

The House Committee on Judiciary offers the following substitute to SB 112:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

1 To provide for a short title; to amend Article 1 of Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code 2 of Georgia Annotated, relating to general provisions for child custody proceedings, so as to 3 provide protection in child custody disputes to members of the armed forces; to change 4 provisions relating to parenting plans; to change provisions relating to the discretion of the 5 judge in custody disputes; to provide for definitions; to provide for related matters; to provide 6 for an effective date; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

7 BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

8 SECTION 1.

9 This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Military Parents Rights Act."

10 SECTION 2.

11 Article 1 of Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to 12 general provisions for child custody proceedings, is amended by revising paragraph (2) of 13 subsection (b) of Code Section 19-9-1, relating to parenting plans, as follows:

14 "(2) Unless otherwise ordered by the judge, or agreed upon by the parties, a parenting 15 plan shall include, but not be limited to:

16 (A) Where and when a child will be in each parent's physical care, designating where 17 the child will spend each day of the year;

18 (B) How holidays, birthdays, vacations, school breaks, and other special occasions will 19 be spent with each parent including the time of day that each event will begin and end;

20 (C) Transportation arrangements including how the child will be exchanged between 21 the parents, the location of the exchange, how the transportation costs will be paid, and 22 any other matter relating to the child spending time with each parent;

23 (D) Whether supervision will be needed for any parenting time and, if so, the 24 particulars of the supervision;

- 25 (E) An allocation of decision-making authority to one or both of the parents with 26 regard to the child's education, health, extracurricular activities, and religious 27 upbringing, and if the parents agree the matters should be jointly decided, how to 28 resolve a situation in which the parents disagree on resolution; ~~and~~
- 29 (F) What, if any, limitations will exist while one parent has physical custody of the 30 child in terms of the other parent contacting the child and the other parent's right to 31 access education, health, extracurricular activity, and religious information regarding 32 the child; and
- 33 (G) If a military parent is a party in the case:
- 34 (i) How to manage the child's transition into temporary physical custody to a 35 nondeploying parent if a military parent is deployed;
- 36 (ii) The manner in which the child will maintain continuing contact with a deployed 37 parent;
- 38 (iii) How a deployed parent's parenting time may be delegated to his or her extended 39 family;
- 40 (iv) How the parenting plan will be resumed once the deployed parent returns from 41 deployment; and
- 42 (v) How divisions (i) through (iv) of this subparagraph serve the best interest of the 43 child."

44 SECTION 3.

45 Said article is further amended in Code Section 19-9-3, relating to the discretion of the judge 46 in custody disputes, by revising subsection (b) and by adding a new subsection to read as 47 follows:

48 "(b) In any case in which a judgment awarding the custody of a child has been entered, on 49 the motion of any party or on the motion of the judge, that portion of the judgment 50 effecting visitation rights between the parties and their child or parenting time may be 51 subject to review and modification or alteration without the necessity of any showing of 52 a change in any material conditions and circumstances of either party or the child, provided 53 that the review and modification or alteration shall not be had more often than once in each 54 two-year period following the date of entry of the judgment. However, this subsection 55 shall not limit or restrict the power of the judge to enter a judgment relating to the custody 56 of a child in any new proceeding based upon a showing of a change in any material 57 conditions or circumstances of a party or the child. A military parent's absences caused by 58 the performance of his or her deployments, or the potential for future deployments, shall 59 not be the sole factor considered in supporting a claim of any change in material conditions 60 or circumstances of either party or the child; provided, however, that the court may 61 consider evidence of the effect of a deployment in assessing a claim of any change in 62 material conditions or circumstances of either party or the child."

63 "(i) Notwithstanding other provisions of this article, whenever a military parent is 64 deployed, the following shall apply:

65 (1) A court shall not enter a final order modifying parental rights and responsibilities 66 under an existing parenting plan earlier than 90 days after the deployment ends, unless 67 such modification is agreed to by the deployed parent;

68 (2) Upon a petition to establish or modify an existing parenting plan being filed by a 69 deploying parent or nondeploying parent, the court shall enter a temporary modification 70 order for the parenting plan to ensure contact with the child during the period of 71 deployment when:

72 (A) A military parent receives formal notice from military leadership that he or she will 73 deploy in the near future, and such parent has primary physical custody, joint physical 74 custody, or sole physical custody of a child, or otherwise has parenting time with a 75 child under an existing parenting plan; and 76 (B) The deployment will have a material effect upon a deploying parent's ability to 77 exercise parental rights and responsibilities toward his or her child either in the existing 78 relationship with the other parent or under an existing parenting plan;

79 (3) Petitions for temporary modification of an existing parenting plan because of a 80 deployment shall be heard by the court as expeditiously as possible and shall be a priority 81 on the court's calendar;

82 (4)(A) All temporary modification orders for parenting plans shall include a reasonable 83 and specific transition schedule to facilitate a return to the predeployment parenting 84 plan over the shortest reasonable time period after the deployment ends, based upon the 85 child's best interest.

86 (B) Unless the court determines that it would not be in the child's best interest, a 87 temporary modification order for a parenting plan shall set a date certain for the 88 anticipated end of the deployment and the start of the transition period back to the 89 predeployment parenting plan. If a deployment is extended, the temporary modification 90 order for a parenting plan shall remain in effect, and the transition schedule shall take 91 effect at the end of the extension of the deployment. Failure of the nondeploying parent 92 to notify the court in accordance with this paragraph shall not prejudice the deploying 93 parent's right to return to the predeployment parenting plan once the temporary 94 modification order for a parenting plan expires as provided in subparagraph (C) of this 95 paragraph.

- 96 (C) A temporary modification order for a parenting plan shall expire upon the 97 completion of the transition period and the predeployment parenting plan shall establish 98 the rights and responsibilities between parents for the child;
- 99 (5) Upon a petition to modify an existing parenting plan being filed by a deploying 100 parent and upon a finding that it serves the best interest of the child, the court may 101 delegate for the duration of the deployment any portion of such deploying parent's 102 parenting time with the child to anyone in his or her extended family, including but not 103 limited to an immediate family member, a person with whom the deploying parent 104 cohabits, or another person having a close and substantial relationship to the child. Such 105 delegated parenting time shall not create any separate rights to such person once the 106 period of deployment has ended;
- 107 (6) If the court finds it to be in the child's best interest, a temporary modification order 108 for a parenting plan issued under this subsection may require any of the following:
- 109 (A) The nondeploying parent make the child reasonably available to the deploying 110 parent to exercise his or her parenting time immediately before and after the deploying 111 parent departs for deployment and whenever the deploying parent returns to or from 112 leave or furlough from his or her deployment;
- 113 (B) The nondeploying parent facilitate opportunities for the deployed parent to have 114 regular and continuing contact with his or her child by telephone, e-mail exchanges, 115 virtual video parenting time through the Internet, or any other similar means;
- 116 (C) The nondeploying parent not interfere with the delivery of correspondence or 117 packages between the deployed parent and child of such parent; and
- 118 (D) The deploying parent provide timely information regarding his or her leave and 119 departure schedule to the nondeploying parent;
- 120 (7) Because actual leave from a deployment and departure dates for a deployment are 121 subject to change with little notice due to military necessity, such changes shall not be 122 used by the nondeploying parent to prevent contact between the deployed parent and his 123 or her child;
- 124 (8) A court order temporarily modifying an existing parenting plan or other order 125 governing parent-child rights and responsibilities shall specify when a deployment is the 126 basis for such order and it shall be entered by the court only as a temporary modification 127 order or interlocutory order;
- 128 (9) A relocation by a nondeploying parent during a period of a deployed parent's absence 129 and occurring during the period of a temporary modification order for a parenting plan 130 shall not act to terminate the exclusive and continuing jurisdiction of the court for 131 purposes of later determining custody or parenting time under this chapter;

132 (10) A court order temporarily modifying an existing parenting plan or other order shall 133 require the nondeploying parent to provide the court and the deploying parent with not 134 less than 30 days' advance written notice of any intended change of residence address, 135 telephone numbers, or e-mail address;

136 (11) Upon a deployed parent's final return from deployment, either parent may file a 137 petition to modify the temporary modification order for a parenting plan on the grounds 138 that compliance with such order will result in immediate danger or substantial harm to 139 the child, and may further request that the court issue an ex parte order. The deployed 140 parent may file such a petition prior to his or her return. Such petition shall be 141 accompanied by an affidavit in support of the requested order. Upon a finding of 142 immediate danger or substantial harm to the child based on the facts set forth in the 143 affidavit, the court may issue an ex parte order modifying the temporary parenting plan 144 or other parent-child contact in order to prevent immediate danger or substantial harm to 145 the child. If the court issues an ex parte order, the court shall set the matter for hearing 146 within ten days from the issuance of the ex parte order;

147 (12) Nothing in this subsection shall preclude either party from filing a petition for 148 permanent modification of an existing parenting plan under subsection (b) of this Code 149 section; provided, however, that the court shall not conduct a final hearing on such 150 petition until at least 90 days after the final return of the deploying parent. There shall 151 exist a presumption favoring the predeployment parenting plan or custody order as one 152 that still serves the best interest of the child, and the party seeking to permanently modify 153 such plan or order shall have the burden to prove that it no longer serves the best interest 154 of the child;

155 (13) When the deployment of a military parent has a material effect upon his or her 156 ability to appear in person at a scheduled hearing, then upon request by the deploying 157 parent and provided reasonable advance notice is given to other interested parties, the 158 court may allow a deployed parent to present testimony and other evidence by electronic 159 means for any matter considered by the court under this subsection. For purposes of this 160 paragraph, the term 'electronic means' shall include, but not be limited to, 161 communications by telephone, video teleconference, Internet connection, or 162 electronically stored affidavits or documents sent from the deployment location or 163 elsewhere;

164 (14)(A) When deployment of a military parent appears imminent and there is no 165 existing parenting plan or other order setting forth the parent's rights and 166 responsibilities, then upon a petition filed by either parent the court shall:

167 (i) Expedite a hearing to establish a temporary parenting plan;

168 (ii) Require that the deploying parent shall have continued access to the child, 169 provided that such contact is in the child's best interest;
170 (iii) Ensure the disclosure of financial information pertaining to both parties; 171 (iv) Determine the child support responsibilities under Code Section 19-6-15 of both 172 parents during the deployment; and 173 (v) Determine the child's best interest and consider delegating to any third parties 174 with close contacts to the child any reasonable parenting time during the deployment.
175 In deciding such request the court shall consider the reasonable requests of the 176 deployed parent.
177 (B) Any pleading filed to establish a parenting plan or child support order under this 178 paragraph shall be identified at the time of filing by stating in the text of the pleading 179 the specific facts related to the deployment and by referencing this paragraph and 180 subsection of this Code section;
181 (15) When an impending deployment precludes court expedited adjudication before 182 deployment, the court may agree to allow the parties to arbitrate any issues as allowed 183 under Code Section 19-9-1.1, or order the parties to mediation under any court 184 established alternative dispute resolution program. For purposes of arbitration or 185 mediation, each party shall be under a duty to provide to the other party information 186 relevant to any parenting plan or support issues pertaining to the children or the parties; 187 (16) Each military parent shall be under a continuing duty to provide written notice to 188 the nondeploying parent within 14 days of the military parent's receipt of oral or written 189 orders requiring deployment or any other absences due to military service that will impact 190 the military parent's ability to exercise his or her parenting time with a child. If 191 deployment orders do not allow for 14 days' advance notice, then the military parent shall 192 provide written notice to the other parent immediately upon receiving such notice; and 193 (17) A military parent shall ensure that any military family care plan that he or she has 194 filed with his or her commander is consistent with any existing court orders for his or her 195 child. In all instances any court order will be the first course of action for the care of a 196 child during the absence of a military parent, and the military family care plan will be the 197 alternative plan if the nondeploying parent either refuses to provide care for the child or 198 acknowledges an inability to provide reasonable care for the child. A military parent 199 shall not be considered in contempt of any court order or parenting plan when he or she 200 in good faith implements his or her military family care plan based upon the refusal or 201 claimed inability of a nondeploying parent to provide reasonable care for a child during 202 a deployment."

203 SECTION 4.

204 Said article is further amended by revising Code Section 19-9-6, relating to definitions for 205 the article, as follows:

206 "19-9-6.

207 As used in this article, the term:

208 (1) 'Armed forces' means the national guard and the reserve components of the armed 209 forces, the United States army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, and air force.

210 (2) 'Deploy' or 'deployment' means military service in compliance with the military 211 orders received by a member of the armed forces to report for combat operations, 212 contingency operations, peacekeeping operations, a remote tour of duty, temporary duty, 213 or other such military service for which a parent is required to report unaccompanied by 214 family members. Deployment shall include the period during which a military parent 215 remains subject to deployment orders and remains deployed on account of sickness, 216 wounds, leave, or other lawful cause. Such term shall include mobilization.

217 (3) 'Deploying parent' or 'deployed parent' means a military parent who has been 218 formally notified by military leadership that he or she will deploy or mobilize or who is 219 currently deployed or mobilized.

220 ~~(4)~~(4) 'Joint custody' means joint legal custody, joint physical custody, or both joint legal 221 custody and joint physical custody. In making an order for joint custody, the judge may 222 order joint legal custody without ordering joint physical custody.

223 ~~(5)~~(5) 'Joint legal custody' means both parents have equal rights and responsibilities for 224 major decisions concerning the child, including the child's education, health care, 225 extracurricular activities, and religious training; provided, however, that the judge may 226 designate one parent to have sole power to make certain decisions while both parents 227 retain equal rights and responsibilities for other decisions.

228 ~~(6)~~(6) 'Joint physical custody' means that physical custody is shared by the parents in 229 such a way as to assure the child of substantially equal time and contact with both 230 parents.

231 (7) 'Military family care plan' means a plan that is periodically reviewed by a military 232 parent's commander that provides for care of a military parent's child whenever his or her 233 military duties prevent such parent from providing care to his or her child and ensures 234 that a military parent has made adequate and reasonable arrangements to provide for the 235 needs and supervision of his or her child whenever a nondeploying parent is unable or 236 unavailable to provide care in the military parent's absence.

237 (8) 'Military parent' means a member of the armed forces who is a legal parent, adoptive 238 parent, or guardian of a child under the age of 18, whose parental rights are established

239 either by operation of law or the process of legitimation, and who has not had his or her 240 parental rights terminated by a court of competent jurisdiction.

241 (9) 'Mobilization' or 'mobilize' means the call-up of the national guard and the reserve 242 components of the armed forces to extended active duty service. Such term shall not 243 include National Guard or Reserves component annual training, inactive duty days, drill 244 weekends, or state active duty performed within the boundaries this state.

245 (10) 'Nondeploying parent' means:

246 (A) A parent who is not a member of the armed forces; or 247 (B) A military parent who is currently not also a deploying parent.

248 ~~(4)~~(11) 'Sole custody' means a person, including, but not limited to, a parent, has been 249 awarded permanent custody of a child by a court order. Unless otherwise provided by 250 court order, the person awarded sole custody of a child shall have the rights and 251 responsibilities for major decisions concerning the child, including the child's education, 252 health care, extracurricular activities, and religious training, and the noncustodial parent 253 shall have the right to visitation or parenting time. A person who has not been awarded 254 custody of a child by court order shall not be considered as the sole legal custodian while 255 exercising visitation rights or parenting time.

256 (12) 'State active duty' means the call-up by a governor for the performance of any 257 military duty while serving within the boundaries of that state.

258 (13) 'Temporary duty' means the assignment of a military parent to a geographic location 259 outside of this state for a limited period of time to accomplish training or to assist in the 260 performance of a military mission."

261 SECTION 5.

262 This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law 263 without such approval.

264 SECTION 6.

265 All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
