45 SECTION 2.

46 Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to revenue and taxation, is 47 amended in Code Section 48-5-274, relating to establishment of equalized adjusted property
 48 tax digest, establishment and use of average ratio, information to be furnished by state 49 auditor, grievance procedure, and information to be furnished by commissioner, by revising 50 subsection (b) as follows:

51 "(b) The state auditor shall establish on a continuing basis, no later than November 15 in 52 each year, an equalized adjusted property tax digest for each county in the state and for the 53 state as a whole for the current calendar year. Such digest shall exclude all real and 54 personal property exempted from taxation and the difference between the value of all 55 taxable property within any tax allocation district and the tax allocation increment base of 56 such tax allocation district as defined under paragraph (15) of Code Section 36-44-3 for 57 which consent has been obtained pursuant to Code Section 36-44-9. The state auditor may 58 establish a unit within the Department of Audits and Accounts consisting of such number 59 of personnel as is deemed necessary in order to establish and maintain on a continuing 60 basis the equalized adjusted property tax digest. The equalized adjusted property tax digest 61 shall be established and maintained as follows:

- 62 (1) Determine the locally assessed valuation of the county property tax assessment digest 63 for the preceding calendar year, exclusive of real and personal property exempted from 64 taxation, exclusive of the difference between the value of all taxable property within any 65 tax allocation district and the tax allocation increment base of such tax allocation district
 66 as defined under paragraph (15) of Code Section 36-44-3 for which consent has been 67 obtained pursuant to Code Section 36-44-9, exclusive of railroad equipment company 68 property shown on the county railroad equipment company property tax digest, exclusive 69 of any property subject to current use valuation on the county property tax digest, and 70 exclusive of the locally assessed valuation of timber harvested or sold;
- 71 (2) Determine the fair market value for timber harvested or sold during the calendar year;
- 72 (3) Divide the sum of the locally assessed valuation of the county property tax 73 assessment digest under paragraph (1) of this subsection by the ratio of assessed value to 74 fair market value of the property established by the state auditor in accordance with 75 paragraph (8) of this subsection;
- 76 (4) Determine the fair market value of the county railroad equipment company property 77 tax digest for the preceding calendar year;
- 78 (5) Determine the sum of the current use valuation of the county property tax digest;
- 79 (6) Determine the total fair market value of the Public Utility Digest as established by 80 the commissioner;
- 81 (6.1) Determine any adjustment necessary to account for the net activities on any digest
 82 due to the activities of a joint authority as provided in Code Section 36-62-5.1;
- 83 (7) The total of the sums obtained through the calculations prescribed in paragraphs (2), 84 (3), (4), (5), ~~and (6)~~, and (6.1) of this subsection shall be known as the current equalized
 85 adjusted property tax digest of the county. The sum of the current equalized adjusted 86 property tax digest of all counties of the state combined shall be known as the current 87 equalized adjusted property tax digest for the state as a whole; and
- 88 (8) Establish for each county in the state the ratio of assessed value to fair market value
 89 of county property subject to taxation, excluding railroad equipment company property.
 90 The ratio shall be determined by establishing the ratio of assessed value to sales price for 91 each of a representative number of parcels of real property, the titles to which were 92 transferred during a period of time to be determined by the state auditor, and then by 93 establishing the measure of central tendency for the county as a whole based upon a 94 representative number of usable transactions studied. Any such sales price shall be 95 adjusted upward or downward, in a manner consistent with the Standard on Ratio Studies 96 published by the International Association of Assessing Officers or its successors, as 97 reasonably needed to account for the effects of price changes reflected in the market
 98 between the date of sale and January 1 of the calendar year for which the equalized

99 adjusted property tax digest is being prepared. Sales prices also shall be reduced by any 100 portion thereof attributable to personal property, real property exempt from taxation, or 101 standing timber included in the sales transaction. The representative number of 102 transactions shall not include any parcel of which the sales price is not reflective of the 103 fair market value of such property as fair market value is defined in Code Section 48-5-2.
104 The state auditor shall supplement realty sales price data available in any county with 105 actual appraisals of a representative number of parcels of farm property and industrial and 106 commercial property located within the county, the titles to which were not transferred 107 within the period of time determined by the state auditor. The state auditor may make 108 appraisals on other types of real property located within the county when adequate realty
109 sales data cannot be obtained on such property. The representative number of parcels of 110 each class of real property as defined by the commissioner used for the study shall be 111 determined by the state auditor. The state auditor may use the same ratio for other 112 personal property, excluding motor vehicles, within the county as is finally determined 113 for real property within the county."

114 SECTION 3.

115 This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law 116 without such approval.

117 SECTION 4.

118 All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
