PART II

2 WHEREAS, the late L. M. Moye, Jr., was a distinguished citizen and resident of Stewart
3 County, Georgia, for the majority of his lifetime; and

4 WHEREAS, he was affectionately known in and around Stewart County during his lifetime 5 as "Red" Moye and made substantial civic and community contributions to the State of 6 Georgia, and County of Stewart; and

7 WHEREAS, he was a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology and served his country
8 in World War II as a U.S. Navy Lt. Commander during the North African Campaign, as well 9 as performing active duty military service at Sicily, Anzio, Palermo, and Normandy; and

10 WHEREAS, L. M. Moye, Jr., was awarded and decorated with the Purple Heart as a result 11 of his military service to the United States of America; and

12 WHEREAS, among his achievements and contributions in the areas of historic preservation, 13 he was an original founder and assisted with the early stewardship of Westville Village, and 14 donated land and otherwise worked to establish and promote the Singer-Moye Indian 15 Mounds so that both of these museums could be enjoyed in perpetuity; and

16 WHEREAS, he helped to establish the Stewart County Fire Unit of the Georgia Forestry
17 Commission, served as Stewart County's District Supervisor on the Lower Chattahoochee 18 Soil and Water Conservation Board, and also served a term as State President; and

19 WHEREAS, L. M. Moye, Jr., served his community in various capacities as a volunteer, 20 including service as a Little League and Pony League baseball coach, Cub Scout leader, and 21 member of Cuthbert Presbyterian Church; and

22 WHEREAS, he established and maintained a home in Stewart County with his wife, Sue 23 McLendon Moye, whom he married in 1945, and together they raised two sons, Andrew J.
24 Moye, III, and Matthew M. Moye, on the family homeplace located three miles south of 25 Lumpkin, Georgia, on the family plantation which has been owned by the family since 1853; 26 and

27 WHEREAS, the Moye home located in Stewart County was built in 1836 and remains in 28 excellent condition due to the stewardship of L. M. Moye, Jr., and his spouse, who still 29 resides in the home; and

1 WHEREAS, L. M. Moye, Jr., employed his personal motto to "leave the place in better shape 2 than you found it" in various aspects of his life, including his work and his support of historic 3 preservation efforts; and

4 WHEREAS, the Board of Commissioners of Stewart County deems it fitting and appropriate 5 to honor the achievements and contributions of the late L. M. "Red" Moye, Jr., by 6 designating a permanent public memorial near his homeplace.

7 PART III

8 WHEREAS, Eddie Wiggins will soon be stepping down as the chairman of the 21st Century 9 Partnership; and

10 WHEREAS, he was a founding father of the partnership in 1993 and has served as chairman 11 since 1999; and

12 WHEREAS, normally a chairman serves a two-year term, but Eddie Wiggins remained as 13 chairman due to repeated requests from the community and his absolute passion for Robins 14 Air Force Base and Middle Georgia; and

15 WHEREAS, Eddie Wiggins successfully guided Robins Air Force Base and the community 16 through many challenging issues including reduced budgets, privatization threats, lack of 17 adequate on-base and off-base housing, and lack of medical participation in the TRICARE 18 program; and

19 WHEREAS, since 1993, Robins Air Force Base has grown from about 18,000 to 27,000
20 personnel, increased its economic impact on Georgia from $2.3 billion to $4.2 billion, and 21 survived three base closure and realignment rounds; and

22 WHEREAS, Eddie Wiggins is known nationally as Middle Georgia's Mr. Air Force, and he 23 deserves recognition for dedicating his heart and soul to Robins Air Force Base and the 24 airmen who serve our great country so proudly.
