

Senate Resolution 432

By: Senators Harrell of the 40th, Hickman of the 4th and Burns of the 23rd

A RESOLUTION

1 Creating the Senate Higher Education in Prison Study Committee; and for other purposes.

2 WHEREAS, higher education is a strong determinant of employment outcomes, social 3 mobility, and future income because it equips individuals with the knowledge and skills 4 needed to contribute effectively to society; and

5 WHEREAS, the 2023 overhaul of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid program
6 allotted federal Pell Grants to people in prisons and increased total spending by $617 million, 7 giving the nation the greatest opportunity to expand higher education in prison since such 8 grants were cut in 1994; and

9 WHEREAS, there are currently more than 47,000 Georgians in our state prisons, which cost 10 taxpayers $1.32 billion in 2024; and

11 WHEREAS, the rate of recidivism in Georgia is at least 30 percent, and postsecondary 12 education has been found to be the most effective educational program at reducing 13 recidivism with multiple studies finding that education in prison reduces its rate by 43 14 percent; and

15 WHEREAS, providing postsecondary education to people in prisons will add specialized 16 laborers to Georgia's economy, bolstering our workforce to remain the number one state to 17 do business; and

18 WHEREAS, providing postsecondary education in prison will allow people in prisons to use 19 their time more productively, boost self-motivation and mental health, and develop real 20 career skills to apply after release; and

21 WHEREAS, entire communities benefit when people released from prison return as more 22 productive and educated individuals ready to contribute to their community; and

23 WHEREAS, previous studies have found that states ultimately offset all costs of 24 implementing postsecondary education in prisons with future savings from reduced rates of 25 recidivism; and

26 WHEREAS, other southern states have taken action in the form of expanding the number of 27 colleges, universities, and technical schools offering small business training; and

28 WHEREAS, the Georgia Coalition for Higher Education in Prison and its associated 29 organizations have started groundbreaking programs in Georgia's prisons, but their ability 30 to expand educational opportunities and provide transition services is limited; and

31 WHEREAS, the aforesaid coalition and other organizations have identified five categories 32 of challenges and obstacles for people in prisons continuing their postsecondary education 33 after release, including issues related to scholarship eligibility, housing obtainment, 34 behavioral health services, medical care, and access to employment; and

35 WHEREAS, a study is needed to further investigate the social and economic impacts of 36 increasing postsecondary opportunities in Georgia's prisons and to thoroughly determine 37 what measures may be necessary and appropriate to increase postsecondary education.
