

The House Committee on Juvenile Justice offers the following substitute to SB 454:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT

1 To amend Chapter 6 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to 2 alimony and child support, so as to provide for guidelines for child support award 3 calculations; to provide definitions; to provide for related matters; to provide for effective 4 dates; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

5 BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

6 SECTION 1.

7 Chapter 6 of Title 19 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to alimony and 8 child support, is amended by revising Code Section 19-6-15, relating to child support 9 guidelines for determining amount of award, continuation of duty of support, and duration 10 of support, as follows:

11 "(a) Definitions. As used in this Code section, the term:

12 (1) Reserved.

13 (2) 'Adjusted income' means the determination of a parent's monthly gross income, 14 calculated by deducting from that parent's monthly gross income one-half of the amount 15 of any applicable self-employment taxes being paid by the parent, any preexisting order 16 for current child support which is being paid by the parent, and any theoretical child

S. B. 454 (SUB)

17 support order for other qualified children, if allowed by the court. For further reference 18 see paragraph (5) of subsection (f) of this Code section.

19 (3) 'Basic child support obligation' means the monthly amount of support displayed on 20 the basic child support obligation table which corresponds to the parents' combined 21 adjusted gross income and the number of children for whom child support is being 22 determined.

23 (4) Reserved.

24 (5) Reserved.

25 (6) ~~Child~~ Basic child support obligation table' means the chart set forth in subsection (o) 26 of this Code section.

27 (6.1) 'Child support services' means the entity within the Department of Human Services 28 and its contractors that are authorized to enforce a duty of support.

29 (7) 'Combined adjusted gross income' means the amount of adjusted gross income of the 30 custodial parent added to the amount of adjusted gross income of the noncustodial parent.

31 (8) 'Court' means a judge of any court of record or an administrative law judge of the 32 Office of State Administrative Hearings.

33 (9) 'Custodial parent' means:

34 (A) The ~~the~~ parent with whom the child resides more than 50 percent of the time; or

35 (B) If ~~When a custodial parent has not been designated or when a child resides an equal~~ 36 ~~amount of time, the court shall designate the custodial parent as the parent with the~~ 37 ~~lesser support obligation and the other parent as the noncustodial parent. equally with~~ 38 ~~both parents, the parent who earns the lesser amount of gross income; or~~

39 (C) If a ~~When the~~ child resides equally with both parents and neither parent can be 40 determined as ~~owing a greater amount than the other~~ earning the lesser amount of gross 41 income, the court shall determine which parent to designate as the custodial parent for 42 the purpose of this Code section.

43 (10) 'Deviation' means an increase or decrease from the presumptive amount of child 44 support if the presumed ~~order~~ child support amount is rebutted by evidence and the 45 required findings of fact are made by the court or the jury pursuant to subsection (i) of 46 this Code section.

47 (11) 'Final child support amount' means the presumptive amount of child support 48 adjusted by any deviations:

49 (A) Any deviations, if applicable;

50 (B) A low-income adjustment, if applicable;

51 (C) A credit to the noncustodial parent for any Social Security Administration 52 payments paid to the child from such parent's social security account; and 53 (D) A credit to the noncustodial parent for any U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs 54 disability payments paid to the child from such parent's veterans affairs account.

55 A final child support amount is determined for each parent, which reflects each parent's 56 child support responsibility.

57 (11.1) 'Future uninsured healthcare expenses' means a child's uninsured medical 58 expenses, including, but not limited to, health insurance copayments, deductibles, and 59 such other costs as are reasonably necessary for orthodontia, dental treatment, asthma 60 treatments, physical therapy, vision care, and any acute or chronic medical or health 61 problem or mental health illness, including counseling and other medical or mental health 62 expenses, that are not covered by insurance. For further reference, see paragraph (3) of 63 subsection (h) of this Code section.

64 (12) 'Gross income' means all income to be included in the calculation of child support 65 as set forth in subsection (f) of this Code section.

66 (13) 'Health insurance' means any general health or medical policy. For further reference 67 see paragraph (2) of subsection (h) of this Code section.

68 (13.1) 'Low-income adjustment table' means the chart set forth in subsection (p) of this 69 Code section.

70 (14) 'Noncustodial parent' means:

71 (A) The the parent with whom the child resides less than 50 percent of the time; or 72 (B) If a child resides equally with both parents, the parent who has earns the greater 73 payment obligation for child support. amount of gross income; or

74 (C) If a ~~When the~~ child resides equally with both parents and neither parent can be 75 determined as ~~owing a lesser amount than the other~~ earning the greater amount of gross 76 income, the court shall determine which parent to designate as the noncustodial parent 77 for the purpose of this Code section.

78 (15) 'Nonparent custodian' means an individual who has been granted legal custody of 79 a child, or an individual who has a legal right to seek, modify, or enforce a child support 80 order.

81 (16) 'Parent' means a person who owes a child a duty of support pursuant to Code
82 Section 19-7-2.

83 (17) 'Parenting time adjustment' means an adjustment reducing the basic child support 84 obligation amount owed by the noncustodial parent to account for expenses incurred 85 during that parent's court ordered parenting time deviation' means a deviation allowed for 86 the noncustodial parent based upon the noncustodial parent's court ordered visitation with 87 the child. For further reference see subsections subsection (g) and (i) of this Code 88 section.

89 (17.1) 'Parenting time unit of measurement' means the unit of measurement used to 90 determine the amount of time each parent has with the child for purposes of calculating 91 the parenting time adjustment. Parenting time shall be determined by calculating the 92 number of days a parent spends with a child in a two-year period for an annual average.

93 (A) For the purposes of this Code section, 'days' means:

94 (i) The total number of overnights a parent spends with the child; or

95 (ii) In circumstances where a parent has shorter but regular and recurring daytime 96 periods with a child, the total hours of parenting time in the annual average divided 97 by 24 hours, including any hours spent overnight, if applicable;

98 (17.2) 'Payer' means the parent required to physically pay his or her share of child 99 support to either the child's other parent or a nonparent custodian. Typically, but not 100 always, the payer is the same parent who is the noncustodial parent as defined in 101 paragraph (14) of subsection (a) of this Code Section. If, after completing all the 102 applicable schedules of the child support worksheet, the noncustodial parent's child 103 support obligation is a positive number, the noncustodial parent is the payer. If, after 104 completing all the applicable schedules of the child support worksheet, the noncustodial 105 parent's child support obligation is a negative number, then the negative number becomes 106 its positive equivalent and the custodial parent is the payer. For further reference, see 107 paragraph (9) of subsection (b) of this Code section.

108 (18) 'Preexisting order' means:

109 (A) An order in another case that requires a parent to make child support payments for 110 another child, which child support the parent is actually paying, as evidenced by 111 documentation as provided in division (f)(5)(B)(iii) of this Code section; and 112 (B) That the date and time of filing with the clerk of court of the initial order for each 113 such other case is earlier than the date and time of filing with the clerk of court of the 114 initial order in the case immediately before the court, regardless of the age of any child 115 in any of the cases.

116 (19) 'Presumptive amount of child support' means the basic child support obligation 117 including health insurance and work related child care costs.

118 (20) 'Qualified child' or 'qualified children' means any child:

119 (A) For whom the parent is legally responsible and in whose home the child resides;

120 (B) Who the parent is actually supporting;

121 (C) Who is not subject to a preexisting order; and

122 (D) Who is not before the court to set, modify, or enforce support in the case 123 immediately under consideration.

124 Qualified children shall not include stepchildren or other minors in the home who the 125 parent has no legal obligation to support.

126 (21) 'Split parenting' ~~can occur~~ only occurs in a child support case ~~only~~ if there are two 127 or more children of the same parents, when one parent is the custodial parent for at least 128 one ~~child~~ of the children of the parents, and the other parent is the custodial parent for at 129 least one of the other child of the parents children. In a split parenting case, there shall 130 be a separate worksheet for each custodial parent. For further reference, see subsection 131 (l) of this Code section. ~~In a split parenting case, each parent is the custodial parent of~~ 132 ~~any child spending more than 50 percent of the time with that parent and is the~~ 133 ~~noncustodial parent of any child spending more than 50 percent of the time with the other~~ 134 ~~parent. A split parenting situation shall have two custodial parents and two noncustodial~~ 135 ~~parents, but no child shall have more than one custodial parent or noncustodial parent.~~

136 (22) 'Theoretical child support order' means a hypothetical child support order for 137 qualified children as calculated in subparagraph (f)(5)(C) of this Code section which 138 allows the court to determine the amount of child support as if a child support order 139 existed.

140 ~~(23) 'Uninsured health care expenses' means a child's uninsured medical expenses~~ 141 ~~including, but not limited to, health insurance copayments, deductibles, and such other~~ 142 ~~costs as are reasonably necessary for orthodontia, dental treatment, asthma treatments,~~ 143 ~~physical therapy, vision care, and any acute or chronic medical or health problem or~~ 144 ~~mental health illness, including counseling and other medical or mental health expenses,~~
 145 ~~that are not covered by insurance. For further reference see paragraph (3) of subsection~~ 146 ~~(h) of this Code section.~~

147 ~~(24)~~(23) 'Work related child care costs' means expenses for the care of the child for 148 whom support is being determined which are due to employment of either parent. In an

149 appropriate case, the court may consider the child care costs associated with a parent's job 150 search or the training or education of a parent necessary to obtain a job or enhance 151 earning potential, not to exceed a reasonable time as determined by the court, if the parent 152 proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the job search, job training, or education 153 will benefit the child being supported. The term shall be projected for the next 154 consecutive 12 months and averaged to obtain a monthly amount. For further reference, 155 see paragraph (1) of subsection (h) of this Code section.

156 ~~(25)~~(24) 'Worksheet' or 'child support worksheet' means the document used to record 157 information necessary to determine and calculate monthly child support. For further 158 reference see subsection (m) of this Code section.

159 (a.1)(1) As used in this chapter, the term 'child' means child or children, including any 160 unborn child with a detectable human heartbeat as such terms are defined in Code 161 Section 1-2-1.

162 (2) Notwithstanding any provision of this Code section to the contrary, the maximum 163 amount of support which the court may impose on the father of an unborn child under this 164 Code section shall be the amount of direct medical and pregnancy related expenses of the 165 mother of the unborn child. After birth, the provisions of this Code section shall apply 166 in full.

167 (b) Process of calculating child support. Pursuant to this Code section, the 168 determination of monthly child support shall be calculated as follows:

169 (1) Determine the monthly gross income of both the custodial parent and the 170 noncustodial parent pursuant to subsection (f) of this Code section. ~~Gross income may~~ 171 ~~include imputed income, if applicable.~~ The determination of monthly gross income shall 172 be entered on the Child Support Schedule A – Gross Income;

173 (2) Adjust each parent's monthly gross income by deducting the following from the 174 parents' monthly gross income and entering it on the Child Support Schedule 175 B – Adjusted Income if any of the following apply:

- 176 (A) One-half of the amount of self-employment taxes;
- 177 (B) Preexisting orders; and
- 178 (C) Theoretical child support order for qualified children, if allowed by the court;
- 179 (3) Add each parent's adjusted gross income together;
- 180 (4) Locate the basic child support obligation by referring to the basic child support
- 181 obligation table. ~~Using~~ Locate the figure closest to the amount of the parents' combined
- 182 adjusted gross income, ~~locate the amount of the basic child support obligation as found~~
- 183 in the left-most column of the table and then locate the number of children for whom
- 184 support is being determined in the top row. Locate where such column and such row
- 185 intersect to identify the basic child support obligation amount. If the parents' combined
- 186 adjusted gross income falls between the amounts shown in the table, then the basic child
- 187 support obligation shall be based on the income bracket most closely matched to the
- 188 parents' combined adjusted gross income. The basic child support obligation amount
- 189 stated determined using this process and the basic child support obligation table located
- 190 in subsection (o) of this Code section shall be rebuttably presumed to be the appropriate
- 191 ~~amount of child support to be provided by the custodial parent and the noncustodial~~
- 192 ~~parent prior to consideration of health insurance, work related child care costs, and~~
- 193 ~~deviations;~~
- 194 (5) Calculate the pro rata share of the basic child support obligation for the custodial
- 195 parent and the noncustodial parent by dividing the combined adjusted gross income into
- 196 each parent's adjusted gross income to arrive at each parent's pro rata percentage of the
- 197 basic child support obligation;
- 198 (5.1) Adjust the noncustodial parent's share of the basic child support obligation amount
- 199 to account for such parent's expenses incurred during his or her court ordered parenting
- 200 time by following the steps in subsection (g) of this Code section, and the determination
- 201 of the parenting time adjustment shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule
- 202 C – Parenting Time Adjustment;

203 ~~(6) Find the adjusted child support obligation amount~~ the presumptive amount of child 204 support by adding the additional expenses of the costs of health insurance premiums for 205 the child and work related child care costs, prorating such expenses in accordance with 206 each parent's pro rata share of the obligation and adding such expenses to the pro rata 207 share of the basic child support obligation. The monthly cost of health insurance 208 premiums and work related child care costs shall be entered on the Child Support 209 Schedule D – Additional Expenses. The pro rata share of the monthly basic child support 210 obligation and the pro rata share of the combined additional expenses shall be added 211 together to create the monthly adjusted child support obligation following the steps in 212 subsection (h) of this Code section, and the determination of the presumptive amount of 213 child support shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule D – Additional Expenses; 214 ~~(7) Determine the amount of child support for the custodial parent and the noncustodial~~ 215 ~~parent resulting in a monthly sum certain payment due to the custodial parent by~~ 216 ~~assigning or deducting credit for actual payments for health insurance and work related~~ 217 ~~child care costs from the basic child support obligation;~~ 218 ~~(8) In accordance with subsection (i) of this Code section, deviations subtracted from or~~ 219 ~~added to the presumptive amount of child support shall be applied, if applicable, and if~~ 220 ~~supported by the required findings of fact and application of the best interest of the child~~
221 ~~standard. The proposed deviations shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule E –~~ 222 ~~Deviations: Account for deviations, if applicable, as supported by the required findings~~ 223 ~~of fact, and apply the best interest of the child standard by following the steps in~~ 224 ~~subsection (i); the determination of any such deviation shall be entered on the Child~~ 225 ~~Support Schedule E – Deviations. In the court's or the jury's discretion, deviations may~~ 226 ~~include, but shall not be limited to, the following:~~
227 (A) High income;
228 (B) Low income;
229 ~~(C)~~(B) Other health related insurance;

230 ~~(D)~~(C) Life insurance;

231 ~~(E)~~(D) Child and dependent care tax credit;

232 ~~(F)~~(E) Travel expenses;

233 ~~(G)~~(F) Alimony;

234 ~~(H)~~(G) Mortgage;

235 ~~(I)~~(H) Permanency plan or foster care plan;

236 ~~(J)~~(I) Extraordinary expenses; and 237 ~~(K)~~ Parenting time; and 238 ~~(L)~~(J) Nonspecific deviations;

239 (8) Make a low-income adjustment, if applicable, to the parent's presumptive amount of 240 child support as changed by deviations, if applicable, by following the steps in subsection

241 (i.1) of this Code section. The Georgia Child Support Calculator will automatically 242 perform this function.

243 (9)(A) If the noncustodial parent's child support obligation is shown as a positive 244 amount, then the noncustodial parent is the payer of child support;

245 (B) If the noncustodial parent's child support obligation is shown as a negative amount,

246 then the custodial parent is the payer of child support. The child support amount owed

247 from the custodial parent (payer) to the noncustodial parent is the positive equivalent

248 of the negative amount, and this will be the amount to be paid to the noncustodial 249 parent by the custodial parent.

250 ~~(9)~~(10) Any benefits which the child receives under Title II of the federal Social Security

251 Act or from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs due to the noncustodial parent's 252 disability shall be applied against the noncustodial parent's final child support amount.

253 The final child support amount for each parent shall be entered on the child support 254 worksheet, together with the information from each of the utilized schedules;

255 ~~(10)~~(11) The parents shall allocate the future uninsured ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses

256 which shall be based on the pro rata responsibility of the parents or as otherwise ordered

257 by the court. Each parent's pro rata responsibility for future uninsured ~~health care~~ 258 healthcare expenses shall be entered on the child support worksheet; and 259 ~~(11) In a split parenting case, there shall be a separate calculation and final order for each~~ 260 ~~parent; and~~

261 (12) When there is more than one child for whom support is being determined, the court 262 shall establish the amount of support and the duration of such support in accordance with 263 subsection (e) of this Code section. When, within two years of a final order being 264 entered, there is a likelihood that a child will become ineligible to receive support, the 265 court may allow for the use of separate worksheets. Separate worksheets shall show the 266 final child support amount to be paid for all such children and the adjusted amount of 267 support to be paid as each child becomes ineligible to receive support during such 268 two-year period. Such worksheets shall be attached to the final order. Such order shall 269 contain findings as required by law. A final order entered pursuant to this paragraph shall 270 not preclude a petition for modification.

271 (c) Applicability and required findings.

272 (1) The child support guidelines contained in this Code section are a minimum basis for 273 determining the amount of child support and shall apply as a rebuttable presumption in 274 all legal proceedings involving the child support responsibility of a parent. This Code 275 section shall be used when the court enters a temporary or permanent child support order 276 in a contested or noncontested hearing or order in a civil action filed pursuant to Code 277 Section 19-13-4. The rebuttable presumptive amount of child support provided by this 278 Code section may be increased or decreased according to the best interest of the child for 279 whom support is being considered, the circumstances of the parties, the grounds for 280 deviation set forth in subsection (i) of this Code section, and to achieve the state policy 281 of affording to children of unmarried parents, to the extent possible, the same economic 282 standard of living enjoyed by children living in intact families consisting of parents with 283 similar financial means.

284 (2) The provisions of this Code section shall not apply with respect to any divorce case 285 in which there are no minor children, except to the limited extent authorized by 286 subsection (e) of this Code section. In the final judgment or decree in a divorce case in 287 which there are minor children, or in other cases which are governed by the provisions 288 of this Code section, the court shall:

289 (A) Specify in what sum certain amount, the duration of such support, and from which 290 parent the child is entitled to permanent support as determined by use of the worksheet 291 or multiple worksheets when ~~there is more than one minor child~~ paragraph (12) of 292 subsection (b) of this Code section applies;

293 (B) Specify in what manner, how often, to whom, and until when the support shall be 294 paid;

295 (C) Include a written finding of each parent's gross income as determined by the court 296 or the jury;

297 (D) Determine whether health insurance for the child involved is reasonably available 298 at a reasonable cost to either parent. If the health insurance is reasonably available at 299 a reasonable cost to the parent, then the court shall order that the child be covered under 300 such health insurance;

301 (E) Include written findings of fact as to whether one or more of the deviations allowed 302 under this Code section are applicable, and if one or more such deviations are 303 applicable as determined by the court or the jury, the written findings of fact shall 304 further set forth:

305 (i) The reasons the court or the jury deviated from the presumptive amount of child 306 support;

307 (ii) The amount of child support that would have been required under this Code 308 section if the presumptive amount of child support had not been rebutted; and

309 (iii) A finding that states how the court's or the jury's application of the child support 310 guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate considering the relative ability of each 311 parent to provide support and how the best interest of the child who is subject to the 312 child support determination is served by deviation from the presumptive amount of 313 child support;

314 (F) Specify the amount of the noncustodial parent's court ordered parenting time ~~as set~~ 315 ~~forth in the order of visitation~~;

316 (G) If any credit is given to the noncustodial parent as provided in paragraphs (3) 317 and (3.1) of subsection (f) of this Code section, include ~~Include~~ a written finding 318 regarding the use of benefits received under Title II of the federal Social Security Act 319 and the use of benefits received under the United States Department of Veterans Affairs 320 Disability in the calculation of the amount of child support; and 321 (H) Specify the percentage of future uninsured ~~health-care~~ healthcare expenses for 322 which each parent shall be responsible.

323 (3) When child support is ordered, the party who is required to pay the child support 324 shall not be liable to third persons for necessities furnished to the child embraced in the 325 judgment or decree.

326 (4) In all cases, the parties shall submit to the court their worksheets and schedules and 327 the presence or absence of other factors to be considered by the court or the jury pursuant 328 to the provisions of this Code section.

329 (5) In any case in which the gross income of the custodial parent and the noncustodial 330 parent is determined by a jury, the court shall charge the provisions of this Code section 331 applicable to the determination of gross income. The jury shall be required to return a 332 special interrogatory determining gross income. The court shall determine adjusted gross 333 income, health insurance costs, and work related child care costs. Based upon the jury's 334 verdict as to gross income, the court shall determine the presumptive amount of child 335 support in accordance with the provisions of this Code section. The court shall inform 336 the jury of the presumptive amount of child support and the identity of the custodial and 337 noncustodial parents. In the final instructions to the jury, the court shall charge the 338 provisions of this Code section applicable to the determination of deviations and the jury 339 shall be required to return a special interrogatory as to deviations and the final award of 340 child support. The court shall include its findings and the jury's verdict on the child 341 support worksheet in accordance with this Code section and Code Section 19-5-12.

342 (6) Nothing contained within this Code section shall prevent the parties from entering 343 into an enforceable agreement contrary to the presumptive amount of child support which 344 may be made the order of the court pursuant to review by the court of the adequacy of the 345 child support amounts negotiated by the parties, including the provision for medical 346 expenses and health insurance; provided, however, that if the agreement negotiated by 347 the parties does not comply with the provisions contained in this Code section and does 348 not contain findings of fact as required to support a deviation, the court shall reject such 349 agreement.

350 (7) In any case filed pursuant to Chapter 11 of this title, relating to the 'Child Support 351 Recovery Act,' the 'Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act,' or the 'Uniform 352 Interstate Family Support Act,' the court shall make all determinations of fact, including 353 gross income and deviations, and a jury shall not hear any issue related to such cases.

354 (d) Nature of guidelines; court's discretion. In the event of a hearing or trial on the issue 355 of child support, the guidelines enumerated in this Code section are intended by the 356 General Assembly to be guidelines only and any court so applying such guidelines shall 357 not abrogate its responsibility in making the final determination of child support based on 358 the evidence presented to it at the time of the hearing or trial. A court's final determination 359 of child support shall take into account the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's earnings, income, 360 and other evidence of the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's ability to pay. The court or the 361 jury shall also consider the basic subsistence needs of the parents and the child for whom 362 support is to be provided.

363 (e) Duration of child support responsibility. The duty to provide support for a minor 364 child shall continue until the child reaches the age of majority, dies, marries, or becomes 365 emancipated, whichever first occurs; provided, however, that, in any temporary, final, or 366 modified order for child support with respect to any proceeding for divorce, separate 367 maintenance, legitimacy, or paternity entered on or after July 1, 1992, the court, in the 368 exercise of sound discretion, may direct either or both parents to provide financial 369 assistance to a child who has not previously married or become emancipated, who is 370 enrolled in and attending a secondary school, and who has attained the age of majority 371 before completing his or her secondary school education, provided that such financial 372 assistance shall not be required after a child attains 20 years of age. The provisions for 373 child support provided in this subsection may be enforced by either parent, by any 374 nonparent custodian, by a guardian appointed to receive child support for the child for 375 whose benefit the child support is ordered, or by the child for whose benefit the child 376 support is ordered.

377 (f) Gross income.

378 (1) Inclusion to gross income.

379 (A) Attributable income. Gross income of each parent shall be determined in the 380 process of setting the presumptive amount of child support and shall include all income 381 from any source, before deductions for taxes and other deductions such as preexisting 382 orders for child support and credits for other qualified children, whether earned or 383 unearned, and includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- 384 (i) Salaries;
- 385 (ii) Commissions, fees, and tips;
- 386 (iii) Income from self-employment;
- 387 (iv) Bonuses;
- 388 (v) Overtime payments;
- 389 (vi) Severance pay;

- 390 (vii) Recurring income from pensions or retirement plans, including, but not limited 391 to, United States Department of Veterans Affairs, Railroad Retirement Board, 392 Keoghs, and individual retirement accounts;
- 393 (viii) Interest income;
- 394 (ix) Dividend income;
- 395 (x) Trust income;
- 396 (xi) Income from annuities;
- 397 (xii) Capital gains;
- 398 (xiii) Disability or retirement benefits that are received from the Social Security 399 Administration pursuant to Title II of the federal Social Security Act;
- 400 (xiv) Disability benefits that are received pursuant to the federal Veterans' Benefits 401 Act of 2010, 38 U.S.C. Section 101, et seq.;
- 402 (xv) Workers' compensation benefits, whether temporary or permanent;
- 403 (xvi) Unemployment insurance benefits;
- 404 (xvii) Judgments recovered for personal injuries and awards from other civil actions;
- 405 (xviii) Gifts that consist of cash or other liquid instruments, or which can be 406 converted to cash;
- 407 (xix) Prizes;
- 408 (xx) Lottery winnings;
- 409 (xxi) Alimony or maintenance received from persons other than parties to the 410 proceeding before the court;
- 411 (xxii) Assets which are used for the support of the family; and
- 412 (xxiii) Other income.
- 413 (B) Self-employment income. Income from self-employment includes income from, 414 but not limited to, business operations, work as an independent contractor or consultant, 415 sales of goods or services, and rental properties, less ordinary and reasonable expenses 416 necessary to produce such income. Income from self-employment, rent, royalties,

417 proprietorship of a business, or joint ownership of a partnership, limited liability 418 company, or closely held corporation is defined as gross receipts minus ordinary and 419 reasonable expenses required for self-employment or business operations. Ordinary 420 and reasonable expenses of self-employment or business operations necessary to 421 produce income do not include:

422 (i) Excessive promotional, travel, vehicle, or personal living expenses, depreciation 423 on equipment, or costs of operation of home offices; or 424 (ii) Amounts allowable by the Internal Revenue Service for the accelerated 425 component of depreciation expenses, investment tax credits, or any other business 426 expenses determined by the court or the jury to be inappropriate for determining gross 427 income.

428 In general, income and expenses from self-employment or operation of a business 429 should be carefully reviewed by the court or the jury to determine an appropriate level 430 of gross income available to the parent to satisfy a child support obligation. Generally, 431 this amount will differ from a determination of business income for tax purposes.

432 (C) Fringe benefits. Fringe benefits for inclusion as income or 'in kind' remuneration 433 received by a parent in the course of employment, or operation of a trade or business, 434 shall be counted as income if the benefits significantly reduce personal living expenses.
435 Such fringe benefits might include, but are not limited to, use of a company car, 436 housing, or room and board. Fringe benefits shall not include employee benefits that 437 are typically added to the salary, wage, or other compensation that a parent may receive 438 as a standard added benefit, including, but not limited to, employer paid portions of 439 health insurance premiums or employer contributions to a retirement or pension plan.

440 (D) Variable income. Variable income such as commissions, bonuses, overtime pay, 441 military bonuses, and dividends shall be averaged by the court or the jury over a 442 reasonable period of time consistent with the circumstances of the case and added to a 443 parent's fixed salary or wages to determine gross income. When income is received on 444 an irregular, nonrecurring, or one-time basis, the court or the jury may, but is not 445 required to, average or prorate the income over a reasonable specified period of time 446 or require the parent to pay as a one-time support amount a percentage of his or her 447 nonrecurring income, taking into consideration the percentage of recurring income of 448 that parent.

449 (E) Military compensation and allowances. Income for a parent who is an active 450 duty member of the regular or reserve component of the United States armed forces, the 451 United States Coast Guard, the merchant marine of the United States, the commissioned 452 corps of the Public Health Service or the National Oceanic and Atmospheric 453 Administration, the National Guard, or the Air National Guard shall include:

- 454 (i) Base pay;
455 (ii) Drill pay;
456 (iii) Basic allowance for subsistence, whether paid directly to the parent or received 457 in-kind; and 458 (iv) Basic allowance for housing, whether paid directly to the parent or received 459 in-kind, determined at the parent's pay grade at the without dependent rate, but shall 460 include only so much of the allowance that is not attributable to area variable housing 461 costs.

462 Except as determined by the court or the jury, special pay or incentive pay, allowances 463 for clothing or family separation, and reimbursed expenses related to the parent's 464 assignment to a high cost of living location shall not be considered income for the 465 purpose of determining gross income.

466 (2) Exclusions from gross income. Excluded from gross income are the following:

- 467 (A) Child support payments received by either parent for the benefit of a child of 468 another relationship;
469 (B) Benefits received from means-tested public assistance programs such as, but not 470 limited to:

- 471 (i) PeachCare for Kids Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families Program, 472 or similar programs in other states or territories under Title IV-A of the federal Social 473 Security Act;
- 474 (ii) Food stamps or the value of food assistance provided by way of electronic 475 benefits transfer procedures by the Department of Human Services;
- 476 (iii) Supplemental security income received under Title XVI of the federal Social 477 Security Act;
- 478 (iv) Benefits received under Section 402(d) of the federal Social Security Act for 479 disabled adult children of deceased disabled workers; and
- 480 (v) Low-income heating and energy assistance program payments;
- 481 (C) Foster care payments paid by the Department of Human Services or a licensed 482 child-placing agency for providing foster care to a foster child in the custody of the 483 Department of Human Services;
- 484 (D) A nonparent custodian's gross income; and
- 485 (E) Benefits received under Title IV-B or IV-E of the federal Social Security Act and 486 state funding associated therewith for adoption assistance.

487 (3) Social Security benefits.

- 488 (A) Benefits received under Title II of the federal Social Security Act by a child on the 489 ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's account shall be counted as child support payments and 490 shall be applied against the final child support amount to be paid by the ~~obligor~~ 491 noncustodial parent for the child.
- 492 (B) After calculating the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's monthly gross income, 493 including the countable social security benefits as specified in division (1)(A)(xiii) of 494 this subsection, and after calculating the amount of child support, if the presumptive 495 amount of child support, as increased or decreased by deviations, is greater than the 496 social security benefits paid on behalf of the child on the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's 497 account, the ~~obligor~~ noncustodial parent shall be required to pay the amount exceeding 498 the social security benefit as part of the final order in the case.

499 (C) After calculating the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's monthly gross income, 500 including the countable social security benefits as specified in division (1)(A)(xiii) of 501 this subsection, and after calculating the amount of child support, if the presumptive 502 amount of child support, as increased or decreased by deviations, is equal to or less than 503 the social security benefits paid to the nonparent custodian or custodial parent on behalf 504 of the child on the ~~obligor's~~ noncustodial parent's account, the child support 505 responsibility of that parent shall have been met and no further child support shall be 506 paid.

507 (D) Any benefit amounts under Title II of the federal Social Security Act as determined 508 by the Social Security Administration sent to the nonparent custodian or custodial 509 parent by the Social Security Administration for the child's benefit which are greater 510 than the final child support amount shall be retained by the nonparent custodian or 511 custodial parent for the child's benefit and shall not be used as a reason for decreasing 512 the final child support amount or reducing arrearages.

513 (3.1) United States Department of Veterans Affairs disability benefits.

514 (A) Benefits received under the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) 515 disability benefits by a child on the noncustodial parent's account shall be counted as 516 child support payments and shall be applied against the final child support amount to 517 be paid by the noncustodial parent for the child.

518 (B) After determining the noncustodial parent's monthly gross income, including the 519 VA disability benefits and after calculating the amount of child support per 520 subsection (b) of this Code section, if the presumptive amount of child support, as 521 increased or decreased by deviations, is greater than the VA disability benefits paid on 522 behalf of the child on the noncustodial parent's account, the noncustodial parent shall 523 be required to pay the amount exceeding the VA disability benefit as the final child 524 support amount.

525 (C) After determining the noncustodial parent's monthly gross income, including the 526 countable VA disability benefits paid, and after calculating the amount of child support 527 per subsection (b) of this Code section, if the presumptive amount of child support, as 528 increased or decreased by deviations, is equal to or less than the VA disability benefits 529 paid on behalf of the child on the noncustodial parent's account, the child support 530 responsibility of the noncustodial parent shall have been met and no further child 531 support shall be paid.

532 (D) Any benefit amounts received under the United States Department of Veterans 533 Affairs (VA) disability sent to the nonparent custodian or custodial parent by the United 534 States Department of Veterans Affairs for the child's benefit which are greater than the 535 final child support amount shall be retained by the nonparent custodian or custodial 536 parent for the child's benefit and shall not be used as a reason for decreasing the final 537 child support amount or reducing arrearages.

538 (4) Reliable evidence of income.

539 (A) Imputed income. When establishing the amount of child support, if a parent fails 540 to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior years, check stubs, 541 or other information for determining current ability to pay child support or ability to 542 pay child support in prior years, and the court or the jury has no other reliable evidence 543 of the parent's income or income potential, gross income for the current year may be 544 imputed. When imputing income, the court or the jury shall take into account the 545 specific circumstances of the parent to the extent known, including such factors as the 546 parent's assets, residence, employment and earnings history, job skills, educational 547 attainment, literacy, age, health, criminal record and other employment barriers, and 548 record of seeking work, as well as the local job market, the availability of employers 549 willing to hire the parent, prevailing earnings level in the local community, and other

550 relevant background factors in the case. If a parent is incarcerated, the court or the jury 551 shall not assume an ability for earning capacity based upon pre-incarceration wages or 552 other employment related income, but income may be imputed based upon the actual 553 income and assets available to such incarcerated parent.

554 (B) Modification. When cases with established orders are reviewed for modification 555 and a parent fails to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior 556 years, check stubs, or other information for determining current ability to pay child 557 support or ability to pay child support in prior years, and the court or the jury has no 558 other reliable evidence of such parent's income or income potential, the court or the jury 559 may impute income as set forth in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, or may increase 560 the child support of the parent failing or refusing to produce evidence of income by an 561 increment of at least 10 percent per year of such parent's gross income for each year 562 since the final order was entered or last modified and shall calculate the basic child 563 support obligation using the increased amount as such parent's gross income.

564 (C) Rehearing. If income is imputed pursuant to subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, 565 the party believing the income of the other party is higher than the amount imputed may 566 provide within 90 days, upon motion to the court, evidence necessary to determine the 567 appropriate amount of child support based upon reliable evidence. A hearing shall be 568 scheduled after the motion is filed. The court may increase, decrease, or leave 569 unchanged the amount of current child support from the date of filing of either parent's 570 initial filing or motion for reconsideration. While the motion for reconsideration is 571 pending, the ~~obligor~~ noncustodial parent shall be responsible for the amount of child 572 support originally ordered. Arrearages entered in the original child support order based 573 upon imputed income shall not be forgiven. When there is reliable evidence to support 574 a motion for reconsideration of the amount of income imputed, the party seeking 575 reconsideration shall not be required to prove the existence of grounds for modification 576 of an order pursuant to subsection (k) of this Code section.

577 (D) Willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment. In determining 578 whether a parent is willfully or voluntarily unemployed or underemployed, the court 579 or the jury shall ascertain the reasons for the parent's occupational choices and assess 580 the reasonableness of these choices in light of the parent's responsibility to support his 581 or her child and whether such choices benefit the child. A determination of willful or 582 voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not be limited to occupational 583 choices motivated only by an intent to avoid or reduce the payment of child support but 584 can be based on any intentional choice or act that affects a parent's income. A 585 determination of willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not be 586 made when an individual's incarceration prevents employment. In determining willful 587 or voluntary unemployment or underemployment, the court or the jury may examine 588 whether there is a substantial likelihood that the parent could, with reasonable effort, 589 apply his or her education, skills, or training to produce income. Specific factors for 590 the court or the jury to consider when determining willful or voluntary unemployment 591 or underemployment include, but are not limited to:

- 592 (i) The parent's past and present employment;
- 593 (ii) The parent's education and training;
- 594 (iii) Whether unemployment or underemployment for the purpose of pursuing 595 additional training or education is reasonable in light of the parent's responsibility to 596 support his or her child and, to this end, whether the training or education may 597 ultimately benefit the child in the case immediately under consideration by increasing 598 the parent's level of support for that child in the future;
- 599 (iv) A parent's ownership of valuable assets and resources, such as an expensive 600 home or automobile, that appear inappropriate or unreasonable for the income 601 claimed by the parent;
- 602 (v) The parent's own health and ability to work outside the home; and

603 (vi) The parent's role as caretaker of a child of that parent, a disabled or seriously ill 604 child of that parent, or a disabled or seriously ill adult child of that parent, or any 605 other disabled or seriously ill relative for whom that parent has assumed the role of 606 caretaker, which eliminates or substantially reduces the parent's ability to work 607 outside the home, and the need of that parent to continue in the role of caretaker in the 608 future. When considering the income potential of a parent whose work experience is 609 limited due to the caretaker role of that parent, the court or the jury shall consider the 610 following factors:

611 (I) Whether the parent acted in the role of full-time caretaker immediately prior to 612 separation by the married parties or prior to the divorce or annulment of the 613 marriage or dissolution of another relationship in which the parent was a full-time 614 caretaker;

615 (II) The length of time the parent staying at home has remained out of the work 616 force for this purpose;

617 (III) The parent's education, training, and ability to work; and 618 (IV) Whether the parent is caring for a child who is four years of age or younger.

619 If the court or the jury determines that a parent is willfully or voluntarily 620 unemployed or underemployed, child support shall be calculated based on a 621 determination of earning capacity, as evidenced by educational level or previous 622 work experience. In the absence of any other reliable evidence, income may be 623 imputed to the parent as provided for in subparagraph (f)(4)(A) of this Code section.

624 A determination of willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not 625 be made when an individual is activated from the National Guard or other armed forces 626 unit or enlists or is drafted for full-time service in the armed forces of the United States.

627 (5) Adjustments to gross income.

628 (A) Self-employment. One-half of the self-employment and Medicare taxes shall be 629 calculated as follows:

630 (i) Six and two-tenths percent of self-employment income up to the maximum 631 amount to which federal old age, survivors, and disability insurance (OASDI) applies; 632 plus

633 (ii) One and forty-five one-hundredths of a percent of self-employment income for 634 Medicare

635 and this amount shall be deducted from a self-employed parent's monthly gross income.

636 (B) Preexisting orders. An adjustment to the parent's monthly gross income shall be 637 made on the Child Support Schedule B – Adjusted Income for current preexisting 638 orders for a period of not less than 12 months immediately prior to the date of the 639 hearing or such period that an order has been in effect if less than 12 months prior to 640 the date of the hearing before the court to set, modify, or enforce child support.

641 (i) In calculating the adjustment for preexisting orders, the court shall include only 642 those preexisting orders meeting the criteria set forth in subparagraph (a)(18)(B) of 643 this Code section;

644 (ii) The priority for preexisting orders shall be determined by the date and time of 645 filing with the clerk of court of the initial order in each case. Subsequent 646 modifications of the initial support order shall not affect the priority position 647 established by the date and time of the initial order. In any modification proceeding, 648 the court rendering the decision shall make a specific finding of the date, and time if 649 known, of the initial order of the case;

650 (iii) Adjustments shall be allowed for current preexisting support only to the extent 651 that the payments are actually being paid as evidenced by documentation including, 652 but not limited to, payment history from a court clerk, the child support services' 653 computer data base, the child support payment history, or canceled checks or other 654 written proof of payments paid directly to the other parent. The maximum credit 655 allowed for a preexisting order is an average of the amount of current support actually 656 paid under the preexisting order over the past 12 months prior to the hearing date;

657 (iv) All preexisting orders shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule B – 658 Adjusted Income for the purpose of calculating the total amount of the credit to be 659 included on the child support worksheet; and 660 (v) Payments being made by a parent on any arrearages shall not be considered 661 payments on preexisting orders or subsequent orders and shall not be used as a basis 662 for reducing gross income.

663 (C) Theoretical child support orders. In addition to the adjustments to monthly gross 664 income for self-employment taxes provided in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph and 665 for preexisting orders provided in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, credits for either 666 parent's other qualified child living in the parent's home for whom the parent owes a 667 legal duty of support may be considered by the court for the purpose of reducing the 668 parent's gross income. To consider a parent's other qualified children for determining 669 the theoretical child support order, a parent shall present documentary evidence of the 670 parent-child relationship to the court. Adjustments to income pursuant to this 671 subparagraph may be considered in such circumstances in which the failure to consider 672 a qualified child would cause substantial hardship to the parent; provided, however, that 673 such consideration of an adjustment shall be based upon the best interest of the child 674 for whom child support is being awarded. If the court, in its discretion, decides to apply 675 the qualified child adjustment, the basic child support obligation of the parent for the 676 number of other qualified children living with such parent shall be determined based 677 upon that parent's monthly gross income. Except for self-employment taxes paid, no 678 other amounts shall be subtracted from the parent's monthly gross income when 679 calculating a theoretical child support order under this subparagraph. The basic child 680 support obligation for such parent shall be multiplied by 75 percent and the resulting 681 amount shall be subtracted from such parent's monthly gross income and entered on the 682 Child Support Schedule B – Adjusted Income.

683 (D) Multiple family situations. In multiple family situations, the priority of 684 adjustments to a parent's monthly gross income shall be calculated in the following 685 order:

686 (i) Preexisting orders according to the date and time of the initial order as set forth 687 in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph; and 688 (ii) Application of any credit for a parent's other qualified children using the 689 procedure set forth in subparagraph (C) of this paragraph.

690 ~~(g)(1) Parenting time deviation adjustment. The court or the jury may deviate from~~ 691 ~~the presumptive amount of child support as set forth in subparagraph (i)(2)(K) of this~~ 692 ~~Code section.~~

693 (A) The amounts listed in Georgia's basic child support obligation table are based on 694 commensurate expenses for a child in intact families. Accordingly, there is no 695 accounting for parenting time built into the basic child support obligation table. When 696 a noncustodial parent has court ordered parenting time with a child, some of the 697 expenses represented by the amount in the basic child support obligation table are 698 incurred by the noncustodial parent. Those expenses incurred by the noncustodial 699 parent are accounted for in the parenting time adjustment.

700 (B) The parenting time adjustment reduces the basic child support obligation amount 701 for the noncustodial parent to account for court ordered parenting time as defined by 702 the term parenting time unit of measurement in paragraph (17.1) of subsection (a) of 703 this Code section. This adjustment could reduce the noncustodial parent's share of the 704 basic child support obligation amount to zero or, in some circumstances where the 705 custodial parent's gross income exceeds the noncustodial parent's gross income, 706 increase the custodial parent's amount of the basic child support obligation to an amount 707 higher than the noncustodial parent.

708 (C) For purposes of this Code section, the amount of a parent's parenting time is 709 measured as defined by the term parenting time unit of measurement in subparagraph

710 (17.1) of subsection (a) of this Code section. Parenting time includes time with the child 711 whether it is designated as visitation, physical custody, or parenting time. This 712 parenting time adjustment shall only be used to account for court ordered parenting 713 time. If there is no court order awarding parenting time, the court shall determine the 714 child support obligation without the use of this parenting time adjustment.

715 (2) Calculation of parenting time adjustment.

716 (A) In the calculation below:

717 (i) If there are multiple children with varying degrees of court ordered parenting time, 718 use the average number of court ordered days;

719 (ii) In split parenting cases, as provided for in subsection (l) of this Code section, 720 where two worksheets are prepared, the parenting time adjustment as outlined in this 721 subsection shall be used when preparing both worksheets;

722 (B) The court shall apply the following formula to determine the parenting time 723 adjustment:

724 (i) Raise to the power of 2.5 the number of court ordered days the noncustodial 725 parent has with the child;

726 (ii) Raise to the power of 2.5 the number of court ordered days the custodial parent 727 has with the child;

728 (iii) Multiply the result of clause (i) by the dollar amount of the custodial parent's 729 share of the basic child support obligation;

730 (iv) Multiply the result of clause (ii) by the dollar amount of the noncustodial parent's 731 share of the basic child support obligation;

732 (v) Subtract the result of clause (iv) from the result of clause (iii);

733 (vi) Divide the result of clause (v) by the sum of clauses (i) and (ii);

734 (vii) Add the result of clause (vi) to the noncustodial parent's basic child support 735 obligation amount; and

736 (viii) The amount of the noncustodial parent's parenting time adjustment is the result 737 of clause (vii).

738 (C) The determination of the parenting time adjustment shall be entered on the Child 739 Support Schedule C - Parenting Time Adjustment.

740 (h) ~~Adjusted support obligation~~ Additional expenses. The basic child support 741 obligation table does not include the cost of the parent's work related child care costs, 742 health insurance premiums, or future uninsured ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses. The 743 additional expenses for the child's health insurance premiums and work related child care 744 costs shall be included in the calculations to determine child support, including a ~~A~~ 745 nonparent custodian's expenses for work related child care costs and health insurance 746 premiums, which shall be taken into account when establishing a final order. Calculate the 747 amount of the additional expenses for the costs of health insurance and work related child 748 care, prorating such expenses in accordance with each parent's pro rata share of the 749 obligation and adding such expenses to the pro rata share of the basic child support 750 obligation. The monthly cost of health insurance premiums and work related child care 751 costs shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule D - Additional Expenses. The pro rata 752 share of the monthly basic child support obligation and the pro rata share of the combined 753 additional expenses shall be added together to create the presumptive amount of child 754 support.

755 (1) Work related child care costs.

756 (A) Work related child care costs necessary for the parent's employment, education, 757 or vocational training that are determined by the court to be appropriate, and that are 758 appropriate to the parents' financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child if the 759 parents and child were living together, shall be averaged for a monthly amount and 760 entered on ~~the child support worksheet in~~ Schedule D under the column of the parent 761 initially paying the expense. Work related child care costs of a nonparent custodian 762 shall be considered when determining the amount of this expense.

763 (B) If a child care subsidy is being provided pursuant to a means-tested public 764 assistance program, only the amount of the child care expense actually paid by either 765 parent or a nonparent custodian shall be included in the calculation.

766 (C) If either parent is the provider of child care services to the child for whom support 767 is being determined, the value of those services shall not be an adjustment to the basic 768 child support obligation when calculating the support award.

769 (D) If child care is provided without charge to the parent, the value of these services 770 shall not be an adjustment to the basic child support obligation. If child care is or will 771 be provided by a person who is paid for his or her services, proof of actual cost or 772 payment shall be shown to the court before the court includes such payment in its 773 consideration.

774 (E) The amount of work related child care costs shall be determined and added as an 775 adjustment to the basic child support obligation as 'additional expenses' whether paid 776 directly by the parent or through a payroll deduction.

777 (F)(i) The total amount of work related child care costs shall be divided between the 778 parents pro rata to determine the presumptive amount of child support and shall be 779 included in the worksheet and the final order.

780 (ii) In situations in which work related child care costs may be variable, the court or 781 the jury may, in its discretion, remove work related child care costs from the 782 calculation of support, and divide the work related child care costs pro rata, to be paid 783 within a time specified in the final order. If a parent or nonparent custodian fails to 784 comply with the final order:

785 (I) The other parent or nonparent custodian may enforce payment of the work 786 related child care costs by any means permitted by law; or 787 (II) Child support services shall pursue enforcement when such unpaid costs have 788 been reduced to a judgment in a sum certain.

789 (2) Cost of health insurance premiums.

790 (A)(i) The amount that is, or will be, paid by a parent for health insurance for the 791 child for whom support is being determined shall be an adjustment to the basic child 792 support obligation and prorated between the parents based upon their respective 793 incomes. Payments made by a parent's employer for health insurance and not 794 deducted from the parent's wages shall not be included. When a child for whom 795 support is being determined is covered by a family policy, only the health insurance 796 premium actually attributable to that child shall be added.

797 (ii) The amount of the cost for the child's health insurance premium shall be 798 determined and added as an adjustment to the basic child support obligation as 799 'additional expenses' whether paid directly by the parent or through a payroll 800 deduction.

801 (iii) The total amount of the cost for the child's health insurance premium shall be 802 divided between the parents pro rata to determine the total presumptive amount of 803 child support and shall be included in the Child Support Schedule D – Additional 804 Expenses and written order of the court together with the amount of the basic child 805 support obligation.

806 (B)(i) If either parent has health insurance reasonably available at reasonable cost 807 that provides for the ~~health care~~ healthcare needs of the child, then an amount to cover 808 the cost of the premium shall be added as an adjustment to the basic child support 809 obligation. A health insurance premium paid by a nonparent custodian shall be 810 included when determining the amount of health insurance expense. In determining 811 the amount to be added to the order for the health insurance cost, only the amount of 812 the health insurance cost attributable to the child who is the subject of the order shall 813 be included.

814 (ii) If coverage is applicable to other persons and the amount of the health insurance 815 premium attributable to the child who is the subject of the current action for support 816 is not verifiable, the total cost to the parent paying the premium shall be prorated by 817 the number of persons covered so that only the cost attributable to the child who is the 818 subject of the order under consideration is included. The amount of health insurance 819 premium shall be determined by dividing the total amount of the insurance premium 820 by the number of persons covered by the insurance policy and multiplying the 821 resulting amount by the number of children for whom support is being determined 822 and who are covered by the insurance policy. The monthly cost of health insurance 823 premium shall be entered on the Child Support Schedule D – Additional Expenses in 824 the column of the parent paying the premium.

825 (iii) Eligibility for or enrollment of the child in Medicaid, the PeachCare for Kids 826 Program, or other public ~~health care~~ healthcare program shall satisfy the requirement 827 that the final order provide for the child's ~~health care~~ healthcare needs. Health 828 coverage through Medicaid, the PeachCare for Kids Program, or other public ~~health~~ 829 ~~care~~ healthcare program shall not prevent a court from also ordering either or both 830 parents to obtain other health insurance for the child.

831 (3) Future uninsured healthcare ~~Uninsured health care~~ expenses.

832 (A) The child's future uninsured ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses shall be the financial 833 responsibility of both parents. The final order shall include provisions for payment of 834 future uninsured ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses; provided, however, that future 835 uninsured ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses shall not be used for the purpose of 836 calculating the amount of child support. The parents shall divide the future uninsured 837 ~~health care~~ healthcare expenses pro rata, unless otherwise specifically ordered by the 838 court.

839 (B) If a parent fails to pay his or her pro rata share of the child's future uninsured ~~health~~ 840 ~~care~~ healthcare expenses, as specified in the final order, within a reasonable time after 841 receipt of evidence documenting the uninsured portion of the expense:

842 (i) The other parent or the nonparent custodian may enforce payment of the expense 843 by any means permitted by law; or

844 (ii) Child support services shall pursue enforcement of payment of such unpaid 845 expenses only if the unpaid expenses have been reduced to a judgment in a sum 846 certain amount.

847 (i) Grounds for deviation.

848 (1) General principles.

849 (A) The amount of child support established by this Code section and the presumptive 850 amount of child support are rebuttable and the court or the jury may deviate from the 851 presumptive amount of child support in compliance with this subsection. In deviating 852 from the presumptive amount of child support, consideration shall be given to the best 853 interest of the child for whom support under this Code section is being determined. A 854 nonparent custodian's expenses may be the basis for a deviation as well as a 855 noncustodial parent's ability or inability to pay the presumptive amount of child 856 support.

857 (B) When ordering a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support, the court 858 or the jury shall consider all available income of the parents and shall make written 859 findings or special interrogatory findings that an amount of child support other than the 860 amount calculated is reasonably necessary to provide for the needs of the child for 861 whom child support is being determined and the order or special interrogatory shall 862 state:

- 863 (i) The reasons for the deviation from the presumptive amount of child support;
864 (ii) The amount of child support that would have been required under this Code 865 section if the presumptive amount of child support had not been rebutted; and 866 (iii) How, in its determination:
867 (I) Application of the presumptive amount of child support would be unjust or 868 inappropriate; and 869 (II) The best interest of the child for whom support is being determined will be 870 served by deviation from the presumptive amount of child support.

871 (C) No deviation in the presumptive amount of child support shall be made which 872 seriously impairs the ability of the custodial parent to maintain minimally adequate 873 housing, food, and clothing for the child being supported by the order and to provide 874 other basic necessities, as determined by the court or the jury.

875 (D) If the circumstances which supported the deviation cease to exist, the final order 876 may be modified as set forth in subsection (k) of this Code section to eliminate the 877 deviation.

878 (2) Specific deviations.

879 (A) High income. For purposes of this subparagraph, parents are considered to be 880 high-income parents if their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $30,000.00 881 $40,000.00 per month. For high-income parents, the court shall set the basic child 882 support obligation at the highest amount allowed by the basic child support obligation 883 table but the court or the jury may consider an upward deviation to attain an appropriate 884 award of child support for high-income parents which is consistent with the best interest 885 of the child.

886 (B) ~~Low income:~~

887 ~~(i) If the noncustodial parent can provide evidence sufficient to demonstrate no~~ 888 ~~earning capacity or that his or her pro rata share of the presumptive amount of child~~ 889 ~~support would create an extreme economic hardship for such parent, the court or the~~ 890 ~~jury may consider a low-income deviation.~~

891 ~~(ii) A noncustodial parent whose sole source of income is supplemental security~~ 892 ~~income received under Title XVI of the federal Social Security Act shall be~~ 893 ~~considered to have no earning capacity.~~

894 ~~(iii) The court or the jury shall examine all attributable and excluded sources of~~ 895 ~~income, assets, and benefits available to the noncustodial parent and may consider the~~ 896 ~~noncustodial parent's basic subsistence needs and all of his or her reasonable~~

897 ~~expenses, ensuring that such expenses are actually paid by the noncustodial parent~~ 898 ~~and are clearly justified expenses.~~

899 ~~(iv) In considering a request for a low-income deviation, the court or the jury shall~~ 900 ~~then weigh the income and all attributable and excluded sources of income, assets,~~ 901 ~~and benefits and all reasonable expenses of each parent, the relative hardship that a~~ 902 ~~reduction in the amount of child support paid to the custodial parent would have on~~ 903 ~~the custodial parent's household, the needs of each parent, the needs of the child for~~ 904 ~~whom child support is being determined, and the ability of the noncustodial parent to~~ 905 ~~pay child support.~~

906 ~~(v) Following a review of the noncustodial parent's gross income and expenses, and~~ 907 ~~taking into account each parent's basic child support obligation adjusted by health~~ 908 ~~insurance and work related child care costs and the relative hardships on the parents~~ 909 ~~and the child, the court or the jury, upon request by either party or upon the court's~~ 910 ~~initiative, may consider a downward deviation to attain an appropriate award of child~~ 911 ~~support which is consistent with the best interest of the child.~~

912 ~~(vi) For the purpose of calculating a low-income deviation, the noncustodial parent's~~ 913 ~~minimum child support for one child shall be not less than $100.00 per month, and~~ 914 ~~such amount shall be increased by at least $50.00 for each additional child for the~~ 915 ~~same case for which child support is being ordered.~~

916 ~~(vii) A low-income deviation granted pursuant to this subparagraph shall apply only~~ 917 ~~to the current child support amount and shall not prohibit an additional amount being~~ 918 ~~ordered to reduce a noncustodial parent's arrears.~~

919 ~~(viii) If a low-income deviation is granted pursuant to this subparagraph, such~~ 920 ~~deviation shall not prohibit the court or the jury from granting an increase or decrease~~ 921 ~~to the presumptive amount of child support by the use of any other specific or~~ 922 ~~nonspecific deviation.~~

923 ~~(E)~~ Other health related insurance. If the court or the jury finds that either parent 924 has vision or dental insurance available at a reasonable cost for the child, the court or 925 the jury may deviate from the presumptive amount of child support for the cost of such 926 insurance.

927 ~~(D)~~(C) Life insurance. In accordance with Code Section 19-6-34, if the court or the 928 jury finds that either parent has purchased life insurance on the life of either parent or 929 the lives of both parents for the benefit of the child, the court may deviate from the 930 presumptive amount of child support for the cost of such insurance by either adding or 931 subtracting the amount of the premium.

932 ~~(E)~~(D) Child and dependent care tax credit. If the court or the jury finds that one 933 of the parents is entitled to the Child and Dependent Care Tax Credit, the court or the 934 jury may deviate from the presumptive amount of child support in consideration of such 935 credit.

936 ~~(F)~~(E) Travel expenses. If court ordered ~~visitation~~ parenting time related travel 937 expenses are substantial due to the distance between the parents, the court may order 938 the allocation of such costs or the jury may, by a finding in its special interrogatory, 939 allocate such costs by deviation from the presumptive amount of child support, taking 940 into consideration the circumstances of the respective parents as well as which parent 941 moved and the reason for such move.

942 ~~(G)~~(F) Alimony. Actual payments of alimony shall not be considered as a deduction 943 from gross income but may be considered as a deviation from the presumptive amount 944 of child support. If the court or the jury considers the actual payment of alimony, the 945 court shall make a written finding of such consideration or the jury, in its special 946 interrogatory, shall make a written finding of such consideration as a basis for deviation 947 from the presumptive amount of child support.

948 ~~(H)~~(G) Mortgage. If the noncustodial parent is providing shelter, such as paying the 949 mortgage of the home, or has provided a home at no cost to the custodial parent in

950 which the child resides, the court or the jury may allocate such costs or an amount 951 equivalent to such costs by deviation from the presumptive amount of child support, 952 taking into consideration the circumstances of the respective parents and the best 953 interest of the child.

954 ~~(F)~~(H) Permanency plan or foster care plan. In cases when the child is in the legal 955 custody of the Department of Human Services, the child protection or foster care 956 agency of another state or territory, or any other child-caring entity, public or private, 957 the court or the jury may consider a deviation from the presumptive amount of child 958 support if the deviation will assist in accomplishing a permanency plan or foster care 959 plan for the child that has a goal of returning the child to the parent or parents and the 960 parent's need to establish an adequate household or to otherwise adequately prepare 961 herself or himself for the return of the child clearly justifies a deviation for this purpose.

962 ~~(F)~~(I) Extraordinary expenses. The basic child support obligation table includes 963 average child-rearing expenditures for families given the parents' combined adjusted 964 gross income and number of children. Extraordinary expenses are in excess of average 965 amounts estimated in the basic child support obligation table and are highly variable 966 among families. Extraordinary expenses shall be considered on a case-by-case basis 967 in the calculation of support and may form the basis for deviation from the presumptive 968 amount of child support so that the actual amount of such expense is considered in the 969 final order for only those families actually incurring the expense. Extraordinary 970 expenses shall be prorated between the parents by assigning or deducting credit for 971 actual payments for extraordinary expenses.

972 (i) Extraordinary educational expenses. Extraordinary educational expenses may 973 be a basis for deviation from the presumptive amount of child support. Extraordinary 974 educational expenses include, but are not limited to, tuition, room and board, lab fees, 975 books, fees, and other reasonable and necessary expenses associated with special 976 needs education or private elementary and secondary schooling that are appropriate 977 to the parent's financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child if the parents and the 978 child were living together.

979 (I) In determining the amount of deviation for extraordinary educational expenses, 980 scholarships, grants, stipends, and other cost-reducing programs received by or on 981 behalf of the child shall be considered; and 982 (II) If a deviation is allowed for extraordinary educational expenses, a monthly 983 average of the extraordinary educational expenses shall be based on evidence of 984 prior or anticipated expenses and entered on the Child Support Schedule E – 985 Deviations.

986 (ii) Special expenses incurred for child-rearing. Special expenses incurred for 987 child-rearing, including, but not limited to, quantifiable expense variations related to 988 the food, clothing, and hygiene costs of children at different age levels, may be a basis 989 for a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support. Such expenses include, 990 but are not limited to, summer camp; music or art lessons; travel; school sponsored 991 extracurricular activities, such as band, clubs, and athletics; and other activities 992 intended to enhance the athletic, social, or cultural development of a child but not 993 otherwise required to be used in calculating the presumptive amount of child support 994 as are health insurance premiums and work related child care costs. A portion of the 995 basic child support obligation is intended to cover average amounts of special 996 expenses incurred in the rearing of a child. In order to determine if a deviation for 997 special expenses is warranted, the court or the jury shall consider the full amount of 998 the special expenses as described in this division; and when such special expenses 999 exceed 7 percent of the basic child support obligation, then the additional amount of 1000 special expenses shall be considered as a deviation to cover the full amount of the 1001 special expenses.

1002 (iii) Extraordinary medical expenses. In instances of extreme economic hardship 1003 involving extraordinary medical expenses not covered by insurance, the court or the 1004 jury may consider a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support for 1005 extraordinary medical expenses. Such expenses may include, but are not limited to, 1006 extraordinary medical expenses of the child or a parent of the child; provided, 1007 however, that any such deviation:

1008 (I) Shall not act to leave a child unsupported; and 1009 (II) May be ordered for a specific period of time measured in months.

1010 When extraordinary medical expenses are claimed, the court or the jury shall consider 1011 the resources available for meeting such needs, including sources available from 1012 agencies and other adults.

1013 ~~(K) Parenting time:~~

1014 ~~(i) The child support obligation table is based upon expenditures for a child in intact~~ 1015 ~~households. The court may order or the jury may find by special interrogatory a~~ 1016 ~~deviation from the presumptive amount of child support when special circumstances~~ 1017 ~~make the presumptive amount of child support excessive or inadequate due to~~ 1018 ~~extended parenting time as set forth in the order of visitation, the child residing with~~ 1019 ~~both parents equally, or visitation rights not being utilized.~~

1020 ~~(ii) If the court or the jury determines that a parenting time deviation is applicable,~~ 1021 ~~then such deviation shall be included with all other deviations.~~

1022 ~~(iii) In accordance with subsection (d) of Code Section 19-11-8, if any action or~~ 1023 ~~claim for parenting time or a parenting time deviation is brought under this~~ 1024 ~~subparagraph, it shall be an action or claim solely between the custodial parent and~~ 1025 ~~the noncustodial parent, and not any third parties, including child support services.~~

1026 (3) Nonspecific deviations. Deviations from the presumptive amount of child support 1027 may be appropriate for reasons in addition to those established under this subsection 1028 when the court or the jury finds it is in the best interest of the child.

1029 (i.1) Low-income adjustment.

1030 In cases where the monthly adjusted gross income of a parent, considering the number of 1031 children for whom support is being determined, is less than the highest amount of monthly 1032 adjusted gross income shown in the low-income adjustment table in subsection (p) of this 1033 Code section, then the child support obligation of such parent(s) shall be the lesser of such 1034 parent's presumptive amount of child support or the amount determined using the 1035 low-income adjustment table. If the low-income adjustment table applies, the child support 1036 calculator will perform the needed comparison automatically and input the amount on the 1037 child support worksheet.

1038 (j) Involuntary loss of income.

1039 (1) In the event a parent suffers an involuntary termination of employment, has an 1040 extended involuntary loss of average weekly hours, is involved in an organized strike, 1041 incurs a loss of health, becomes incarcerated, or similar involuntary adversity resulting 1042 in a loss of income of 25 percent or more, then the portion of child support attributable 1043 to lost income shall not accrue from the date of the service of the petition for 1044 modification, provided that service is made on the other parent. It shall not be considered 1045 an involuntary termination of employment if the parent has left the employer without 1046 good cause in connection with the parent's most recent work.

1047 (2) In the event a modification action is filed pursuant to this subsection, the court shall 1048 make every effort to expedite hearing such action.

1049 (3) The court may, at its discretion, phase in the new child support award over a period 1050 of up to one year with the phasing in being largely evenly distributed with at least an 1051 initial immediate adjustment of not less than 25 percent of the difference and at least one 1052 intermediate adjustment prior to the final adjustment at the end of the phase-in period.

1053 (k) Modification.

1054 (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subsection, a parent shall not have the 1055 right to petition for modification of the child support award regardless of the length of 1056 time since the establishment of the child support award unless there is a substantial 1057 change in either parent's income and financial status or the needs of the child.

1058 (2) No petition to modify child support may be filed by either parent within a period of 1059 two years from the date of the final order on a previous petition to modify by the same 1060 parent except when:

1061 (A) A noncustodial parent has failed to exercise the court ordered visitation parenting 1062 time;

1063 (B) A noncustodial parent has exercised a greater amount of visitation parenting time 1064 than was provided in the court order; or

1065 (C) The motion to modify is based upon an involuntary loss of income as set forth in 1066 subsection (j) of this Code section.

1067 (3)(A) If there is a difference of at least 15 percent but less than 30 percent between a 1068 new award and a Georgia child support order entered prior to January 1, 2007, the court 1069 may, at its discretion, phase in the new child support award over a period of up to one 1070 year with the phasing in being largely evenly distributed with at least an initial 1071 immediate adjustment of not less than 25 percent of the difference and at least one 1072 intermediate adjustment prior to the final adjustment at the end of the phase-in period.

1073 (B) If there is a difference of 30 percent or more between a new award and a Georgia 1074 child support order entered prior to January 1, 2007, the court may, at its discretion, 1075 phase in the new child support award over a period of up to two years with the phasing 1076 in being largely evenly distributed with at least an initial immediate adjustment of not 1077 less than 25 percent of the difference and at least one intermediate adjustment prior to 1078 the final adjustment at the end of the phase-in period.

1079 (C) All child support service's case reviews and modifications shall proceed and be 1080 governed by Code Section 19-11-12. Subsequent changes to the basic child support 1081 obligation table shall be a reason to request a review for modification from child 1082 support services to the extent that such changes are consistent with the requirements of 1083 Code Section 19-11-12.

1084 (4) A petition for modification shall be filed under the same rules of procedure 1085 applicable to divorce proceedings. The court may allow, upon motion, the temporary 1086 modification of a child support order pending the final trial on the petition. An order 1087 granting temporary modification shall be subject to revision by the court at any time 1088 before the final trial. A jury may be demanded on a petition for modification but the jury 1089 shall only be responsible for determining a parent's gross income and any deviations. In 1090 the hearing upon a petition for modification, testimony may be given and evidence 1091 introduced relative to the change of circumstances, income and financial status of either 1092 parent, or in the needs of the child. After hearing both parties and the evidence, the court 1093 may modify and revise the previous judgment, in accordance with the changed 1094 circumstances, income and financial status of either parent, or in the needs of the child, 1095 if such change or changes are satisfactorily proven so as to warrant the modification and 1096 revision and such modification and revisions are in the child's best interest. The court 1097 shall enter a written order specifying the basis for the modification, if any, and shall 1098 include all of the information set forth in paragraph (2) of subsection (c) of this Code 1099 section.

1100 (5) In proceedings for the modification of a child support award pursuant to the 1101 provisions of this Code section, the court may award attorney's fees, costs, and expenses 1102 of litigation to the prevailing party as the interests of justice may require. When a 1103 custodial parent prevails in an upward modification of child support based upon the 1104 noncustodial parent's failure to be available and willing to exercise court ordered 1105 ~~visitation~~ parenting time, reasonable and necessary attorney's fees and expenses of 1106 litigation shall be awarded to the custodial parent.

1107 (1) Split parenting. In cases of split parenting, a worksheet shall be prepared separately 1108 by each custodial parent for each child for whom such parent is the custodial parent, and

1109 that worksheet shall be filed with the clerk of court. For each split parenting custodial 1110 situation, the court shall determine:

- 1111 (1) Which parent is the ~~obligor~~ noncustodial parent;
- 1112 (2) The presumptive amount of child support;
- 1113 (3) The actual award of child support, if different from the presumptive amount of child 1114 support;
- 1115 (4) How and when the sum certain amount of child support owed shall be paid; and
- 1116 (5) Any other child support responsibilities for each parent.

1117 (m) Worksheets.

1118 (1) Schedules and worksheets shall be prepared by the parties for purposes of calculating 1119 the amount of child support. In child support services cases in which neither parent 1120 prepared a worksheet, the court may rely on the worksheet prepared by child support 1121 services as a basis for its order. Information from the schedules shall be entered on the 1122 child support worksheet. The child support worksheets and any schedule that was 1123 prepared for the purpose of calculating the amount of child support shall be attached to 1124 the final court order or judgment; provided, however, that any order entered pursuant to 1125 Code Section 19-13-4 shall not be required to have such worksheets and schedules 1126 attached thereto.

1127 (2) The child support worksheet and schedules shall be promulgated by the Georgia 1128 Child Support Commission.

1129 (n) Child support obligation table. The child support obligation table shall be proposed 1130 by the Georgia Child Support Commission and shall be as codified in subsection (o) of this 1131 Code section.

1132 (o) Georgia Schedule of Basic Child Support Obligations Obligation Table.
