AS PASSED

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To provide for a short title; to amend Article 1 of Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to general provisions for child custody proceedings, so as to provide protection in child custody disputes to members of the armed forces; to change provisions relating to parenting plans; to change provisions relating to the discretion of the judge in custody disputes; to provide for definitions; to provide for related matters; to provide for an effective date; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Military Parents Rights Act."

SECTION 2.

Article 1 of Chapter 9 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to general provisions for child custody proceedings, is amended by revising paragraph (2) of subsection (b) of Code Section 19-9-1, relating to parenting plans, as follows:

"(2) Unless otherwise ordered by the judge, or agreed upon by the parties, a parenting plan shall include, but not be limited to:

(A) Where and when a child will be in each parent's physical care, designating where the child will spend each day of the year;

(B) How holidays, birthdays, vacations, school breaks, and other special occasions will be spent with each parent including the time of day that each event will begin and end;

(C) Transportation arrangements including how the child will be exchanged between the parents, the location of the exchange, how the transportation costs will be paid, and any other matter relating to the child spending time with each parent;

(D) Whether supervision will be needed for any parenting time and, if so, the particulars of the supervision;

(E) An allocation of decision-making authority to one or both of the parents with regard to the child's education, health, extracurricular activities, and religious upbringing, and if the parents agree the matters should be jointly decided, how to resolve a situation in which the parents disagree on resolution; ~~and~~

(F) What, if any, limitations will exist while one parent has physical custody of the child in terms of the other parent contacting the child and the other parent's right to access education, health, extracurricular activity, and religious information regarding the child; and

(G) If a military parent is a party in the case:

(i) How to manage the child's transition into temporary physical custody to a nondeploying parent if a military parent is deployed;

(ii) The manner in which the child will maintain continuing contact with a deployed parent;

(iii) How a deployed parent's parenting time may be delegated to his or her extended family;

(iv) How the parenting plan will be resumed once the deployed parent returns from deployment; and

(v) How divisions (i) through (iv) of this subparagraph serve the best interest of the child."

SECTION 3.

Said article is further amended in Code Section 19-9-3, relating to the discretion of the judge in custody disputes, by revising subsection (b) and by adding a new subsection to read as follows:

"(b) In any case in which a judgment awarding the custody of a child has been entered, on the motion of any party or on the motion of the judge, that portion of the judgment effecting visitation rights between the parties and their child or parenting time may be subject to review and modification or alteration without the necessity of any showing of a change in any material conditions and circumstances of either party or the child, provided that the review and modification or alteration shall not be had more often than once in each two-year period following the date of entry of the judgment. However, this subsection shall not limit or restrict the power of the judge to enter a judgment relating to the custody of a child in any new proceeding based upon a showing of a change in any material conditions or circumstances of a party or the child. A military parent's absences caused by the performance of his or her deployments, or the potential for future deployments, shall not be the sole factor considered in supporting a claim of any change in material conditions or circumstances of either party or the child; provided, however, that the court may

61 consider evidence of the effect of a deployment in assessing a claim of any change in 62 material conditions or circumstances of either party or the child."

63 "(i) Notwithstanding other provisions of this article, whenever a military parent is 64 deployed, the following shall apply:

65 (1) A court shall not enter a final order modifying parental rights and responsibilities
66 under an existing parenting plan earlier than 90 days after the deployment ends, unless 67 such modification is agreed to by the deployed parent;

68 (2) Upon a petition to establish or modify an existing parenting plan being filed by a
69 deploying parent or nondeploying parent, the court shall enter a temporary modification
70 order for the parenting plan to ensure contact with the child during the period of 71 deployment when:

72 (A) A military parent receives formal notice from military leadership that he or she will
73 deploy in the near future, and such parent has primary physical custody, joint physical
74 custody, or sole physical custody of a child, or otherwise has parenting time with a
75 child under an existing parenting plan; and

76 (B) The deployment will have a material effect upon a deploying parent's ability to 77 exercise parental rights and responsibilities toward his or her child either in the existing 78 relationship with the other parent or under an existing parenting plan;

79 (3) Petitions for temporary modification of an existing parenting plan because of a
80 deployment shall be heard by the court as expeditiously as possible and shall be a priority
81 on the court's calendar;

82 (4)(A) All temporary modification orders for parenting plans shall include a reasonable
83 and specific transition schedule to facilitate a return to the predeployment parenting
84 plan over the shortest reasonable time period after the deployment ends, based upon the 85 child's best interest.

86 (B) Unless the court determines that it would not be in the child's best interest, a
87 temporary modification order for a parenting plan shall set a date certain for the 88 anticipated end of the deployment and the start of the transition period back to the
89 predeployment parenting plan. If a deployment is extended, the temporary modification
90 order for a parenting plan shall remain in effect, and the transition schedule shall take 91 effect at the end of the extension of the deployment. Failure of the nondeploying parent
92 to notify the court in accordance with this paragraph shall not prejudice the deploying
93 parent's right to return to the predeployment parenting plan once the temporary
94 modification order for a parenting plan expires as provided in subparagraph (C) of this
95 paragraph.

96 (C) A temporary modification order for a parenting plan shall expire upon the 97 completion of the transition period and the predeployment parenting plan shall establish
98 the rights and responsibilities between parents for the child;

99 (5) Upon a petition to modify an existing parenting plan being filed by a deploying
100 parent and upon a finding that it serves the best interest of the child, the court may
101 delegate for the duration of the deployment any portion of such deploying parent's 102 parenting time with the child to anyone in his or her extended family, including but not
103 limited to an immediate family member, a person with whom the deploying parent
104 cohabits, or another person having a close and substantial relationship to the child. Such 105 delegated parenting time shall not create any separate rights to such person once the 106 period of deployment has ended;

107 (6) If the court finds it to be in the child's best interest, a temporary modification order
108 for a parenting plan issued under this subsection may require any of the following:

109 (A) The nondeploying parent make the child reasonably available to the deploying
110 parent to exercise his or her parenting time immediately before and after the deploying 111 parent departs for deployment and whenever the deploying parent returns to or from 112 leave or furlough from his or her deployment;

113 (B) The nondeploying parent facilitate opportunities for the deployed parent to have
114 regular and continuing contact with his or her child by telephone, e-mail exchanges,
115 virtual video parenting time through the Internet, or any other similar means;

116 (C) The nondeploying parent not interfere with the delivery of correspondence or 117 packages between the deployed parent and child of such parent; and

118 (D) The deploying parent provide timely information regarding his or her leave and 119 departure schedule to the nondeploying parent;

120 (7) Because actual leave from a deployment and departure dates for a deployment are 121 subject to change with little notice due to military necessity, such changes shall not be 122 used by the nondeploying parent to prevent contact between the deployed parent and his 123 or her child;

124 (8) A court order temporarily modifying an existing parenting plan or other order
125 governing parent-child rights and responsibilities shall specify when a deployment is the 126 basis for such order and it shall be entered by the court only as a temporary modification
127 order or interlocutory order;

128 (9) A relocation by a nondeploying parent during a period of a deployed parent's absence
129 and occurring during the period of a temporary modification order for a parenting plan
130 shall not act to terminate the exclusive and continuing jurisdiction of the court for 131 purposes of later determining custody or parenting time under this chapter;

(10) A court order temporarily modifying an existing parenting plan or other order shall require the nondeploying parent to provide the court and the deploying parent with not less than 30 days' advance written notice of any intended change of residence address, telephone numbers, or e-mail address;

(11) Upon a deployed parent's final return from deployment, either parent may file a petition to modify the temporary modification order for a parenting plan on the grounds that compliance with such order will result in immediate danger or substantial harm to the child, and may further request that the court issue an ex parte order. The deployed parent may file such a petition prior to his or her return. Such petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit in support of the requested order. Upon a finding of immediate danger or substantial harm to the child based on the facts set forth in the affidavit, the court may issue an ex parte order modifying the temporary parenting plan or other parent-child contact in order to prevent immediate danger or substantial harm to the child. If the court issues an ex parte order, the court shall set the matter for hearing within ten days from the issuance of the ex parte order;

(12) Nothing in this subsection shall preclude either party from filing a petition for permanent modification of an existing parenting plan under subsection (b) of this Code section; provided, however, that the court shall not conduct a final hearing on such petition until at least 90 days after the final return of the deploying parent. There shall exist a presumption favoring the predeployment parenting plan or custody order as one that still serves the best interest of the child, and the party seeking to permanently modify such plan or order shall have the burden to prove that it no longer serves the best interest of the child;

(13) When the deployment of a military parent has a material effect upon his or her ability to appear in person at a scheduled hearing, then upon request by the deploying parent and provided reasonable advance notice is given to other interested parties, the court may allow a deployed parent to present testimony and other evidence by electronic means for any matter considered by the court under this subsection. For purposes of this paragraph, the term 'electronic means' shall include, but not be limited to, communications by telephone, video teleconference, Internet connection, or electronically stored affidavits or documents sent from the deployment location or elsewhere;

(14)(A) When deployment of a military parent appears imminent and there is no existing parenting plan or other order setting forth the parent's rights and responsibilities, then upon a petition filed by either parent the court shall:

(i) Expedite a hearing to establish a temporary parenting plan;

(ii) Require that the deploying parent shall have continued access to the child, provided that such contact is in the child's best interest;

(iii) Ensure the disclosure of financial information pertaining to both parties;

(iv) Determine the child support responsibilities under Code Section 19-6-15 of both parents during the deployment; and

(v) Determine the child's best interest and consider delegating to any third parties with close contacts to the child any reasonable parenting time during the deployment. In deciding such request the court shall consider the reasonable requests of the deployed parent.

(B) Any pleading filed to establish a parenting plan or child support order under this paragraph shall be identified at the time of filing by stating in the text of the pleading the specific facts related to the deployment and by referencing this paragraph and subsection of this Code section;

(15) When an impending deployment precludes court expedited adjudication before deployment, the court may agree to allow the parties to arbitrate any issues as allowed under Code Section 19-9-1.1, or order the parties to mediation under any court established alternative dispute resolution program. For purposes of arbitration or mediation, each party shall be under a duty to provide to the other party information relevant to any parenting plan or support issues pertaining to the children or the parties;

(16) Each military parent shall be under a continuing duty to provide written notice to the nondeploying parent within 14 days of the military parent's receipt of oral or written orders requiring deployment or any other absences due to military service that will impact the military parent's ability to exercise his or her parenting time with a child. If deployment orders do not allow for 14 days' advance notice, then the military parent shall provide written notice to the other parent immediately upon receiving such notice; and

(17) A military parent shall ensure that any military family care plan that he or she has filed with his or her commander is consistent with any existing court orders for his or her child. In all instances any court order will be the first course of action for the care of a child during the absence of a military parent, and the military family care plan will be the alternative plan if the nondeploying parent either refuses to provide care for the child or acknowledges an inability to provide reasonable care for the child. A military parent shall not be considered in contempt of any court order or parenting plan when he or she in good faith implements his or her military family care plan based upon the refusal or claimed inability of a nondeploying parent to provide reasonable care for a child during a deployment."

SECTION 4.

Said article is further amended by revising Code Section 19-9-6, relating to definitions for the article, as follows:

"19-9-6.

(2) 'Deploy' or 'deployment' means military service in compliance with the military orders received by a member of the armed forces to report for combat operations, contingency operations, peacekeeping operations, a remote tour of duty, temporary duty, or other such military service for which a parent is required to report unaccompanied by family members. Deployment shall include the period during which a military parent remains subject to deployment orders and remains deployed on account of sickness, wounds, leave, or other lawful cause. ~~(2)~~(5) 'Joint legal custody' means both parents have equal rights and responsibilities for major decisions concerning the child, including the child's education, health care, extracurricular activities, and religious training; provided, however, that the judge may designate one parent to have sole power to make certain decisions while both parents retain equal rights and responsibilities for other decisions.

~~(3)~~(6) 'Joint physical custody' means that physical custody is shared by the parents in such a way as to assure the child of substantially equal time and contact with both parents.

(7) 'Military family care plan' means a plan that is periodically reviewed by a military parent's commander that provides for care of a military parent's child whenever his or her military duties prevent such parent from providing care to his or her child and ensures that a military parent has made adequate and reasonable arrangements to provide for the needs and supervision of his or her child whenever a nondeploying parent is unable or unavailable to provide care in the military parent's absence.

(8) 'Military parent' means a member of the armed forces who is a legal parent, adoptive parent, or guardian of a child under the age of 18, whose parental rights are established either by operation of law or the process of legitimation, and who has not had his or her parental rights terminated by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(9) 'Mobilization' or 'mobilize' means the call-up of the national guard and the reserve components of the armed forces to extended active duty service. Such term shall not include National Guard or Reserves component annual training, inactive duty days, drill weekends, or state active duty performed within the boundaries this state.

Unless otherwise provided by court order, the person awarded sole custody of a child shall have the rights and responsibilities for major decisions concerning the child, including the child's education, health care, extracurricular activities, and religious training, and the noncustodial parent shall have the right to visitation or parenting time. A person who has not been awarded custody of a child by court order shall not be considered as the sole legal custodian while exercising visitation rights or parenting time.

(12) 'State active duty' means the call-up by a governor for the performance of any military duty while serving within the boundaries of that state.

(13) 'Temporary duty' means the assignment of a military parent to a geographic location outside of this state for a limited period of time to accomplish training or to assist in the performance of a military mission."

SECTION 5.

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

SECTION 6.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
