'Minor child' means a person who is less than 18 years of age and who has not been emancipated by operation of law or by court order pursuant to Code Section 15-11-727 or as otherwise provided by law.

(4) 'Parent' means a person who has legal authority to act on behalf of a minor child as a natural or adoptive parent or a legal guardian.

(5) 'Review period' means the first two weeks of each nine-week grading period of the school year; provided, however, that for schools that do not implement nine-week grading periods, the term 'review period' means the first two weeks of each grading period of the school year.

(d) No state or local government entity, governing body, or any officer, employee, or agent thereof may infringe on the fundamental right of a parent to direct the upbringing and education of his or her minor child without demonstrating that such action is reasonable and necessary to achieve a compelling state interest and that such action is narrowly tailored and is not otherwise served by less restrictive means.

(e)(1) All parental rights are reserved to the parent of a minor child in this state without obstruction or interference from a state or local government entity, governing body, or any officer, employee, or agent thereof, including, but not limited to:

(A) The right to direct the upbringing and the moral or religious training of his or her minor child;

(B) The right to review all instructional materials intended for use in the classroom of his or her minor child;

(C) The right to apply to enroll his or her minor child in a public school or, as an alternative to public education, a private school, including a religious school, a home study program, or other available options, as authorized by law and subject to applicable enrollment requirements;

(D) The right to access and review all records relating to his or her minor child, including, but not limited to, current grade reports and attendance records, unless otherwise prohibited by law;

(E) The right to access information relating to promotion and retention policies and high school graduation requirements;

(F) The right to provide written notice that photographs or video or voice recordings of his or her child are not permitted, subject to applicable public safety and security exceptions; and

(G)(i) The right to request, in writing, from the local school superintendent or school principal the information provided for in this Code section. The local school superintendent or school principal shall produce such information for inspection within a reasonable amount of time not to exceed three business days of receipt of a request. In those instances where some, but not all, information requested is available for inspection within three business days, the local school superintendent or school principal shall make available within that period such information that is available for inspection. In any instance where some or all of such information is unavailable within three business days of receipt of the request, and such information exists, the local school superintendent or school principal shall, within such time period, provide the requester with a description of such information and a timeline for when the information will be available for inspection and shall provide the information or access thereto as soon as practicable but in no case later than 30 days of receipt of the request.

(ii) If the local school superintendent or school principal denies a parent's request for information or does not provide existing responsive information within 30 days, the parent may appeal such denial or failure to respond to the governing body. The governing body must place such appeal on the agenda for its next public meeting. If it is too late for such appeal to appear on the next meeting's agenda, the appeal must be included on the agenda for the subsequent meeting.

(iii) A parent aggrieved by the decision of the governing body may appeal such decision to the State Board of Education as provided in subsection (b) of Code Section 20-2-1160.

(2) Unless such rights have been waived or terminated as provided by law, parents have inalienable rights that are more comprehensive than those listed in paragraph (1) of this subsection. This Code section does not prescribe all rights of parents. Unless otherwise required by law, the rights of a parent of a minor child shall not be limited or denied.

(f) Each governing body shall, in consultation with parents, teachers, and administrators, develop and adopt a policy or regulation to promote parental involvement in the public schools. Such policy or regulation shall be posted on each governing body's public website, and a copy of such policy or regulation shall be available for review on site upon request by a parent. If such instructional materials are not made available by a school or local school system for review online, then they shall be made available for review on site upon a parent's request made during the review period.

(B) Procedures for a parent to object to instructional materials intended for use in his or her minor child's classroom or recommended by his or her minor child's teacher;

(3) Procedures for a parent to withdraw his or her minor child from the school's prescribed course of study in sex education if the parent provides a written objection to his or her minor child's participation. Such procedures must provide for a parent to be notified in advance of such course content so that he or she may withdraw his or her minor child from the course; and

(4) Procedures for a parent to provide written notice that photographs or video or voice recordings of his or her child are not permitted, subject to applicable public safety and security exceptions.

(g) This Code section does not and shall not be construed to:

(1) Authorize a parent of a minor child in this state to engage in conduct that is unlawful or to abuse or neglect his or her minor child in violation of the law;

(2) Prohibit a judge or officer of a court of competent jurisdiction, law enforcement officer, or any agent of a state or local government entity that is responsible for child welfare from acting in his or her official capacity within the reasonable and prudent scope of his or her authority;

(3) Prohibit a court of competent jurisdiction from issuing an order that is otherwise permitted by law; or

(4) Apply to a parental action or decision that would end life.

(h) This Code section shall not be subject to waiver pursuant to Code Section 20-2-82 for a strategic waivers school system, Code Section 20-2-2063.2 for a charter system, Code Section 20-2-2065 for a charter school, or Code Section 20-2-244."

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend an Act creating the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County, approved March 25, 1958 (Ga. L. 1958, p. 3288), as amended, particularly by an Act approved April 4, 2012 (Ga. BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

An Act creating the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County, approved March 25, 1958 (Ga. L. 1958, p. 3288), as amended, particularly by an Act approved April 4, 2012 (Ga. L. 2012, p. 4672), is amended in subsection (a) of Section 1A by revising paragraphs (3) through (6) and repealing paragraph (7) as follows:

"(3) For the purpose of electing members of the board of commissioners, Jeff Davis County shall be divided into five commissioner districts. One member of the board shall be elected from each such district by majority vote of the qualified voters residing within such commissioner district. The five commissioner districts shall be and correspond to those five numbered districts described in Appendix A attached to and made a part of this Act and further identified as 'User: Jeff Davis Co. Plan Name: JeffDavisCCSB-2022 Plan Type: Local'.

(4) For the purposes of such plan:

(A) The term 'VTD' shall mean and describe the same geographical boundaries as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia. The separate numeric designations in a district description which are underneath a VTD heading shall mean and describe individual Blocks within a VTD as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia; and

(B) Except as otherwise provided in the description of any district, whenever the description of any district refers to a named city, it shall mean the geographical boundaries of that city as shown on the census maps for the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia.

(5) Any part of Jeff Davis County which is not included in any district described in paragraph (3) of subsection (a) of this section shall be included within that district contiguous to such part which contains the least population according to the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia.

(6) Any part of Jeff Davis County which is described in subsection (a) of this section as being included in a particular district shall nevertheless not be included within such district if such part is not contiguous to such district. Such noncontiguous part shall instead be included within that district contiguous to such part which contains the least population according to the United States decennial census of 2020 for the State of Georgia."

SECTION 2.

(a) Those members of the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County who are serving as such on the effective date of this Act and any person selected to fill a vacancy in any such office shall continue to serve as such members until the regular expiration of their respective terms of office and upon the election and qualification of their respective successors.

(b) Commissioner Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, as they exist immediately prior to the effective date of this Act, shall continue to be designated as Commissioner Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, respectively, but as newly described under this Act, and on and after the effective date of this Act, such members of the board serving from those former commissioner districts shall be deemed to be serving from and representing their respective districts as newly described under this Act.

(B) When there is sufficient evidence to establish the cause and manner of death, even though the medical examiner's inquiry revealed that death resulted from foul play;

(D) When upon the completion of the medical examiner's inquiry the medical examiner and peace officer in charge are sufficiently satisfied that death resulted from natural causes, and that medical examiner or coroner is willing to and does sign and file a proper death certificate, and no demand for an inquest is made within 30 days thereafter;

(D.1) In cases of deaths resulting from an accident involving any civil aircraft, it shall be the responsibility of the peace officer in charge to notify the National Transportation Safety Board or the Federal Aviation Administration of such accident, to proceed to the scene and guard the area in such manner that no bodies, wreckage, cargo, or mail shall be moved or disturbed until authorized by a representative of the National Transportation Safety Board or the Federal Aviation Administration except to the extent necessary to remove individuals injured or trapped, to protect the wreckage from further damage, or to protect the public from injury. (F) In cases of deaths of personnel in the armed forces of the United States government resulting from airplane disasters involving airplanes of the armed forces, including crashes or explosions, which deaths shall not come under the jurisdiction of the coroner. It shall be the responsibility of the peace officer in charge to notify the proper armed forces of the United States government immediately of such airplane crashes or explosions in order that they may send their trained forces to the scene for investigation. It shall be the duty of the peace officer in charge, when notified of such crashes or explosions, to proceed to the scene and guard the area in such manner that no bodies or parts of said airplanes shall be moved or disturbed until the arrival of proper investigating officers from the armed forces of the United States government;

(2) When an inmate of a state hospital or a state, county, or city penal institution dies unexpectedly without an attending physician or as a result of violence. The chief medical examiner or his or her designee, regional medical examiner, or local medical examiner shall perform all medical examiners' inquiries. The coroner, in those counties in which such office has not been replaced by a local medical examiner, shall hold an inquest after receiving the written reports as set forth in Code Section 45-16-32;

(3) When ordered by a court in connection with a medical examiner's inquiry ordered by that court pursuant to subsection (c) of Code Section 45-16-24; or

(4) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this subsection, no individual shall be deemed to have died unattended by a physician when the death occurred while he or she was a patient of a hospice licensed under Article 9 of Chapter 7 of Title 31."

The General Assembly finds that:

(1) There is an opioid epidemic occurring in the United States, and the State of Georgia has been greatly impacted;

(2) State-wide coordination surrounding and managing opioid addiction and related disorders is critical to the health and safety of all Georgians;

(3) Funding is needed in the state for, among other things, prevention and treatment of opioid addiction and related disorders; providing resources to law enforcement agencies to address the opioid crisis; increasing the number of professionals who provide treatment for opioid addiction; educating medical professionals regarding the safe and effective prescribing of, and then tapering off of, opioids; and treatment and prevention of opioid use disorder in incarcerated populations;

(4) It is imperative that the state receive the full amount of any opioid settlement, and in order to do so, the state must be able to release claims for all state and local public bodies and instrumentalities in the state; and

(5) While local governments generally have the authority to pursue and litigate claims against businesses and individuals to protect their own interests, in certain limited circumstances involving particular industries, the interests of the state as a whole are best served by having a unified settlement structure that benefits both the state and its local governments and brings full and complete closure to the claims that were asserted or could have been asserted and maximizes the state and local governments' potential recovery to address this extraordinary crisis.

(a) As used in this chapter, the term:

(1) 'Governmental entity' means:

(A) This state and each of its departments, agencies, divisions, boards, commissions,

(A) Are entered into by this state through the Attorney General with opioid manufacturers, distributors, retailers, labelers, marketers, pharmacies, or other entities concerning the use or prescription of opioid products;

(B) Relate to illegal or tortious conduct in the manufacturing, marketing, promotion, sale, distribution, or dispensing of opioids;

(C) Are entered into by the State on or after March 31, 2021;

(D) Provide a mechanism which permits governmental entities to join into such settlement agreement; and

(E) Are the subject of a memorandum of understanding or similar agreement entered into by both the Attorney General and at least 65 percent of the governmental entities which have active and pending litigation against one or more released entities identified in the settlement agreement as of the date when governmental entities are first permitted to join such settlement agreement.

10-13B-3.

(a) Entry into a state-wide opioid settlement agreement shall serve to bar any and all past, present or future claims on behalf of any governmental entity seeking to recover against any business or person that is a released entity under the terms of the relevant settlement. Such bar shall apply to any and all released claims or suits by any governmental entity created by or pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly, the Constitution, or any department, agency, or authority thereof, for damages, abatement, injunctive or any other relief. No such claim barred by this Code section shall be brought, threatened, asserted or pursued in any way in any court, and any such claim shall be dismissed by the court in which the claim is brought.

(b) The bar provided for in subsection (a) of this Code section shall not apply to a bellwether claim of any governmental entity, provided that such claim:

If no such assertion of value was submitted by the taxpayer,~~ the appeal shall be forwarded to the county board of equalization.

(B) In any county in which the number of appeals exceeds a number equal to or greater than 3 percent of the total number of parcels in the county or the sum of the current assessed value of the parcels under appeal is equal to or greater than 3 percent of the gross tax digest of the county, the county board of tax assessors may be granted an additional 180 day period to make its determination and notify the taxpayer. However, as a condition to receiving such an extension, the county board of tax assessors shall, at least 30 days before the expiration of the ~~180~~ 90 day period provided under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, notify each affected taxpayer of the additional 180 day review period provided in this subparagraph by mail or electronic communication, including posting notice on the website of the county board of tax assessors if such a website is available. Such additional period shall commence immediately following the last day of the ~~180~~ 90 days provided for under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph. If the county board of tax assessors fails to review the appeal and notify the taxpayer of either no changes or of any corrections or changes not later than the last day of such additional 180 day period, then the most recent property tax valuation asserted by the taxpayer on the property tax return or on appeal shall prevail and shall be deemed the value established on such appeal unless a time extension is granted under subparagraph (C) of this paragraph. If no such assertion of value was submitted by the taxpayer, the appeal shall be forwarded to the county board of equalization.

(C) Upon a sufficient showing of good cause by reason of unforeseen circumstances proven to the commissioner at least 30 days prior to the expiration of the additional 180 day period provided for under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, the commissioner shall be authorized, in the commissioner's sole discretion, to provide for a time extension beyond the end of such additional 180 day period. The duration of any such time extension shall be specified in writing by the commissioner and, at least 30 days prior to the expiration of the extension provided for under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, shall be sent to each affected taxpayer and shall also be posted on the website of the county board of tax assessors if such a website is available. If the county board of tax assessors fails to make its review and notify the taxpayer and the taxpayer's attorney not later than 30 days before the last day of such time extension, the most recent property tax valuation asserted by the taxpayer on the property tax return or on the taxpayer's notice of appeal shall prevail and shall be deemed the value established on such appeal. If no such assertion of value was submitted by the taxpayer, the appeal shall be forwarded to the county board of equalization. In addition, the commissioner shall be authorized to require additional training or require such other remediation as the commissioner may deem appropriate for failure to meet the deadline imposed by the commissioner under this subparagraph."

"(6)(A) Within ~~15~~ 90 days of the receipt of the notice of appeal, the county board of equalization shall ~~set a date for~~ hold a hearing on the questions presented and shall so notify the taxpayer and the county board of tax assessors in writing. Such notice shall be sent by first-class mail or email, if an email is provided by the appellant, to the taxpayer and to any authorized agent or representative of the taxpayer to whom the taxpayer has requested that such notice be sent. Such notice shall be transmitted by email to the county board of tax assessors if such board has adopted a written policy consenting to electronic service, and, if it has not, then such notice shall be sent to such board by first-class mail or intergovernmental mail. Such written notice shall advise each party that he or she may request a list of witnesses, documents, or other written evidence to be presented at the hearing by the other party. Such request ~~must~~ shall be made not less than ten days prior to the hearing date, and such information shall be provided to the requesting party not less than seven days prior to the time of the hearing. Any failure to comply with this requirement shall be grounds for an automatic continuance or for exclusion of such witness, documents, or other written evidence. A taxpayer may appear before the board of equalization concerning any appeal in person, by his or her authorized agent or representative, or both. The appeal administrator, in his or her discretion and with the consent of all parties, may alternatively conduct the hearing by audio or video teleconference or any other remote communication medium. The taxpayer shall specify in writing to the board of equalization the name of any such agent or representative prior to any appearance by the agent or representative before the board.

(B) ~~Within 30 days of the date of notification to the taxpayer of the hearing required in this paragraph but not earlier than 20 days from the date of such notification to the taxpayer, the county board of equalization shall hold such hearing to determine the questions presented~~ If there is no hearing scheduled by the appeal administrator within 180 days from the date of appeal, the property valuation asserted by the taxpayer on the property tax return or the taxpayer's notice of appeal shall become the assessed fair market value for the taxpayer's property for the tax year under appeal. If the taxpayer receives their indicated value because no hearing was scheduled, the new value shall not be used as a comparison in other tax appeals.

(C) If more than one property of a taxpayer is under appeal, the board of equalization shall, upon request of the taxpayer, consolidate all such appeals in one hearing and announce separate decisions as to each parcel or item of property. Any appeal from such a consolidated board of equalization hearing to the superior court as provided in this subsection shall constitute a single civil action, and, unless the taxpayer specifically so indicates in his or her notice of appeal, shall apply to all such parcels or items of property.

(D)(i) The board of equalization shall announce its decision on each appeal at the conclusion of the hearing held in accordance with subparagraph (B) of this paragraph before proceeding with another hearing. The decision of the county board of equalization shall:

(I) Be ~~be~~ in writing~~,~~;

(II) Be ~~shall be~~ signed by each member of the board~~,~~;

(III) Specifically ~~shall specifically~~ decide each question presented by the appeal~~,~~;

(IV) Specify ~~shall specify~~ the reason or reasons for each such decision as to the specific issues of taxability, uniformity of assessment, value, or denial of homestead exemptions depending upon the specific issue or issues raised by the taxpayer in the course of such taxpayer's appeal~~,~~;

(V) State ~~shall state~~ that with respect to the appeal no member of the board is disqualified from acting by virtue of subsection (j) of this Code section~~,~~; and

(VI) Certify ~~shall certify~~ the date on which notice of the decision is given to the parties. Notice of the decision shall be delivered by hand to each party, with written receipt, or given to each party by sending a copy of the decision by electronic means with receipt confirmation, registered or certified mail, or statutory overnight delivery to the appellant and by filing the original copy of the decision with the county board of tax assessors. Each of the three members of the county board of equalization ~~must~~ shall be present and ~~must~~ shall participate in the deliberations on any appeal. A majority vote shall be required in any matter. All three members of the board shall sign the decision indicating their vote.

(ii) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (g)(4)(B) of this Code section, the county board of tax assessors shall use the valuation of the county board of equalization in compiling the tax digest for the county for the year in question and shall indicate such valuation as the previous year's value on the property tax notice of assessment of such taxpayer for the immediately following year rather than substituting the valuation which was changed by the county board of equalization.

(iii)(I) If the county's tax bills are issued before an appeal has been finally determined, the county board of tax assessors shall specify to the county tax commissioner the lesser of the valuation in the last year for which taxes were finally determined to be due on the property or 85 percent of the current year's value, unless the property in issue is homestead property and has been issued a building permit and structural improvements have occurred, or structural improvements have been made without a building permit, in which case, it shall specify 85 percent of the current year's valuation as set by the county board of tax assessors. Depending on the circumstances of the property, this amount shall be the basis for a temporary tax bill to be issued; provided, however, that a nonhomestead owner of a single property valued at $2 million or more may elect to pay the temporary tax bill which specifies 85 percent of the current year's valuation; or, such owner may elect to pay the amount of the difference between the 85 percent tax bill based on the current year's valuation and the tax bill based on the valuation from the last year for which taxes were finally determined to be due on the property in conjunction with the amount of the tax bill based on valuation from the last year for which taxes were finally determined to be due on the property, to the tax commissioner's office. Only the amount which represents the difference between the tax bill based on the current year's valuation and the tax bill based on the valuation from the last year for which taxes were finally determined to be due will be held in an escrow account by the tax commissioner's office. Once the appeal is concluded, the escrowed funds shall be released by the tax commissioner's office to the prevailing party. The taxpayer may elect to pay the temporary tax bill in the amount of 100 percent of the current year's valuation if no substantial property improvement has occurred. The county tax commissioner shall have the authority to adjust such tax bill to reflect the 100 percent value as requested by the taxpayer. Such tax bill shall be accompanied by a notice to the taxpayer that the bill is a temporary tax bill pending the outcome of the appeal process. Such notice shall also indicate that, upon resolution of the appeal, there may be additional taxes due or a refund issued.

(II) For the purposes of this Code section, any final value that causes a reduction in taxes and creates a refund that is owed to the taxpayer shall be paid by the tax commissioner to the taxpayer, entity, or transferee who paid the taxes with interest, as provided in subsection (m) of this Code section.

(III) For the purposes of this Code section, any final value that causes an increase in taxes and creates an additional billing shall be paid to the tax commissioner as any other tax due along with interest, as provided in subsection (m) of this Code section."

SECTION 2.

Said Code section is further amended in subsection (e.1), relating to appeals to hearing officer, by revising paragraphs (5) and (6) as follows:

"(5) The county board of tax assessors may for no more than ~~90~~ 60 days review the taxpayer's written appeal, and if changes or corrections are made by the county board of tax assessors, the board shall notify the taxpayer in writing of such changes. Within ~~30~~ 15 days of the county board of tax assessors' mailing of such notice, the taxpayer may notify the county board of tax assessors in writing that the changes or corrections made by the county board of tax assessors are not acceptable, in which case, the county board of tax assessors shall, within ~~30~~ 15 days of the date of mailing of such taxpayer's notification, send or deliver all necessary documentation to the appeal administrator, in paper or electronic format as agreed upon by the county board of tax assessors and appeal administrator, and mail a copy to the taxpayer or, alternatively, forward the appeal to the board of equalization if so elected by the taxpayer and such election is included in the taxpayer's notification that the changes are not acceptable. If, after review, the county board of tax assessors determines that no changes or corrections are warranted, the county board of tax assessors shall notify the taxpayer of such decision. The taxpayer may elect to forward the appeal to the board of equalization by notifying the county board of tax assessors within ~~30~~ 15 days of the mailing of the county board of tax assessor's notice of no changes or corrections. Upon the expiration of ~~30~~ 15 days following the mailing of the county board of tax assessors' notice of no changes or corrections, the county board of tax assessors shall certify the notice of appeal and send or deliver all necessary documentation to the appeal administrator, in paper or electronic format as agreed upon by the county board of tax assessors and appeal administrator, for the appeal to the hearing officer, or board of equalization if elected by the taxpayer, and mail a copy to the taxpayer. If the county board of tax assessors fails to respond in writing, either with changes or no changes, to the taxpayer within ~~180~~ 90 days after receiving the taxpayer's notice of appeal, the ~~property valuation asserted by the taxpayer on the property tax return or the taxpayer's notice of appeal shall become the assessed fair market value for the taxpayer's property for the tax year under~~ appeal shall be forwarded to the appeal administrator.

(6)(A) The appeal administrator shall randomly select from such list a hearing officer who shall have experience or expertise in hearing or appraising the type of property that is the subject of appeal to hear the appeal, unless the taxpayer and the county board of tax assessors mutually agree upon a hearing officer from such list. The appeal administrator shall notify the taxpayer and the taxpayer's attorney in compliance with subsection (o) of this Code section of the name of the hearing officer and transmit a copy of the hearing officer's disqualification questionnaire and resume provided for under paragraph (2) of this subsection. If no hearing officer is appointed or if no hearing is scheduled within 180 days after the county board of tax assessors receives the taxpayer's notice of appeal, the property valuation asserted by the taxpayer on the property tax return or the taxpayer's notice of appeal shall become the assessed fair market value for the taxpayer's property for the tax year under appeal, and subsection (c) of Code Section 48-5-299 shall apply. The h~~earing officer~~ appeal administrator, in conjunction with all parties to the appeal and the hearing officer, shall set a time and place to hear evidence and testimony from both parties. The hearing shall take place in the county where the property is located, or such other place as mutually agreed to by the parties and the hearing officer. The hearing officer shall provide electronic or written notice to the parties personally or by registered or certified mail or statutory overnight delivery not less than ten days before the hearing. Such written notice shall advise each party that he or she may request a list of witnesses, documents, or other written evidence to be presented at the hearing by the other party. Such request ~~must~~ shall be made not less than ten days prior to the hearing date, and such information shall be provided to the requesting party not less than seven days prior to the time of the hearing. Any failure to comply with this requirement shall be grounds for an automatic continuance or for exclusion of such witnesses, documents, or other written evidence.

(B) If the appeal administrator, after a diligent search, cannot find a qualified hearing officer who is willing to serve, the appeal administrator shall transfer the certification of the appeal to the county or regional board of equalization and notify the taxpayer and the taxpayer's attorney in compliance with subsection (o) of this Code section and the county board of tax assessors of the transmittal of such appeal."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.
This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Women's Health and Safety Act."

SECTION 2.
Title 31 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating health, is amended by adding a new chapter to read as follows:

"CHAPTER 9C

31-9C-1.
As used in this chapter, the term:
(1) 'Abortion' means the act of using, prescribing, or administering any instrument, substance, device, or other means with the purpose of terminating a pregnancy with knowledge that termination will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of an unborn child; provided, however, that any such act shall not be considered an abortion if the act is performed with the purpose of:
(A) Removing a dead unborn child whose death was caused by spontaneous abortion; or

(B) Removing an ectopic pregnancy.

(2) 'Abortion-inducing drug' means a medicine, drug, or any other substance prescribed or dispensed with the intent of terminating the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman, with knowledge that the termination will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of the unborn child. Such term includes the off-label use of drugs known to have abortion-inducing properties, which are prescribed specifically with the intent of causing an abortion, such as mifepristone (Mifeprex), misoprostol (Cytotec), and methotrexate. Such term does not apply to drugs that may be known to cause an abortion, but which are prescribed for other medical indications, such as chemotherapeutic agents or diagnostic drugs. The use of such drugs to induce abortion is also known as 'medical,' 'medication,' 'RU-486,' 'chemical,' 'Mifeprex regimen,' or 'drug induced' abortion.

(3) 'Adverse event' means any untoward medical occurrence associated with the use of a drug in humans, whether or not considered drug related. Such term does not include an adverse event or suspected adverse reaction that, had it occurred in a more severe form, might have caused death.

(4) 'Associated physician' means a person licensed to practice medicine in the state, including medical doctors and doctors of osteopathy, who has entered into an Associated Physician Agreement.

(5) 'Complication' means any adverse physical or psychological condition arising from the performance of an abortion, which includes but is not limited to uterine perforation; cervical perforation; infection; heavy or uncontrolled bleeding; hemorrhage; blood clots resulting in pulmonary embolism or deep vein thrombosis; failure to actually terminate the pregnancy; incomplete abortion (retained tissue); pelvic inflammatory disease; endometritis; missed ectopic pregnancy; cardiac arrest; respiratory arrest; renal failure; metabolic disorder; shock; embolism; coma; placenta previa in subsequent pregnancies; preterm delivery in subsequent pregnancies; free fluid in the abdomen; hemolytic reaction due to the administration of ABO-incompatible blood or blood products; adverse reactions to anesthesia and other drugs; psychological complications such as depression, suicidal ideation, anxiety, and sleeping disorders; death; and any other 'adverse event' as defined by the federal Food and Drug Administration criteria provided in the Medwatch Reporting System as it existed on July 1, 2022.

(6) 'Gestational age' means the time that has elapsed since the first day of the woman's last menstrual period.

(7) 'Physician' means any person licensed to practice medicine in this state. Such term includes medical doctors and doctors of osteopathy.

(8) 'Pregnant' or 'pregnancy' means that female reproductive condition of having an unborn child in the uterus.

(9) 'Provide' means, when used regarding abortion-inducing drugs, any act of giving, selling, dispensing, administering, transferring possession to or otherwise providing or prescribing an abortion-inducing drug.

(10) 'Qualified physician' means a physician licensed in this state who has the ability to:

(A) Identify and document a viable intrauterine pregnancy;

(B) Assess the gestational age of a pregnancy and inform the patient of gestational age-specific risks;

(C) Diagnose ectopic pregnancy;

(D) Determine blood type and administer RhoGAM if a woman is Rh negative;

(E) Assess for signs of domestic abuse, reproductive control, human trafficking, and other signals of coerced abortion;

(F) Provide surgical intervention or enter into an agreement with another qualified physician to provide surgical intervention; and

(G) Supervise and bear legal responsibility for any agent, employee, or contractor who is participating in any part of procedure, including but not limited to, pre-procedure evaluation and care.

(11) 'Unborn child' means a member of the species homo sapiens at any stage of development who is carried in the womb until the point of being born-alive as defined in Section 8(b) of Title 1, U.S. Code, as it existed on July 1, 2022.

31-9C-2.

Abortion-inducing drugs shall only be provided or prescribed by a qualified physician following procedures contained in this chapter. Except for abortion-inducing drugs provided or prescribed in strict compliance with the requirements contained in Code Section 31-9C-3, it shall be unlawful for any manufacturer, supplier, physician, qualified physician, or any other person to provide any abortion-inducing drug via courier, delivery, or mail service.

31-9C-3.

(a) Because the failure and complication rates from a chemical abortion increase with advancing gestational age; because the physical symptoms of chemical abortion can be identical to the symptoms of ectopic pregnancy; and because abortion-inducing drugs do not treat ectopic pregnancies but rather are contraindicated in ectopic pregnancies, the qualified physician providing an abortion-inducing drug must examine the woman in person and perform an ultrasound, and must:

(1) Independently verify that a pregnancy exists;

(2) Determine the woman's blood type, and if she is Rh negative, be able to and offer to administer RhoGAM at the time of the abortion;

(3) Inform the patient that she may see the remains of her unborn child in the process of completing the abortion;

(4) Document, in the woman's medical chart, the gestational age and intrauterine location of the pregnancy, and whether she received treatment for Rh negativity, as diagnosed by the most accurate standard of medical care; and

(5) Obtain a signed informed consent from the patient.

(b) A qualified physician providing an abortion-inducing drug must be credentialed and competent to handle complication management, including emergency transfer, or must have an agreement with an associated physician who is credentialed to handle complications. Every pregnant woman to whom a qualified physician provides any abortion-inducing drug shall be given the name and phone number of the associated physician and instructions on what to do in case of problems or questions.

(c) A qualified physician providing any abortion-inducing drug or an agent of the qualified physician shall schedule an appropriate follow-up visit for the woman at approximately seven to 14 days after administration of the abortion-inducing drug to confirm that the pregnancy is completely terminated and to assess the degree of bleeding. A qualified physician providing any abortion-inducing drug or an agent of the qualified physician may instruct the patient that it may be possible to reverse the effects of the chemical abortion should she change her mind. The qualified physician shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the woman returns for the scheduled appointment. A brief description of the efforts made to comply with this subsection, including the date, time, and identification by name of the person making such efforts, shall be included in the woman's medical record.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter or the laws of this state, abortion-inducing drugs shall not be provided in any school facility or on state grounds, including but not limited to, elementary schools, secondary schools, and institutions of higher education in this state."

SECTION 3.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
