7 BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

8 SECTION 1.

9 Title 20 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to education, is amended by 10 adding a new Chapter 3A to read as follows:

11 "CHAPTER 3A

12 20-3A-1.

13 This chapter shall be known and may be cited as "The Access to Postsecondary Education 14 Instructional Material Act."

15 20-3A-2.

16 As used in this chapter, the term:

17 (1) 'Electronic version of instructional materials' means a format of instructional 18 materials that preserves the structural integrity of such materials; uses the most updated 19 software technology available to the public at that time; includes corrections and 20 revisions as may be necessary; and is compatible with commonly used Braille translation, 21 software, large print, screen enlargement, screen reading and recognition systems, and 22 speech synthesis software.

1 (2) 'Institution' means any part of the university system, as set forth in Code Section
2 20-3-50, any private postsecondary educational institution defined as 'nonpublic' in Code
3 Section 20-3-250.2, any proprietary school as defined in Code Section 20-3-250.2, any 4 junior college as defined in Code Section 20-3-131, or any school or program under the 5 authority, management, or operational control of the Department of Technical and Adult 6 Education.

7 (3) 'Instructional material' means textbooks and other materials which are recommended 8 or required by an instructor of any course of study offered for credit or toward a degree 9 or certificate by any institution subject to the requirements of this chapter, are written or 10 published by a publisher primarily for use by students, and are available for purchase.
11 The term also includes nonprinted instructional materials which are subject to the 12 accessibility standards of Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 U.S.C. Section 794, 13 which includes but is not limited to commercially published software programs, 14 videodisks, and video and audiotapes.

15 (4) 'Publisher' means the person or entity which prints and issues a textbook or other 16 instructional material that is generally available for purchase by the public and the person 17 or entity which offers for sale material available for purchase primarily by students.

18 (5) 'Structural integrity' means all of the commercially published printed instructional 19 material, including but not limited to the text of the material, sidebars, the table of 20 contents, chapter headings and subheadings, footnotes, pictures, illustrations, graphs, 21 charts, indexes, glossaries, and bibliographies.

22 (6) 'Student with a print access disability' means a student requiring accommodations in 23 accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 U.S.C Section 794, or the 24 Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. Sections 12101 et seq., including but 25 not limited to students who are blind, are visually impaired or have a specific learning 26 disability, or other disability affecting reading.

27 20-3A-3.

28 (a)(1) An institution shall make a written request for a student with a print access 29 disability to a publisher of instructional material for an electronic version of instructional 30 material that is recommended or required for a course of study or program offered by an 31 institution in which the student is enrolled, as determined by the instructor for the course 32 or program in consultation with the person who signs the request pursuant to 33 subparagraph (D) of paragraph (2) of this subsection.

34 (2) A written request for an electronic version of instructional material shall:

35 (A) Certify that the student for whom the material was requested has a print access 36 disability which prevents him or her from using standard printed instructional material;

1 (B) Certify that the electronic version of the instructional material is for use by the 2 student with a print access disability in connection with a course of study or program 3 in which the student is enrolled at the institution;

4 (C) Certify that the instructional material has been purchased by or is being purchased 5 for the student; and

6 (D) Be signed by a person at the institution who is responsible for coordinating 7 services for students with print access disabilities or who is responsible for monitoring 8 compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

9 (b)(1) A publisher who receives a request for an electronic version of instructional 10 material complying with subsection (a) of this Code section shall be required to provide 11 such electronic version to the institution within ten days, unless such request creates an 12 undue hardship, as defined in the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C.
13 Sections 12101 et seq. The electronic version shall be in a format mutually agreed upon 14 by the publisher and the institution, but shall, after December 31, 2007, meet the National 15 Instructional Materials Accessibility Standard adopted or utilized by the United States
16 Department of Education.

17 (2) The computer files or electronic versions of the commercially published printed 18 instructional material shall be available to students with disabilities at a cost comparable 19 to the printed version of such commercially published material.

20 (c) A publisher may require that a written request for an electronic version of instructional 21 material include a statement signed by the person described in subparagraph (a)(2)(D) of 22 this Code section in which the person verifies that:

23 (1) The student for whom the electronic version of instructional material is being 24 requested has been properly counseled in the use of the material in a manner to avoid 25 violating any copyright laws; and

26 (2) The institution has on file a form signed by the student in which he or she:

27 (A) Agrees to use the electronic version of the instructional material solely for his or 28 her own educational or instructional purposes; and

29 (B) Agrees not to copy or otherwise duplicate the electronic version of the instructional 30 material for use by another person.

31 (d) If an institution allows a student, member of its staff, or member of its faculty to have 32 direct use of an electronic version of instructional material obtained pursuant to this Code 33 section, the institution shall take such reasonable precautions as are necessary to ensure that 34 the electronic version is not distributed in violation of federal copyright laws.

1 20-3A-4.

2 (a) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit an institution from assisting a 3 student, member of its staff, or member of its faculty with a print access disability through 4 the use of an electronic version of instructional material obtained pursuant to Code Section 5 20-3A-3 or by transcribing or translating or arranging for the transcription or translation 6 of the printed instructional material into formats that provide persons with print access 7 disabilities the ability to have increased independent access to printed instructional 8 material. If such transcription or translation is made, the institution may share the 9 transcription or translation with other students, members of the staff, or members of the 10 faculty with print access disabilities for whom the institution is authorized to request 11 electronic versions of instructional material.

12 (b) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to allow the incurring of any cost for the 13 acquisition of instructional material by a student with a print access disability in excess of 14 the cost to a student who does not have a print access disability.

15 (c) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit a faculty member's choice of 16 textbook or other appropriate instructional material for use in a course he or she is teaching;
17 provided, however, that a faculty member, after being made aware that a student with a 18 print access disability is or shall be enrolled in a course of which he or she is an instructor, 19 shall, in accordance with institution policies or guidelines, provide a person at the 20 institution responsible for coordinating services for students with print access disabilities 21 a list of the instructional material recommended or required for the course as soon as is 22 feasible.

23 (d) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize any use of instructional material 24 that would constitute an infringement of federal copyright laws."

25 SECTION 2.

26 This Act shall become effective on July 1, 2005.

27 SECTION 3.

28 All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
